

Faculty retiring, new employees joining WCC

Joe Outlaw

By NATALIE GONZALES

Joe Outlaw started part-time at WCC 23 years ago in the Agriculture Science program as an instructor.

His interests include raising registered Angus cattle with his son.

Outlaw plans to spend more time with his wife and to continue raising cattle after he retires.

Outlaw graduated from North Carolina State University with a B.S. in Animal Science and Animal Husbandry in 1953.

He said his most memorable experience happened when a student came back and told him how well the Ag Science program had prepared him.

Outlaw will be retiring the last of June of 1994.

Joel Hoyle will be taking his place.

Joel Hoyle began his career at WCC March 21, 1994.

Hoyle says he likes college students as opposed to high school students because they are where they want to be and plan to make this field their profession.

Hoyle graduated from Clemson University in 1988 with a B.S. in Animal Science and a master's in Agriculture Education.

Hoyle enjoys fishing and baseball. His favorite team is the Atlanta Braves.

Another faculty member, Marie Johnson, an accounting instructor, will retire on May 31, 1994, with 30 years teaching experience.

She began at WCC in 1964 after her graduation from ECU where she earned a bachelor's and a master's in business education.

Marie Johnson

Johnson also attended N.C. State for graduate work beyond her master's and Appalachian to renew a certificate.

Johnson says that the thing she will miss the most is the students.

She plans to restore her old home place and to start walking.

One of Johnson's most memorable experience's was the old campus and its offices.
