FOOTBALL.

We are now playing football at Guilford and, from the interest with which all have been watching the development of a team, it would seem to be heartily supported. But is this true?

The football club has given suits to more boys than are necessary for two complete teams, yet it is only by hard work that they are able to get twenty-two men on the field at one time. Is it because the boys haven't got the nerve? I do not wish to accuse any Guilford boy of this until I know absolutely that it is true. I would rather think that he is debating the question: Does it pay?

This question must be answered by every one for himself, but for those who are physically able there are many good arguments for football. I think no one will deny that football develops many qualities. It takes grit to hit a living wall of men, but doing this makes a man fearless—a coward cannot do it. It takes the best of brain and muscle to play the game successfully and this undoubtedly tends to make the football player live clean.

I think that any one who is a man, physically speaking, and who is not a coward can get both pleasure and benefit from this game. The gridiron is a good place to learn to know your fellow students. It is a good place to expend surplus energy and at the same time develop qualities that will make one successful in the big game of life.

ZATASIAN NOTES.

At our meeting on October 1, some of our new members were called upon to help with the program for the first time. These ladies performed their parts well and gave us an inkling of what they can do.

Under miscellaneous business it was suggested that we plant some of our society flowers, the blue forget-me-nots, in pots to keep in the windows of our hall. This plan was heartily approved and a committee was appointed to see about carrying out the plan.

Since the very beginning of this school year some of our members have been interested in composing a Zatasian Society song. At this meeting a song was submitted to be read before the society. Every one seemed pleased with it and it was adopted as our society song for the present.

On October 8, the following officers were installed, having been elected the meeting before: President, Ethel Speas; vice-president, Ellen White; secretary, Gertrude Crouk; marshal, Grace Burke.

We had a splendid programme which showed much interest and forethought.

At these two meetings the following members were added to our number: Beulah Cranford, Vanner Neece, Eula Hackett, Leacy Hackett, Alta Lindley, Eleanor Fox, and Ruth Harding.

LETTERS TO GUILFORDIAN.

(The publication of letters does not necessarily mean that their sentiments are indorsed by the Board.)

"THE GUILFORDIAN" SPIRIT.

There is a goodly number of students on the campus who are sadly neglecting some of their duties as Guilfordians. In other words there are boys and girls here who lack the true Guilford spirit. Now of all things that we should not do this is one. Perhaps you think you have this Guilford spirit but when you fail to support THE GUILFORDIAN you certainly show lack of college and society spirit.

THE GUILFORDIAN is put out by the active student body of Guilford College, and not by the faculty. It belongs to the student body and therefore, should be and must be supported by that body.

Have you subscribed to THE GUILFORDIAN? If you have not you are not showing the true Guilford spirit. You are not only doing this but you are also losing much when you thus forfeit your right to partnership in THE GUILFORDIAN.

There are some students here who have not subscribed to the college paper and yet they can tell one everything it contains. How did they find it out? Well, I suppose those students read their neighbor's paper. Now this is not the thing for any member of this student body to do. You owe THE GUILFORDIAN your loyal support and if you are reading your neighbor's paper you are sadly neglecting your duty to your paper, your society and your college for you are threatening the very existence of a college paper. If every one showed the same attitude towards THE GUILFORDIAN that you are showing what would the paper be?
