ATHLETIC OUTLOOK GOOD

Managers and Captains Elected — Prospects Bright for Next Year.

The Athletic Association held a business meeting Monday, May 14, at which the officers and managers for the year 1917-'18 were elected. They were as follows: President, J. G. Reddick; vice-president, Robert Frazier; secretary and treasurer, D. D. S. Cameron; baseball manager, J. Benbow Jones; basketball manager, L. Grissom; tennis manager, P. V. Fitzgerald, and track, H. N. Williard.

The work for next year has been begun. R. C. Kiser, the football manager, has already worked out a good schedule and with practically all the varsity men returning, a team is expected at Guilford another year amply able to compete with the other leading colleges of the State.

Thompson J. Zachary has been chosen to pilot the Quaker baseball team for next year. Capt. Garner is the only man to be lost by graduation; with the others returning another year the Quakers are looking forward to another State championship team.

Basketball, tennis and track prospects are good and the two latter named will be given more attention in the future than they have for the past two years.

At the last chapel exercises of the year Coach Doak presented the letters to the basketball and baseball men. The ones receiving letters were: In basketball, Jones, Smith, Massey, Walser, Zachary, Semans and Reddick, Mgr.; in baseball, Garner, Armstrong, Newlin, Zachary, Finch, Murchison, Massey, Duncan, McPherson, Westmoreland, Ballinger, Marlette, Reddick and Jones, Mgr.

DR. AND MRS. NEWLIN ENTERTAIN SENIORS.

Dr. and Mrs. Newlin gave the Seniors a delightful dinner on May 23. The decorations consisted of roses, carnations and gold candles, while the Senior colors of blue and orange were used effectively. The favors were very unique, consisting of place cards containing conundrums. A most palatable dinner was served, consisting of grape fruit, fried chicken, peas, potatoes, olives, hot rolls, fruit salad, wafers, ice cream, cake, coffee, mints. After dinner the Seniors learned what their characters had been and what the future held in store for them. Dr. and Mrs. Newlin proved themselves most delightful hostesses.

AUNT JEMIMA REACHES ANOTHER MILESTONE.

Last Saturday afternoon the hospitable home of Mrs. Mary E. W. White was thrown open to the lady faculty and the girls of the Senior class. Those of us who have been here for a long time remember with pleasure Aunt Jemima's birthday parties, and we were glad to be with her again on this her eighty-third birthday. Delicious fruit punch and cake were served. Every one wishes for Aunt Jemima many more happy years.

COX HALL TO BE ENLARGED.

At the recent meeting of the Board of Trustees of the college, it was definitely decided that two new sections should be built to Cox Hall. These sections will be like the present center section and will accommodate about fifty students. The money for these additions comes from Jeremiah S. Cox, of Greensboro, who gave the present hall. Building material is already being put on the campus and the sections will be ready for occupancy at the beginning of next term. It was also decided by the trustees to take advantage of Mr. Cox's offer to build a new dining hall for the boy's club. This will be built during the summer.

BIBLICAL SEMINAR ELECTS OFFICERS.

On last Monday evening the Biblical Seminar held the last meeting of the year. At this meeting the following officers were elected for the first term of the coming school year: C. M. Sutton, president; R. J. Yow, vice-president; H. W. Moore, secretary and treasurer.

STUNT SOCIAL

Many Clever and Amusing Hits Scored Against Local Celebrities.

The date of the stunt social had been deferred repeatedly until it really seemed that we were to be denied the privilege of putting our ingenuity and powers of imitation before the public eye. But on Friday evening, May 18th, all omens seemed favorable, the weather man in a sunny humor, and the lads and lassies in tune for a good time.

One corner of the campus was quite becomingly dotted with white-robed tables which bore many and divers things calculated to flatter the palate. However, when the supper hour came these food stands were relieved of their burdens almost in a twinkling, and the campus was soon alive in all directions with those who wore that contented expression which belongs only to the well fed.

