

Scenes Around Campus

Many students took advantage of the opportunity to participate in early registration, which was held July 29-August 1.

The SGA group still had lots of energy after returning from their summer leadership retreat on July 26.

Placement testing was an activity shared by all incoming freshmen who were enrolling in a degree or diploma program. These students seem to feel okay about this process as they enjoy refreshments during a break from the testing sessions.

Crystal Beckwith took advantage of the opportunity to participate in early registration and visited the Business Office where she paid her tuition and fees.
