About Our People

WCC offers valuable on-the-job training.

CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM

Students at Wilkes Community College enrolled in the Building Construction Program are involved in a live project. They are framing walls, applying pre-finished paneling, and learning the art of hanging doors.

Before they drove the first nail or sawed the first board, they had studied sketches, made estimates, and thoroughly reviewed safety practices. All of these ideas apply to what they have learned from the study of blueprint reading and construction mathematics.

The students have shown sufficient skills so that the next project will be even more ambitious. They will lay out house plans, excavate, pour footings and erect a foundation for a residence.

JANET LYON
Freshman Class Treasurer

Mr. Gerald Bowles is one of the new additions to faculty here at Wilkes Community College this fall. He is building an Art Department here and has bright hopes for its future.

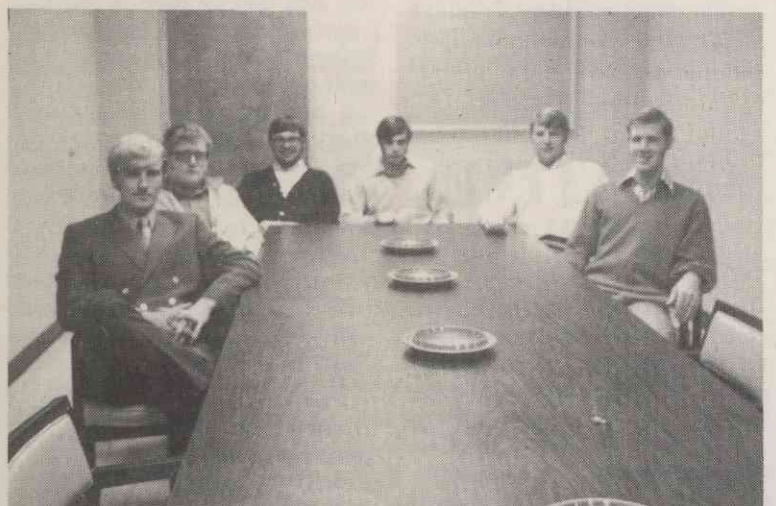

Mr. Bowles is not only an excellent artist but a very interesting conversationalist. He likes nothing better than to be in Carolina--North Carolina that is, morning, noon, or all the time. Mr. Bowles thinks the scenery here is beautiful. He loves the mountains. He says this part of North Carolina has great potential for a wonderful cultural art center.

Mr. Bowles was educated as an art student in Baltimore, New York, and Paris, as well as in Rhode Island and in Mexico. To him, Baltimore and Paris are his favorite places for art work and study.

ANN CALDWELL
Freshman Secretary

Circle K officers for this year are: L to R -Jackson Wallace, Treasurer; John Oakley, Chaplain; Jeff Shoemaker, Vice-President; Gary Monroe Church, President; Frank Day, Sgt. at Arms; and Larry Souther, Secretary.
