

Cougar Cry's Movie Review

In this issue I'll be looking at two movies, and they are "Never Been Kissed" starring Drew Barrymore, and "Forces of Nature" starring Ben Affleck and Sandra Bullock.

Never Been Kissed

A movie that takes place in the windy city of Chicago, and stars Drew Barrymore, playing Josie Greer, a 25 year old copy editor for the Chicago-Sun Times. All Josie wants to do is to be a journalist, to be known as a terrific writer. Josie Greer gets her wish; she is assigned to be an under cover journalist at a local high school. Josie gets to go back to high school and live her high school days all over again. This movie has it all, comedy, romance, fun and laughter. Drew Barrymore does a great job in this movie; it is definitely a must see.

Rating: A

Forces of Nature

This movie stars Ben Affleck and Sandra Bullock as two total strangers when they first meet. Ben Affleck plays the role of a man living in New York trying to get to Georgia to marry his fiancée, who has a few complications on the way. Sandra Bullock is starring in this movie as a mysterious lady who catches Affleck's attention, and the two wind up going on a wild trip together. Affleck goes through the movie doubting whether he should marry his fiancée or is ready to get married at all. This movie is funny and shows how strong the bonds of love can be.

Rating: C

Rating System:

- F Worthless, and they spent how much making it?
- D Can you say nap time?
- C Average, good for a Friday night date
- B Above Average, must see
- A Excellent, soon to be timeless classic

By: Brandon Marley