The Liberal Arts/Math Division will present its annual Spring Music Concert on Thursday, April 26, 2001, in the Richard B. Moffatt Auditorium at 7:30 p.m., according to Marshalle Lewis, music instructor and coordinator for the Associate of Fine Arts degree in music at WCC.

The concert has 3 components—the Band, Recorder Ensemble, and Chorus.

The Band, under the direction of Cindy Grant, will perform “I Love My Love”; “Concert Rondo,” with Donald Benton as tuba soloist; “I’ve Made My Plans for the Summer,” with Scott Sturtz soloing on the trumpet; “It Don’t Mean a Thing”; and “Someone to Watch Over Me,” with Jennifer Barnes as saxophone soloist.

The Recorder Ensemble, under Beverly Sager’s direction, will perform “Anglaise”; “Edi beo thu Hevene Quene” a 14th century piece with a duet by James Bynum and Terry Toner; “Pastime in Good Company,” written by Henry VIII, which will feature a trio with Tim Heath, Shannon Howell, and Kathy Swanzey.

Brad Collier, Tim Heath, Kathy Swanzey, and Josh Zabawski will be the featured quartet for “Prins Robbert Masco.”

In “M. George Withead, His Alemande,” a consort composed of Brad Collier, Beverly Sager, Chester Davis, Alan Malpass, and Tim Heath will play the soprano I and II alto, tenor, and bass parts.

The Chorus will begin with “Awaketh the Trumpet’s Lofty Sound.”

T. J. Kriston and Jannel Orr will perform the solo parts for Paul Simon’s “Bridge Over Troubled Water,” and Carolyn Cissel will have the solo for “Graduation Song (Song of Joy).”

The Chorus will sing 2 traditional spirituals, “Hold On” and “Twelve Gates into the City.”

Rachel Hunt and Cullen Jarman will be the soloists for “Within These Walls.”

Earl Blair and Lani Moore will sing the solo parts for “Soli Deo Gloria (Praise the Lord for Evermore).”

About 63 students, staff, and a few community musicians comprise the 3 groups. Tom Casey serves as accompanist.

Lewis said, “It will be a fun and an exciting concert. I hope everyone will come.”
