

The Cougar Cry

THE VOICE OF WILKES COMMUNITY COLLEGE

VOLUME 12 - NO. 1

WILKESBORO, NORTH CAROLINA

AUGUST 31, 1982

DR. DAVID E. DANIEL
President

From The Office Of The President

While the world is now grappling with a recession, it should be noted that by the time you complete your program of study, the world economy will be rebounding. Some observers say that this recovery will be awesome in its impact. In that light, will you be ready to respond by being an important part of the recovery? Emphasis on high technology will be a major part of the future. Consequently, a basic understanding in the areas of mathematics and science are important. An acquaintance with electronics and its auxiliary components will be valuable. The service vocations will be called on even more to answer human needs. The world of business will require expertise in marketing, word processing and communication skills. The transportation industry will become much more efficient through innovative energy use and inventive technology. All of this places a high importance on your preparation. The harder you work, the greater the contribution you will make to a world on the verge of its greatest era. We are proud to share the experience with you. Welcome to Wilkes Community College!

Auditions For The Crucible

Auditions for Arthur Miller's timely drama The Crucible will be held at Wilkes Community College's Auditorium from 7 to 9 p.m. on September 2 and 3.

The play contains ten female roles and ten male roles. Copies of the play will be on reserve in the WCC library from August 20 until auditions are completed.

The Crucible is a dramatic play about the Salem, Massachusetts witchcraft trials in colonial times. It is a compelling and frightening play about the power of false witness and the fundamental right to freedom of thought.

No special preparation is necessary, and those interested may audition any time between 7
