

Editorial

You are starting a whole new year in a whole new way of life as a student. Start it with pride; start it with forcefulness; start it with the aim to take part and to have your voice heard in all matters concerning the school. Besides learning the fundamental subjects necessary to go into a chosen field, a student should learn, especially in college, to get involved in school and community activities. The people who get the fastest promotions and make the highest wages are those who stand out in their profession, and those who stand out, usually, are those who take an active interest in their surroundings and those who get involved by showing proper initiative.

How do you get involved? Join school clubs (we have several — something for everyone), be active in school sports, or join the newspaper or annual staff. If you cannot participate in school sports, be a spectator. It's free! You may do all of these, but please do at least one. We have a listing of school clubs and organizations in this issue. Officers, members, and advisors of any one of these clubs and organizations would be delighted to have you as a member.

Likewise, I invite any comments, criticisms, and suggestions you may have about the school, the community or the newspaper. All letters must be signed, to be printed, but names will be withheld upon request. Any letters or material of a lewd or unacceptable nature will not be printed. The paper reserves the right to edit any material that is too long or covers too broad a subject.

All correspondence should be sent to Editor, Student Services, Wilkes Community College, Drawer 120, Wilkesboro, N. C.

Don't be a door nail! Work for your school. Take part in school activities. You will feel a part of your school. For a school to exist, it must have students and to thrive, it must have students who care. IF OUR SCHOOL THRIVES, YOU MUST CARE!
