

PHILOMATHEANS STUDY TENNYSON.

For the last few meetings the Philomathean Society has been making a study of the works of Tennyson. This has made society work not only interesting, but also instructive. The chief feature of the meeting for January 12th was a reading and pantomime of Enoch Arden given by three girls.

The last program was announced in the following order:

Malory and Tennyson—Ruth Coble.

The Story of the Coming of Arthur—Mildred Clark.

Piano Solo—Tama Burke.

Recitation—Merlin and the Gleam—Ruth Coltrane.

Characterization of Elaine and Guinevere—Marie Clegg.

Current Events—Mary Coble.

Each girl performed her part creditably.

The following officers were elected: President, Oma Gray; secretary, Addie Morris; marshal, Jessie Cox.

ZATASIAN SOCIETY NOTES.

The Zatasian Society held its regular meeting on the evening of Jan. 26. The president appointed Dorothy Faucet as critic, after which the following program was rendered: Instrumental Solo—Hattie Crutchfield.

Recitation—Una Seal.

Reading—"The Negro"—Alma Chilton.

Picture Study—Gertrude Cronk.

The whole program was very interesting and very well rendered. The picture study was especially good. In this Miss Cronk took a number of Perry pictures and discussed their different points. Miss Cronk explained how we so often pass great pictures by without being able to appreciate the beauty in them.

The report of the committee to secure the names of candidates for the oratorical contest was read and accepted. From the nine names handed in the following were elected: Eula Hockett, Jaunita Reece, Vera McBane, Una Seal, Alma Chilton and Clara Farlow.

We were very glad to receive Elsie Rail as a member of our society.

INTERESTING MEETING OF CLAYS.

An interesting and rather unusual meeting of the Henry Clay Literary Society was held January 26. The meeting was unusual in that there were two regular programs rendered.

First all the amendments to the constitutions and by-laws were accepted. Among these are amendments providing for the election of a censor, sergeant-at-arms, and chaplain. The new officers were then installed.

In the first debate, "Resolved, That the officers of the administration government of N. C. should be appointed by the governor." The affirmative was upheld by Messrs. Stuart and A. T. Newlin. The cause of the negative was defended by Messrs. Braxton and J. G. White. The judges gave the decision to the affirmative.

There was but one speaker on each side in the last debate. Mr. Fox defended the affirmative and Mr.

Doughton the negative. The question was "Resolved, That the library at Guilford College should be open from 7 until 9.30 at night." The judges rendered their decision in favor of the negative.

social being, life is not intended to be seclusive. We have family, municipal, and national life in all of which there should be a fitting pride.

The speaker next dwelt very touchingly on the beauties of home and family life. "Home," he said, "is an inspiration, a safeguard, a hope, and a beautiful benediction. The marriage relation is altogether good and necessary, and one of the great curses of the world is a growing lack of family life."

In speaking of some of the "pests in the orchard of life," Dr. Hall mentioned especially: indolence, pride, the drink evil and the divorce evil, as terrible enemies to life and happiness. In speaking of life's blessings he emphasized the need of religion, "pure and undefiled," the sacred recollections of home life, and the power of affection. Education also serves to enrich and ennoble life by furnishing training for ear, mind, hand and heart. It gives a clearer vision and makes one's horizon broader. God can give nothing more sublime than life, and in order that existence should be a blessing, the outflow of life should be wisdom, truth, and love of God.

WEB. ORATORICAL CONTESTANTS ELECTED.

The Websterian Literary Society held its regular meeting Friday night. President Hinshaw called the meeting to order. After the roll call and reading of the minutes Mr. P. V. Fitzgerald was appointed critic.

The literary program consisted of a debate on the question "Resolved, That all persons receiving an income of one thousand dollars or more should be required to pay an income tax." The affirmative was advanced by Messrs. Sutton, Lineberry and Cameron, who argued the advantages of such a tax, showing that present deficiencies in our national treasury might be thus remedied.

The negative was upheld by Messrs. Bowman, Dorsett and Beeson, who showed such a tax to be unnecessary, unfair and impracticable. The decision of the judges was in favor of the negative.

Under miscellaneous business the oratorical contestants were elected. From twelve candidates the following were successful: J. G. Reddick, D. D. S. Cameron, Robert H. Frazier, Hervie N. Williard, J. Dewey Dorsett, R. Arthur Lineberry.

GUILFORD LOSES TWO.

methods if the quint loses every game. In a word, Guilford got a raw deal, even a Wake Forest player admitted as much; the Guilford players know it; the comparison of the score in the first and second half proves it. Why even Coach Doak opens up a little in protest which is proof enough in itself.

But back to the game! Massey, as the Wake Forest correspondent is again kind enough to say after the victory, was the individual star of the game. Dribbling, passing and shooting, he was easily the best man on the floor. Zachary, who tosses baseballs, also broke into basketball circles in this game playing a good game at center in the absence of Captain Smith, who was out with a minor injury. For Wake Forest, Franks and Holding played excellent ball.

The score and lineup of the mix-up is as follows:

Guilford.	Wake Forest
Semans, 2	L.F. Neal, 3
Jones, 2	R.F. Dickson, 8
Zachary, 2	C. Franks, 5
Walser	L.G. Hanby, 2
Massey, 11	R.G. Holding
Referee, Mr. Clay.

Guilford-A. & M. Game.

After suffering defeat at Wake Forest, Manager Reddick with his men in the care of Coach Doak journeyed to Raleigh where Guilford received her second defeat of the season, at the hands of the well-trained A. & M. team.

The game from start to finish was snappy and a hotly contested one. A. & M. was the first to basket a goal and had secured two before Guilford obtained their initial one. However, the Quakers by a change to good team work, assisted by the keen eye of Semans to locate the basket, overcame the lead by four points. The first half ended with the score 15-18 in A. & M.'s favor.

The Red and White opened up the second half with a rush and secured nine points, while our boys were able to find the basket only once, but the boys wearing the Crimson and Grey were determined to show a fighting spirit, and when the timekeeper's whistle blew, were making a rapid move toward victory. The final score was 39-24 in favor of A. & M.

The following is from "News and Observer": "Massey was the individual star for Guilford, although playing guard he amassed four field goals to his credit for a total of 12 points.

"The visitors' used good team work in their passes, but encountered strong guarding near the goal."

The lineup:

A. & M.	Guilford
Temple	R. F. Semans
Cline	L. F. Jones
Denny	C. Smith
Lewis	R. G. Walser
Johnson	L. G. Massey

Summary—Sub.: Zachary for Smith, Luper for Cline. Field goals, Temple 6, Cline 7, Lewis 4, Johnson 1, Semans 4, Massey 4, Jones 1, Smith 1. Foul goals, Temple 3 out of 8 chances; Lewis none out of two chances; Massey 4 out of 10 chances. Umpire, Rumpfle.
