ELON-GUILFORD GAME.

Guilford began her baseball season in brilliant style last Tuesday afternoon, March 21, when our team easily defeated the team representing Elon College by the score of 11 to 0. Guilford began her scoring by sending two across the registration plate in the first inning and one in the third. Again in the seventh inning our men took another move and sent eight more safely across the home plate. Such an aggregation of runs in the seventh was partly due to costly errors on the part of the Elon boys, but it was more to the heavy slugging by the Quaker boys. In fact the hitting became so monotonous that Elon's coach took Sorrell out and sent Bailey in to finish pitching the inning. While Guilford was doing all this Elon was struggling hard to reach the initial base. The only time they were able to reach it though was in the eighth inning when Duncan got the only hit that was credited to the team.

Worth made his appearance in the box for the first time as Guilford's twirler. He fanned thirteen of the twenty-one men who faced him in the seven innings that he pitched. Futrell played his usual good game behind the bat. Out of three times up he got three two-base hits. Riddick got two hits, while Short, Clark, Armstrong, and Worth each got one.

It goes without saying that every man on the team played an apt game, for at the end of nine innings there was not a single error registered against them. The main features of the game were the splendid pitching of Worth and the heavy hitting by the whole team.

The line-up was as follows:

Elon.	AB.	R.	H.	E.

CAROLINA-GUILFORD GAME.

The second game of the season was staged in Greensboro last Saturday afternoon when the University of North Carolina team was defeated by the close score of 2 to 1. From the very beginning of the game until the last man for the University had fanned, things looked seriously threatening for Guilford. It was in reality a pitchers' duel. Each pitcher fanned nine men, and there was not a great difference in their work. Worth had more speed than did Cuthrell, but probably not quite so big a curve. Last Sunday's Greensboro Daily News had the following to say about Worth's pitching:

"Performing strictly up to advance notices, Worth, the young Guilford College hurler, yesterday afternoon achieved the distinction of defeating the baseball representatives of the University of North Carolina at Cone Park, the count of administration being 2 to 1. For five full and complete innings the youngster * * * * * turned the wearers of the Blue and White back from the plate without allowing anything that even remotely resembled a hit."

Carolina got only three hits, one in each of the sixth, seventh, and ninth innings, while Guilford had five registered to her credit. Of these Armstrong got two and Clark, Garner and Royal each got one. Carolina won her only run on errors, and Guilford got one of hers the same way, but the one that was fatal to the Carolina boys was due to Royal's clean hit over the second baseman.

All in all it was a hard fought game, one that was intensely interesting to the 600 spectators.

THE HOLY CITY

GIVEN BY CHORAL SOCIETY CON-
JOINTLY WITH NORMAL CHOR-US AT GREENSBORO.

Several weeks ago an announcement was made in the Guilfordian that Prof. Brown, of the State Normal, had invited the Guilford chorus to take part in Gaul's Holy City to be given in Greensboro March 19th. Since then the chorus under the direction of Miss Papworth has been steadily practicing.

Prof. Brown came to one practice at Guilford and the chorus went to Greensboro once to sing with the Normal chorus with the accompaniment of orchestra, piano and organ.

Sunday, March 19th, the Guilford chorus went to Greensboro for the final performance. The cantata was well rendered. The accompaniment of orchestra, piano and organ added very much to the effect. The soloists were Mrs. Browning, soprano; Miss Glenn, contralto; Mr. Fry, tenor, and Messrs. Smith and Clapp, baritone.

Our college chorus feels that the practice has been well worth while and that it owes Prof. Brown a debt of gratitude.

The following are the names of those who took part in the cantata March 19th and the young men took part when it was repeated March 26th.

Sopranos, May Byerly, Ruth Coletrane, Mary Ella Copeland, Beulah Cranford, Dorothy Faucette, Martha Geslain, Oma Gray, Ethel Groome, Bessie Gutherie, Eulah Hockett, Floy Lassiter, Margaret McMahan, Clarice Newlin, Anna Mae Prince, Ellen Ralford, Ethel Speas, Etta Sullivan, Grace Taylor, Elsie Vickrey, La verna Watlers, Annie Meade Wright, Caroline Yates; Altos, Hazel Armstrong, Juliette Ballinger, Vivian Hayworth, Callie Lewis, Addie Morris, Vanner Neece, Pauline Outland, Bernice Pike, Amy Stone, Connie Stout; Tenor, Dancy Budd, Tracy Freeman, Jesse Garner, Harry Johnson, Fred Morris, Joe Reddick, Raymond Smith; Bass, Henry Beeson, Shields Cameron, Lester Coggins, Paul Fitzgerald, Elbert Fort, Alonzo Loflin, Fowell Mendenhall, Prof. Moore, Wilbur Stamey, Lyndon Stuart!

Oratorical Contest

On last Friday evening an oratorical contest was held in Memorial Hall in the interest of international peace. For many years such a preliminary contest has been held in order to decide who should go as a representative of the college to the State contest.

The orators gave some idea of how the present war is destroying homes and happiness and since other nations are connected with it, God is calling the Americans to the elimination of such an evil. One of the reasons why some people are so anxious to go to war is because they wish to be honored and called heroes like their forefathers who fought so bravely. But the time has come when the men who strive for the maintain- roes.

The subjects were as follows:

The Peace Ideal is Practical—Samuel Smith.

A World League to Enforce Peace—Raymond Smith.

The Child and Peace—Chester Sutton.

America's Opportunity to Establish World Peace—Fred Morris.

Fred Morris won first prize and the second prize was delivered to Mr. Chester Sutton.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

We were pleased to have for our leader last week Mr. Richard Hobbs, of Greensboro, one of Guilford's sons whose career as a lawyer promises to add lustre to his alma mater. Mr. Hobbs is well known here, and this acquaintance served to arouse keen interest among the fellows.

The leader began by saying that the Y. M. C. A. is recognized as being the most representative of the Christian organizations and for this reason he had been for some time and is yet a member.

After a few introductory remarks the speaker began to discuss the subject of the "Single Standard of Living." "Every one should conform to one standard of life, and this standard should be based upon the life of Christ," declared the speaker. We do not need to recognize so very many fundamental principles, but we must know and follow a few. In selecting these few principles which are to govern our conduct
