

ALUMNI NOTES.

Mr. David White, '90, who was president of the Southern Real Estate Co., of Greensboro, has since January 1, 1914, been president of The Real Estate and Trust Co. of the same town. Mr. White, as most Guilfordians know, is also a member of the Guilford Board of Trustees.

Mr. Geo. W. Wilson, '92, who has for several years been practicing law at Gastonia, is now solicitor for the Fourteenth Judicial District of North Carolina. Mr. Wilson still resides at Gastonia.

Mrs. Mollie Roberts Jones, '96, is lady principal of Pineland School for Girls, a school which is owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Jones. Their address is Samburg, N. C.

Miss Amy J. Stevens, '96, has charge of the department of English in Tubman High Schools for Girls, which is located in Augusta, Ga. Tubman is generally considered as one of the leading high schools for girls in the South. Miss Stevens' street address is 409 Telfair, Augusta, Ga.

Mr. W. C. Idol, '02, is located in High Point, where he holds the important position of cashier for the Wachovia Bank and Trust Co. Some of the Alumn may not know that Ruth Eleanor and W. C. Idol, Jr., are now members of this family.

Mr. Chas. W. Davis, '02, who for several years was an instructor of law in the University of Virginia, is now practicing the legal profession in Norfolk with the firm of Jno. N. Sebrell, Jr. Mr. Davis expresses a keen desire to again visit Guilford and we trust we shall be privileged to have him as an early visitor. His address is 525 Seaboard Bank Building, Norfolk, Va.

Mr. Edgar T. Snipes, '03, is located at Ahoskie, N. C., where he is practicing law. All Guilfordians sympathize with him in the recent death of his mother, Louisa B. Snipes. Mr. Snipes expresses his "best wishes for the success of the GUILFORDIAN."

Mr. L. Lea White, '04, is again principal of Winston City High School, a position which he has held with credit for several years. Since his marriage to Miss Foust in 1909 two children have been born into the family, Misses Lucy May and Martha Gray White. Mr. White adds that it is "generally conceded that my oldest daughter has a strong resemblance to her illustrious (?) father."

Dr. James O. Fitzgerald, '05, is now Assistant Bacteriologist for the State of Virginia. Dr. Fitzgerald was a recent visitor to Guilford and while here expressed pleasant surprise at the many changes in equipment made since he graduated.

Mr. A. M. Bonner, '10, who has been practicing law in Winston-Salem, is now situated in Raleigh, N. C., where he is a member of the firm of Montague & Bonner.

Mr. R. E. Dalton, Jr., '10, who is with the J. Van Lindley Nursery Co., announces the birth of Robert Edward Dalton, 3rd. He further says of his son that "we expect to make him a Guilfordian some time in the future."

Mr. John E. Winslow, '11, is now membership secretary of the Railroad Y. M. C. A. of Roanoke, Va. Mr. Winslow says that this branch of the Y. M. C. A. in Roanoke has 784 members. His address is 1123 Patterson Ave., Roanoke, Va.

LITERARY CLUB.

The meeting of the Literary Club on Wednesday evening, Oct. 28, was given to the study of the first five books of the Greek epic, Homer's Iliad. One could tell by the interest shown that each member present had read a translation of these books beforehand and was prepared to listen intelligently to the papers and discussions given. To begin the program Miss Julia White gave a well-prepared paper on "The Religion of the Greeks," which had the following quotation from the Odyssey as its text:

"While in the palace of Olympian Jove,
The other gods assembled, and to them
The father of immortals and of men
Was speaking. * * * *
'How strange it is that mortals blame the gods,
And say that we inflict the ills
they bear,
When they, by their own folly and against
The will of fate, bring sorrow on themselves!'"

Mary M. Hobbs was to point out the interesting features of Book I. Aside from doing this, she surprised the club with a unique and interesting introduction, bringing out among other things, the value of the study of Greek literature, whether from the original language or a translation.

Prof. Montgomery then told the story of Book II. and read some of the beautiful similes from that Book. He also called attention to the character of Thersites, who is used by Shakespeare in Troilus and Cressida. "All others took their seats and kept their place;

Thersites only, clamorous of tongue, kept brawling."

Mary E. M. Davis gave a review of Book III, interspersed with readings by Prof. Davis. The descriptions of the Greek heroes were among the selections which he read, and one felt the vividness of Homer's lines.

Since it was then time for adjournment, Books IV. and V. had to be postponed until the next meeting. Owing to the disturbing noises issuing from the Students' Parlors, the club was obliged to change its place of meeting to a quieter part of Founder's Hall.

ZATASIAN LITERARY SOCIETY.

The Zatasian Literary Society was called to order Friday evening, October 30, by President Culler and after the roll call and reading of the minutes, the following officers were installed:

Luna Cox, president; Margaret Tuthill, secretary; Ellen White marshal.

A short, but very spicy extemporaneous program was then rendered.

The Society thinks occasional programs of this sort beneficial to Society work in training its members to think—to be composed and self-controlled while thinking quickly before an audience.

Several Guilford people attended the Carolina-Davidson football game in Winston last Saturday.

Mr. I. N. Edwards, of Spartanburg, S. C., spent the week end with his sister, Miss Edwards.
