

WCC welcomes new employees

By SHARON BLEDSOE

Several new employees have joined the staff at Wayne Community College within the last year.

Susan Fowler began as a dental hygiene instructor on August 31, 1992.

Fowler comes to WCC from the State Dental Health Office in Raleigh where she was a dental hygiene consultant.

Before that she worked in public health in Johnston County. She also spent 5 years in private practice.

Fowler graduated from UNC-Chapel Hill with a B.S. in dental hygiene.

She lives in Clayton with her husband, a coach at Clayton High School, and her two children, ages 5 and 8.

Fowler is interested in sports, especially water and snow skiing. She also loves crafts.

Anne Millington recently came to WCC as a Job Coordinator in the Cooperative Education and Job Placement office.

Millington's main function is to match students looking for employment with local employers.

She also teaches "Introduction to the World of Work," in which students learn how to write resumes and conduct interviews.

Millington attended the University of Maryland and West Virginia University, and was certified to teach at East Carolina University in 1990.

Her specialty is math and science.

Millington came to WCC from the public school system, but previously worked for 7 years with the Employment Security Commission in Virginia.

She has 2 sons, one in college at UNC-Wilmington, and the other an eighth-grader.

In her spare time Millington is taking the Dale Carnegie Public Speaking class which she hopes to teach.

She also enjoys flower arranging.

Howie Shaw has been Emergency Medical

Technician instructor for 4 years but was hired as the part-time Assistant to the Emergency Medical Services Coordinator in March.

He also works full time with the City of Goldsboro Fire Department in the Rescue Division where he has been an Emergency Medical Technician since 1984.

Shaw is the son of City Council Member Howard "Buddy" Shaw who was the Eastern Office Supervisor of the Office of Emergency Medical Services.

His mother is a nurse, so he comes from a "rescue family."

Shaw is married and has one daughter who is 2.

He officiates football on the junior varsity level in his spare time.

Tonya Weber is a part-time secretary in the Planning and Research Department.

October 16th marked the first anniversary of her employment at WCC.

One of Weber's responsibilities is to develop surveys using the desktop publisher "Bubble Print."

These surveys are used to develop objectives and make changes based on program needs.

Weber graduated from WCC in the Medical Office Technology program.

During the summer of 1991 she filled in for Leasa Holmes in the office of Linwood Anderson, Vice President of Support Services.