Then with Founders porch as the stage, the Guilford boys and girls became "merely players," and much latent talent was unearthed.

Each class undertook a stunt and much friendly rivalry was aroused as the four vied with each other in the accuracy or the originality of the feats presented. In the performance of the Freshman class we lived again thru the palmy days when freshies made eloquent appeals to indifferent

SENIOR CLASS DAY EXERCISES.

The class of '17 chose that their exercises be given in a rather original order. First the whole exercise was given in a form of a dream. The time for the performance was Monday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock and the place selected was the very prettiest spot on the Guilford campus. The entire class took part in the exercises. The Brownie interpreted the dream of the Guilford spirit and announced the events happening just before and during the four years' stay of the Little Quaker Maid at Guilford. The parts taken were as follows:

Guilford Dream Spirit—Maude Lassiter.

Brownie—Grace Taylor.

Little Quaker Maid—Oma Gray.

Christian Association—Ethel Speas.

Society—Ezra Moore and Hazel Armstrong.

Athletics—Henry Beeson and Sallie McGehee.

Academic—Jesse Stanley.

Idleness—Lyndon Stuart.

Liberty—Ruth Coble.

Guilford—Jesse Stanley.

World—Rhesa Newlin.

Quaker Maid's Father—Itimous Valentine.

Quaker Maid's Mother—Sallie McGehee.

The most attractive feature of the program was the representation of the Junior year, when all the class members gathered entwined in navy and orange, the class colors, and sang their class song.

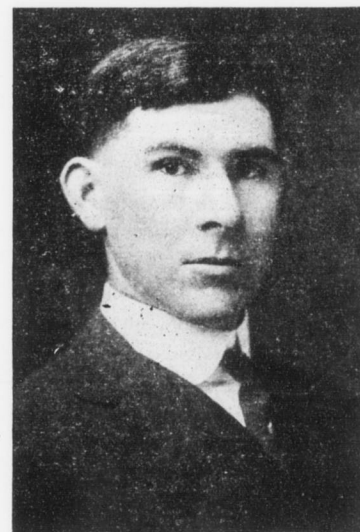

Music was furnished by Brockmann's orchestra before and after the program.

FACULTY CHANGES

Guilford to Lose Four Members of the Faculty—Several New Appointments—Woosley May Return.

Guilford has heard with much regret that four members of the faculty have resigned their positions. Miss Edwards, Miss Ayer, Prof. George and Miss White. Each filled a unique place in Guilford life, a place which no successor could fill in quite the same manner, and all will be most sincerely missed. Miss Alma Y. Edwards having graduated at Guilford in 1907, studied at Bryn Mawr the following year and after several years of teaching entered the Guilford faculty in 1914 as assistant in Latin and Mathematics. Winner of the Haverford Scholarship

FRAZIER WINS WEBSTERIAN MEDAL.

The last contest of the college year took place in Memorial Hall Saturday evening, May 19, when six representative men from the Websterian Literary Society delivered strong orations. The contest was marked by the dignity and ease of the competitors, and by the splendid speech which each man in this, the thirty-first Websterian contest, had to his credit.

Mr. Robert Frazier, '19, was announced the winner of the handsome orator's medal. The society was so fortunate as to secure for judges, Mr. Gilliam Grissom, Dr. C. O. Meredith and Mr. K. T. Futrell. Mr. Futrell gave the decision of the judges, and also very cleverly presented to Mr. Shelton White, on behalf of the society, the improvement prize for the year's work in debating.

The complete program follows:

Instrumental solo—Elbert Fort.

A Lesson from the Sand Hills—D. D. Shields Cameron.

A Social Duty—Hervie N. Williard.

Industrial Amity—Robert Frazier.

Instrumental Duet—Miss Beulah Moton and Elbert Fort.

America's Ideal to Be Gained Thru Preparedness—J. Dewey Dorsett.

The Call of the Party Man—Jos. G. Reddick.

America's Place in the World Crisis—R. Arthur Lineberry.
