NUMBER 6

JUNIORS INDOOR TRACK CHAMPIONS

SENIORS A CLOSE SECOND IN HOTLY CONTESTED EVENT.

The Olympic games which were scheduled this year for Berlin, but not held on account of the war, were pulled off in the Guilford College gymnasium last Saturday night. Never in the history of athletics since the days when Phidippides first ran the Marathon has there ever gathered a greater assemblage of famous jaw pushers, rag chewers, quick dressers, hoppers, jumpers, throwers and pullers. The classes gathered in the corners assigned them and quickly organized for the struggle. Class spirit ran high and the many yells given indicated that a fight to the finish would take place. Even the lowly "preps" began for the first time to feel the thrills of class patriotism. The Seniors who won the cup last year had nearly all their men on the casualty list due to football, but trusting to the invincible Morris-Moton combination resolved to fight gamely to the end.

The first event was the human wheel barrow race. It didn't require a great knowledge of machinery to run this kind of a wheel barrow. Many chauffeurs however came to grief thro' trouble with the steering gear. The Senior combination, Hinshaw and Jackson, reached the tape first.

The girls' throwing contest made Zachary, Guilford's famous pitcher, turn red with envy. Had Zach been a girl he couldn't have done better. The bull's eye was as safe from being hit as the Kaiser would be at Camp Jackson. Here the Seniors triumphed again. Morris and Moton recording the highest score.

If the Sophomores or Seniors should go to war and lose a few legs it will still be all right. Three legs are all that any two of them need. Marlette, '20 and Moore, '20, won the three-legged race with Hinshaw '18 and Jackson '18, just behind.

The girls' three-legged race was extremely close, but by unanimous vote of the three judges, was awarded to the Seniors, Moton and Morris. The Freshmen McVeys were a close second. In the shoe race the shoes of the contestants were piled up in the middle of the floor and the first man to get his shoes on properly and get back to the starting line won. Macon was the first to perform the "feet," his number 12's being easily seen from afar. Fort, last year's champion, is still looking for his shoes.

When it comes to all kinds of lip work the Sophomores are hard to beat. McBane and White won the two lip race. The kind of candy which was tied in the middle for once had its name justified.

When it comes to picking up apples Addie Morris has Eve "skinned a mile." This race was the most exciting of the evening, Elma McVey

Guilford Overwhelms Lenoir Mountaineers Snowed Under By Capt. Newlin's Quakers

Before a small but enthusiastic crowd on Hobbs' field, Guilford easily swamped Lenoir in the first home game of the season by the score of 88 to 0. Despite the one-sided score the game proved interesting to the spectators on account of the varied character of the Quaker offensive. Most effective as ground gainers were the long end runs by Jones and Bryant, the latter twice going over 70 yards for touchdown. The prettiest pieces of football were the line plunging of Newlin and the tackling of Reddick. Zachary and Fort presented a stone wall front on defense. Walser was called back several times to work on the offense and deserves credit for his punting and for several long end runs. For the visitors, Longaker and Fritz played the best football. The Mountaineers were game to the core, but were completely overwhelmed by superior technique of the Quakers.

The game started with a rush. Guilford received the ball and in four rushes carried it over for a touchdown. Walser kicked the goal. Lenoir elected to kick again, and again the Crimson and Grey marched down the field—this time putting the ball over the line in five plays. Again Walser added the extra point. Lenoir then chose to receive the kick-off and by a pretty forward pass Longaker to Ritchie made first down and brought the ball to midfield. On succeeding plays the Lenoir players were thrown behind the line and were forced to kick. Twice later in the game Lenoir threatened to make effective use of the forward pass, but at no time had an opportunity to score. Guilford advanced the ball almost at will during the remainder of the first half which ended with the score at 60-0.

In the third quarter Coach Doak sent in the scrubs, only Walser being left in the line-up to do the kicking and to forestall any possible accident. During this quarter the playing was very even, the two teams vieing with each other in errors of omission and commission. The visitors were at no time dangerous however and toward the end of the period Walser punted to the one-yard line. Lenoir's kick from behind her goal line was blocked and Walser fell on the ball.

