

*Fall Semester Leadership Awards Presented
(Continued from page 4)*

tion of several activities and she is a very positive role model for all students." Angela and her husband, Siegmund, have three children, Jacob, Nicole and Aaron. After completing her associate's degree in Medical Assisting, Angela hopes to find a position in the medical field that will also allow her to utilize her bilingual skills. Besides being busy with her studies at WCC, Angela works part-time at the YMCA as a certified aquatics instructor and lifeguard. In addition, she also works part-time as a Spanish instructor and translator and volunteers with the Wilkes Literacy Program. When asked what she likes most about WCC, Angela responded, "I feel that the teachers care about seeing that the students in their classes succeed."

Both James and Angela were surprised when WCC President, Dr. Gordon Burns, walked into one of their classes and presented them with this leadership award. Dr. Burns commended them for taking the time to get involved with activities at WCC and thanked them for the leadership that they had given to their perspective student organizations. As recipients of the Fall Semester Outstanding Student Leadership Award, both students received a personalized plaque and a $50 gift certificate for the college bookstore.

All of the student leaders at WCC donate lots of time and work to help make the college a better place for their fellow students. It is through this leadership award that the college hopes to recognize those students who have been an exemplary role model in both the classroom and co-curricular activities. All students are encouraged to get involved with the Student Activities Program. A variety of educational, recreational, social, cultural and community service activities are coordinated throughout the year for students. In addition, there are 15 active student organizations on campus. Anyone wishing to obtain more information about the Student Activities Program should contact Scott Johnson, Student Activities Coordinator, at 336-838-6142.

Baptist Student Union

Meetings Every Tuesday 12:15
In Room 1110 In the Student Center
Everyone welcome

Come fellowship and glory
in the word of GOD

If interested contact
Allen Whittington or Scott Johnson
In Student Services

MYERS TIRE

Receive a free alignment with the purchase of a set of 4 tires

In front of the YMCA

400 East Main