

PATTY CLEARY

SANDRA JONES

'Dem Rushes

Editor's note: Wodsroth Nernfellow observes the world through perverted eyes.

Part 1 Paradisio

Met J. C. on the buzz.
I wonder what he does, for a living?
With one eye squinted, looking into a bottle of Ripple Wine. he said, "It's tough being divine."
He looked good and was feeling Merry, but she left, so he talked to me about some guy named "Light Beaver"
He looked like a fairy.
He told me of one of his frequent passes (disguised with Foster-Grant sunglasses) on a girl named Europe.
But Mimir's at his mountain and all is well with the world

(except for some girl feeling pain, still mourning for her king who looked too far and died of apparent eye strain.)

The sky was half black and half white.
The sun was in the white.
I expected night when it reached black
but it shone just as intensely in the black side.
A girl came up and said, "I know you love me J. C. but could you do it a little more physically?"
The Notre Dame fans were still rootin'
the hallucinogenic effects of fig newtons.
Noah was having ham for breakfast.
"Sodomy makes him hungry" said J. C. to me.

Fall Drama Production Held

The Drama Department of Wilkes Community College staged its first productions of the season November 11 and 12 at 8:00 P.M. in the college auditorium.

"The Tiger," written by Murray Schisgal, was particularly relevant to us as students. Roy Chapman played an aspiring college student who seemed hopelessly enveloped in a sense of futility and depersonalization. However, the play ended on a note of optimism as his lover, played by Debby Bennett was instrumental in at least partially resolving his problems. Rick Carter was the director.

The "Dirty Old Man," written by Lewis John Carlino, draws upon a more universal theme—the nostalgia prevalent in old age. Greg Caldwell, Robert McNeill, and Belinda Bumgarner were the players, and Kay Greer was the director.

Sad But True

A woman never really makes a fool of a man. She just directs the performance.
—W.O.W. Magazine.

Digestable

You will not get indigestion if you swallow your pride now and then.
—Front Line, Cedar Rapids.

BELINDA BUMGARNER, GREG CALDWELL, ROB McNEIL, KAY GREER.

Reminder To The Students

By Ken Greene

Parking in the visitors lot or the faculty lot without express permission from Deputy Dog (Richard Jones) will get you a traffic ticket each hour, so WATCH IT.

The S.G.A. (Student Government Association) is tentatively planning a dance for Thanksgiving. A date and place for the dance have not been set as of publication time, but it will be held soon after Thanksgiving holidays.

A Christmas dance has been scheduled. The date, band, and place will be announced in the paper at a later date.

For the first time in the school's history, a homecoming dance has been planned for January. A homecoming queen will be chosen and a dance will be held afterwards. Details will be published later when plans are completed.

Anyone knowing of a good band please contact an S.G.A. member. We need variety at our dances and all suggestions will be appreciated.

To all students leaving us: We are sorry you are leaving and we hope you have enjoyed Wilkes Community College.

Any student needing money see me, Ken Greene. We can cry together.

Poetry Corner

By Greg Caldwell

I am a boy of 19 years
Off in the jungle all alone
Living a life of constant fear
Fighting a war not my own
And I ask myself, what am I doing here?
God, how I wish I were home.

We march in the jungle
We march till the noon-day sun
When will all my fears be gone?
When will I be rid of this gun?
And I ask myself, what am I doing here?
God, how I want to go home!

I dream of a girl with golden hair,
With eyes of emerald green.
They came, took me away from her —
What does all this Mean?
And I ask myself, what am I doing here?
God, how I wish I were home!

I'm to leave this death veiled place
To somewhere clean and free.
Home to my wife, OH! What's that face?
It's her! and she's coming to me!
And I ask myself, what is she doing here?
God! She's supposed to be home.

A gunshot behind me, a pain in my neck,
I fall to my knees, to my face—
I try to look up, my body's a wreck,
My love disappears without a trace
And I ask myself, what am I doing here?
God, tell me, where is my home?

I can't feel any pain now,
Death is much too near.
I cannot find my rifle,
Gone is all my fear.
And I ask myself, what am I doing here?
God, I'm on my way home.

ONE MINUTE SPORTS QUIZ

1. What two runners recently met in the super-mile race?
2. Who won?
3. How did Vic Sexias recently make sports news?
4. What horse won the Preakness?
5. What Major Leaguer has played three positions in All-Star games?

Answers to Sports Quiz

1. Jim Ryan and Marty Liquori.
2. Liquori in 3:54.6.
3. He was named to referee this year's tennis championships at Forest Hills.
4. Canonero II.
5. Harmon Killebrew.

FALL BOOK BUY BACK

Books Will Be Bought
November 15, 16, 17 And
November 30 and December 1

All Issues Which Can Be Used At A Later Date
Will Be Bought.

College Bookstore