In the fourth period the regulars went back and easily piled up 19 points more.

Despite the easy nature of the contest the college feels well satisfied with the work of the team. They are playing football like veterans and barring accidents should give good account of themselves in the remaining games of the schedule.

PHILOMATHEAN SOCIETY.

Philomatheans are indebted to the new members entirely for one of the best programs of the season. Their work of last Friday evening was of a high order of excellence, and they put themselves into the meeting with an enthusiasm which makes the future of the society look bright indeed.

Anne Shamburger and Lulu Raiford argued the question of vivisection in a most interesting way; showing careful preparation of the subject under discussion.

Francis Bulla brot smiles to our faces by her reading about the man who was afraid to trust railroad time, and Tom Stewart's account of first impressions of Guilford called to the minds of old Philomatheans reminiscences of a similar nature.

Naomi Tomlinson's piano solo proved that the society has acquired another member who may be depended upon to furnish valuable aid in a musical program.

YOUNG MEN ABLY ADDRESSED.

Professor Rogers led the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening. The boys turned out well to hear him. Every seat was occupied, and many had to stand up. The leader spoke on "Sexual Hygiene," approaching the subject from a biological point of view. He treated the topic frankly and clearly and illustrated his talk with a wide range of facts which indicated a comprehensive knowledge of the subject.

It quickens one's pulse and makes his ears tingle to hear the walls of old Founders dining room ring with college yells. Let's try having more of them.

VASSER VS. WELLESLEY

New Girls Administer Defeat to Old Girls.

On Friday evening of last week the gymnasium was the scene of the first girls' basketball game of the season. The opposing teams were Wellesley (new girls) and Vassar (old girls) and right much in evidence was the ancient rivalry between the two colleges. The game was called promptly at 8:30 and was at no time lacking in interest. The first ten minutes of play was probably more exciting than any other period, for the first rapid passes resulted in a field goal for Vassar, followed quickly by a foul goal, both placed by Totten Moton. The Wellesley center then started the play with a rush, and forced the ball to her goal, where Josephine McVey cleverly made a field goal, and only a moment later made good a free throw. In the remaining few minutes of the first half there was hard playing and consistent passing on the part of both teams, which resulted in a field goal for each side, and when the time whistle announced the end of the first half the score stood 5 to 5.

The second half opened with a fine display of energy which was evident throughout this period. The center probably witnessed the hardest playing, but the guards were on the job and prevented the forwards from making any change in the scene, and when the game ended the score board registered a tie.

Neither team was contented with this state of affairs, and after mutual agreement it was announced that there would be an additional eight minutes of play. After a short rest, the teams came on the floor again. There was a considerable amount of "pep" in evidence especially in the Wellesley team and with a rush, the ball was sent to the Wellesley goal, where, in spite of close guarding, Josephine McVey and Mary Lou Raiford made free goals, and when a foul was called on a Vassar girl the former made it count. When the final whistle blew the score stood 11 to 5.

While the game was not entirely lacking in the finer points, it was characterized more by hard playing than by skill. Totten Moton scored for her team and the Vassar guards played consistent ball. Josephine McVey played a good game as forward and was ably assisted at the Wellesley goal by Mary Lou Raiford. The line-up follows:

Vassar—Addie Morris, r.f.; Totten Moton, l.f.; Eula Hockett, c.; Donna McBane, r. g.; Bernice Pike, l. g.

Wellesley—Mry Lou Raiford, r.f.; Josephine McVey, l.f.; Elma McVey, c.; Lula Raiford, r.g.; Martha Caudle, r.g.

Summary—Field goals, Totten Moton 2, Mary Lou Raiford 1, Josephine McVey 3. Foul goals, Totten Moton 1, Josephine McVey 3. Linesmen—Alma Chilton, Mary Mendenhall, Julia Dixon, Okie Raiford. Scorekeeper Miss Noles. Referee, Miss Roberts. Attendance 125.
