

Anniversary, Campus Voice!

Readers,
 WCC VOICE staff
 recognize 10 years of news at Wayne
 College and honor all who have served in
 staff members.
 Wayne College
 always needs YOU, so on these pages, we hope to give you a better understanding of the hard work and sheer labor that go into producing an issue of the newspaper--the
 WCC
 VOICE!

Personnel at the Mount Olive Press have printed our paper since its inception. Their friendly manner, encouragement, advice, patience, and optimism have sustained every issue.

Students place the paper on campus in racks or on tables to get the news to the readership. SGA funds assist the staff via the Publications Club, of which all staff are members.

Distribution

Readership

You readers are the most important element of producing and distributing the VOICE. You constitute the readership, the audience VOICE staff members try to reach.
You can have a VOICE by becoming involved in all aspects of campus life, but especially by signing up for JOU 110 where you can learn concise writing, page design, editing, photography, and teamwork. The end product is worth all the effort!
