

THE GUILFORDIAN

VOLUME II.

GUILFORD COLLEGE, N. C., JANUARY 12, 1916.

NUMBER 14

BASKETBALL OUTLOOK

Guilford's basketball season formally opens on the 19th of January when we meet the strong A. & M. team on our own floor. The A. & M. College has been one of Guilford's strongest, but friendly, rivals in athletics for many years. So then the opening game of the season promises to be one of the best games of the whole year. But in order for our team to make a creditable showing we, as loyal students, must necessarily support it in every possible way. So let's all unite in a solid body and "root" unceasingly for our men until the final whistle blows, and victory will be ours.

Just who will compose the team is not yet definitely decided, but it will be largely made up of new men and last year's substitutes. Herbert Worth, who played last year on the Salisbury Y. M. C. A. team, is a very promising man for center or for guard. He is fast and heady. Dalton Smith, last year's substitute and a very fast man, is rapidly rounding into form. Troy Short is going good, and from all indications, somebody is going to have to get busy to keep up with him. Tom Semans, one of the fastest men on last year's varsity team, will probably be seen at his old position as forward. E. A. Moore, Manager J. P. Garner, J. H. Beeson, Wayne Miller and others are seen on the court every afternoon trying for one of the places.

In the securing of the services of Luther Stuart, with his efficient coaching we see no reason why we should not put out a representative team. Within a few days Coach Stuart, by the process of elimination, will have the men selected for their respective places, and a further account of the line up can be given.

The last issue of THE GUILFORDIAN, published before Christmas, came out after most of the students had left for the holidays so that the Business Manager was unable to mail them. They are now somewhat out of date, but because of the important subject matter they are being mailed with this issue.

Mr. Ovid Jones, '09, was a visitor here last week.

Mr. W. G. Dodson, of Walnut Cove, visited the college last Tuesday.

GUILFORD BANQUET

In a section of Virginia, about 300 miles from Guilford College, the Guilford spirit is quite strong. In Southampton county there are about 35 who have been in school at Guilford at some time since 1867. Of this number, 16 are alumnae representing 10 classes.

It was decided to gather the Guilfordians for a banquet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Raiford on Thursday evening, December 30, 1915. It was a jolly crowd, bent on enjoying a Guilford evening, who met to talk over school days since 1850.

The home and table were decorated with holly and mistletoe, the place cards being in "Crimson and Grey." The menu served was:

Soup	Crackers
Roast Chicken
Creamed Potatoes
Candied Potatoes
Jelly	Pickles
Fruit Salad	Wafers Olives
Coffee	Fruit Cake

Mr. George W. Bradshaw, '08, acting as toastmaster of the occasion, introduced the following:

Mrs. Sue Farlow Raiford, '95,—To the Old Days.

Miss Lizzie Bradshaw, '04—President Hobbs.

Miss Maria Bristow, '03—Professor Davis.

Miss Mabelle Raiford, '08—Guilford Spirit.

Miss Ellen I. Raiford, '18, Guilford in 1915.

Miss Cathline Pike, '14, To Guilfordians.

Mrs. Sue F. Raiford has in her possession a number of letters, written by Guilford students to their parents, which give us a fair idea of the situation of old Founders; the course of study pursued; and other bits of interesting information of that time. Two of these letters, dated 1850 and 1852, she read. These told us about the planting $45 worth of fruit trees west of Founders; the partition in the dining hall to separate the boys and girls; and at that time they had taken up no grammar work but the highest class was supposed to get as far as the third part in Emerson's Arithmetic also some of the students studied Optics and Philosophy.

In the different toasts the progress of Guilford was followed to the present time. The picture of Guilford in 1915, just beginning its second presidential administration, with ten buildings on the campus; well-equipped labora-

Schedule of Examinations

The mid-year examinations will begin on Monday, January 17th. The morning examinations begin at 9 a. m. and those of the afternoon at 1.30 p. m. The examinations in subjects marked with a star (*) will be held in the old study hall; all others in the class rooms in which the daily recitations of the respective subjects have been held. Kindly report all conflicts to the Dean at once.

Monday, January 17th.

9:00 A. M.—*English Ia, Biology II, Bib. Lit., *Eng. C.

1:30 P. M.—English IIIa, Physics I, *Livy, *Cicero.

Tuesday, January 18th.

9:00 A. M.—Chemistry I, Greek I, Math IV., Expression, Physiology, *Algebra B.

1:30 P. M.—*History II., *Economics I., Bookkeeping, Ancient History.

Wednesday, January 19th.

9:00 A. M.—*Biology I., Chemistry VI., *Biology III., *Primary Latin.

1:30 P. M.—*English II, French I, Math. III, *Plane Geometry.

Thursday, January 20th.

9:00 A. M.—*College Algebra, *Sociology, *Math. II, Chem. II, Chem. III, Chem. V.

1:30 P. M.—*German A, *German I, German II, *Greek II, English B.

Friday, January 21st.

9:00 A. M.—*French A, History IVa, Physics II, *Caesar.

1:30 P. M.—*Physics A, *English IVa, Latin IV, *Mechanics.

tories; a new gateway presented by the class of '09; a recent addition of 2,000 volumes to the Library; amounts of shrubbery put out within the past year; recently improved walks and roads; society, class and athletic spirit, was quite advanced from the picture of 1850.

Parts of 65 years were lived again and the time to leave came only too soon. It was generally agreed to have similar gatherings occasionally to keep the Guilford spirit glowing.

COLLEGE HAPPENINGS.

Miss Wille R. Young, Student Field Secretary, will visit the Y. W. C. A. Wednesday and Thursday.

A very successful meeting has been conducted for the past week by Dr. Sylvester Newlin. We were pleased to have him conduct several morning chapel services.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

Are you Triangular or Round is the title of a booklet which is included in what is known as the inch library. It is written by Miss Willie R. Young, one of our own field secretaries at Charlotte. It, together with its companions written by other Y. W. C. A. secretaries, makes a very valuable inch which may be procured for 50 cents. Some titles of other books in the inch which might be of interest to some of us are: Being Good Friends with One's Family, Discovering a Year and A Little Essay on Friendship.

Hazel Armstrong made a very wise decision when she chose to read at prayer meeting this selection of Miss Young's. One must read the pamphlet to appreciate its worth. From the opening sentence, "did you ever stop to think what is the shape of your personality?" until the closing words, all who were present gave their entire attention to the reading.

I am sure we have all resolved to try this year not to be acute angles having only one point of interest or triangles which may be always knocking against other points and sides if we have not caught a glimpse of the circle personality of Christ who was never too busy or absorbed in his own affairs to be interested in whatever interested his fellowmen whether it was law, literature, nature, friendship, children, home, human needs, the problems of social leaders, politicians or scholars. We, following his example, must try to increase our number of sides, remembering that we have proved in Geometry that the greater the number of sides of a figure, the nearer it approaches the circle as a limit.

Mr. W. I. Budd, of Siler City, N. C., spent Sunday on the campus with his brothers, who are in school here.

W. H. Godwin, of Goldsboro, was here on business last week.

Neece Williard spent Sunday with his brother Hervie.