MCAE enriches minority students

By A. Z. Hubbard-Thomas

The Multi-Cultural Association for Enrichment (MCAE) was organized and became an official part of SGA in spring 1987. A student organization, its purpose is to make the college aware of and appreciative of Black culture and achievement.

When the organization was established some of MCAE's concerns were the decline in Black student involvement, causes and cures of minority student attrition, and the improvement of the college experience for minority students.

Tim Dortch, MCAE president, stated, "All activities are made possible through MCAE-sponsored fundraisers and contributions from SGA."

"Activities that members have participated in include Empty Stocking Fund, Send a Mouse to College, and our annual MCAE Scholarship."

Dortch also stated, "MCAE was created to assist minority students through counseling, financial resources, educational information and leadership skills."

"In 1987, MCAE established a scholarship fund which has become a tradition for our organization," stated Dortch.

Meetings are held every first and third Tuesday at 1:00, in B-13.

WCCAEOP elects officers

by A. Z. Hubbard-Thomas

The Wayne Community College Association of Educational Office Personnel (WCCAEOP) held its Annual Administrative Banquet on April 19.

The Administrator of the Year Award was presented to Dr. G. Herman Porter, President of WCC; the Educational Office Personnel Award was presented to Carolyn Braxton.

Officers for the 1989-90 year were installed: Chuckie Mayros, President; Lori Brady, Vice-President; Reva Jenkins, Secretary; and Kay Bradley, Treasurer.

A major project of WCCAEOP this year is a cookbook containing more than 400 recipes that students, faculty, and staff contributed.

The cost is $8.00 and all the proceeds go to the WCCAEOP Scholarship Fund. The cookbook is a vinyl three-ring notebook.
