By Randal C. Turley

On Tuesday May 2, students went to the polls to elect the 1989-1990 SGA officers.

Foundation forges future

By A. Z. Hubbard-Thomas

The Foundation of Wayne Community College has received a $30,000 donation to honor George E. Wilson, a former trustee at WCC, and a civic leader in the community. The benefactor wishes to remain anonymous, according to Jo Ann Bruce, Foundation Director.

The donation was originally for $29,000, but was changed to make it an even $30,000.

Part of the donation will be used for the Teacher Excellence Award presented to an outstanding faculty member annually at graduation.

Three previous winners of this award will receive $1000 each: Robert Krieger, chairman of the Engineering Department; Faye Weeks, instructor in the Business Department; and Rosalyn Lomax, English instructor in the Liberal Arts Department.

An endowment fund has been established for the remainder of the money; it will raise about $800.00 in interest per year.

Bruce stated, "We have purchased a Kawai concert grand piano for the new campus. WCC scholarships are now available for the first time."

When asked what his role as president will be, he responded: "I want the student body to understand that they are really the president. I'm just here to assure that everyone's ideas and problems are heard and met fairly."

Kevin Fryar is the newly elected vice president. He is originally from Santa Barbara, California.

"We also help students with emergency loans until they receive their financial aid."

The latest contribution is from Goldsboro Milling Company, Inc. and will be used to place a sculpture on the new campus.

The contribution is in honor of Billy Shepard, retired General Manager of Goldsboro Milling. Shepard currently serves on the Board of Directors of the Foundation at WCC.

The Foundation of Wayne Community College was founded in 1986. Its purpose and mission are to broaden the base of community support and to promote educational development.

The Foundation is achieving these goals through the solicitation of private gifts of money and property and the investment, management and disbursement of such assets to enhance the educational programs and services offered by the college.

Being from an Air Force family is what brought him to Goldsboro. He is presently a college transfer student who plans to attend N.C. State and major in meteorology.

Fryar feels that the student body should know that there is a student government. "We're here to help because we can help."

Smoking issue still being considered

By Elgin Bryant

The smoking issue continues to be debated at Wayne Community College.

In September 1988, student Pat Harrell circulated a petition which suggested that specific smoking and non-smoking areas be designated.

Harrell and other concerned students collected 643 signatures on the petition.

In October Harrell presented the petition to the Student Government Association who in turn presented the petition to the college administration for its consideration.

WCC administrative officials requested that College Council devise a smoking policy.

In February 1989 the Smoking Policy Committee submitted the following policy to the Council for its approval:

1. That no smoking occur in the classroom setting.
2. That during committee meetings, a smoke break be considered whereby smokers would leave the meeting area.
3. That the maintenance department post "designated smoking area" signs in all building entranceways.

Tina Thomas is Secretary elect. Thomas is from Faro and is attending WCC in pursuit of a double major, Medical and Executive secretary.

Tim Williams will be SGA Treasurer in the fall. Williams is a college transfer student who plans to become a Physical Education major.

4. That in office areas where smokers and non-smokers work together, workers by common agreement should determine their smoking policy; the committee encourages workers to use a designated smoking area.

5. That in the Student Union and dining areas on the new campus, easily visible signs designate both SMOKING and NON-SMOKING sections.

6. That on the new campus, there be a designated non-smoking restroom in each building.

7. That on the old campus, ashtrays be provided in the restrooms, thereby making these areas designated smoking areas.

8. That more outside ashtrays be provided to minimize the litter from smoking and to reduce the hazard of fire.

The Smoking Policy Committee consisted of students Lewis Coble, non-smoker, and Marion Dees, smoker; staff members P. A. Best and Leo Taswell, smokers; and faculty members Liz Meador and Mike Saylors, non-smokers.

The College Council approved the policy and forwarded it to the Administrative Council for its approval.

The Administrative Council has made no definite decision regarding the policy as of this printing.
