VOLUME VI.

GUILFORD COLLEGE, N. C., OCTOBER 1, 1919

NUMBER 2

GUILFORD LOSES TO HEAVY STATE TEAM

Guilford College lost the second game of the season to North Carolina State College, on Saturday, September 27, at West Raleigh, by a score of 80 to 0. It was well known that Guilford had little chance against the State College squad, twenty-two out of the squad of seventy-five being better men. But rather than cancel a scheduled game, the Guilford eleven played a defensive game against a team above its class. The State College men outweighed the Guilford men by thirty pounds per man. The big troop of huskies flocking out on the field must have been a discouraging spectacle to the fifteen Guilford light weights, but their supplication seem to have been heeded for they brought back a short casualty list.

Score by Quarters:

First, 27; second, 28, third, 7; fourth, 18.

There is no one at Guilford who feels discouraged on account of the walk over by A. & E. In the game it was clearly seen that a successful team must have weight. There are boys at Guilford who have sufficient weight to play foot ball, who have never had a "concern" to venture out on the athletic field except as spectators.

Guilford has such a reputation for base ball that base ball players from high schools are glad to come to Guilford. Yet this base ball reputation has not always been, it was built up year by year. And now only persistent work will build up a foot ball reputation. In this task every one at Guilford College, from the "rough house squad" to those who follow the more pious walks of life, has a part to play. Many boys have the idea that if they can not make the varsity eleven they have nothing to play for, and refuse to go out in uniform. The scrub team is just as important as the varsity and it should be considered an honor to be a member of that team. The most popular yell of the college should be "Get in yer togs and hit 'em hard."

GUILFORD SECONDS DOWNED BY LEXINGTON

"They met, they saw, but they were conquered." (With apologies to Miss Louise) is to paraphrase an ancient warrior's message a brief way of describing the tussle between the Guilford second team and Lexington Athletic Association Saturday afternoon.

The Lexington team started the scoring in the first quarter through a series of line plunges and end runs. Don and Zeb Walser, two former Guilford Varsity men doing the heaviest part of the work. Walser failed to negotiate the kick. In the second quarter Guilford somewhat strengthened their offensive and gained considerable ground on the Lexington boys, but on account of fumbles failed to score.

The third and fourth quarters were more unlucky for the Quaker lads. Each quarter bringing Don Walser's boys a touchdown and successful goal kick.

The most spectacular play of the game was the pass by which Lexington made their last touchdown. Walser making a long underhand throw through the goal post.

Line up for Guilford follows:

L. E., Gilbreath.
L. J. Hayworth.
C., Johnson.
R. G., Beason.
R. T., Andrews.
R. E., Smith.
Q., Bulla.
R. H., Cameron.
L. T., Williams.

Substitutions, Farlow for Andrews; Newlin for Gilbreath.

PROFESSOR MILLS

LEADS Y. M. C. A.

The regular weekly meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was led by Prof. Mark C. Mills

The speaker said that there were certain changes in our life in coming to college. Each year is a turning point in our lives. These crisis come to us all during our life. We must decide one way or the other. Sometimes we decide we will do better and keep putting it off. If we expect to make a change in our lives we must act now. Our attitude comes as a result of little acts. Our good resolutions to get an education are useless we nail them down. Put your good resolutions into effect now. Life is a trust given to us and we should have a desire to leave the world better. Certainly in no worse condition. We have a desire to be immortal, and to some extent we will be immortal for we are products of men who have gone before. We are the mediums that make the influence of the past possible. Our influence will pass on to future generations. Every good deed we do will be passed on. The only way to build character is by doing good deeds every day. Character building is a slow process, but if we are honest, sincere, and use our time to the best advantage there will be a growth.

PHILOMATHEANS DISCUSS

PRESENT DAY PROBLEMS.

The Philomatheans held their regular meeting on Friday evening, September 26. A very instructive program was rendered. The theme being "A Look at the World Today." Miss Katherine Harmon gave the society a clear insight into the league of nations, telling what it is and how it is being worked out. Miss Harmon in a forceful way gave the attitude of the other world powers in regard to the league—and the stand the United States is taking.

The second number was given by Miss Ruth Oultand who discussed the race problem. Miss Oultand stated that many of the negroes, who fought in the war, have come home with new ideals and principles and consequently they are demanding new rights.

"Labor versus Capital," was given by Miss Frawees McCracken in a very interesting way. Miss McCracken discussed the position of the employee and the employers, the cause of strikes and how the laborer and capitalist may become, through co-operation, co-workers in one common brotherhood.

The fourth number "Wise and Other-Wise," was given by Miss Nell Goldston.

Miss Grace Stone ended the program with an instrumental solo.

Miss Myrtle Cox was elected treasurer for the coming year. The following were welcomed as new members: Misses Loyd Merrimon, Edith Macon, Vera Farlow, Sobelia Williams, Meta Nelson, Janie Atkins, Isla Tompson, Helen Bostick and Jamesina Ellington. After a good critics report society adjourned.

NEW GARDEN A SCENE OF MERRIMENT

Saturday evening, a majority of the Guilford students found themselves within the brilliantly lighted dining room and parlors of New Garden Hall. Anticipation was plainly written on every face for the first social of the new school year.

Although the first few minutes were spent in embarrassment with the girls in one bunch and the young men in another, this situation soon gave place to one with quite the opposite characteristics. In the dining hall where a collection of chairs had been placed, the jolly crowd became engrossed in the trials and hardships of a journey to Jerusalem. This soon being completed, several persons found that they could imitate a cat in such a manner as to cause the entire crowd to burst into peals of laughter. Some desiring less hilarious amusement, chose Rook. Still others preferred to sit in secluded corners and quietly observe the festivities.

But as Father Time was still on duty, David White advised parting at ten o'clock. And it was with smiling face and light heart that each individual took his homeward route.

ZATASIANS ENJOY

MUSICAL PROGRAM.

The Zatasian Literary Society held its regular meeting on last Friday evening, September 26. The first number on the program was The History of the Star-Spangled Banner, by Miss Martin. Then followed a well rendered quartette by Misses Neece, V. McBane, Williams and Robertson. Miss Lindley next gave an interesting paper on the secret of the Success of Beethoven. The last number on the program was a unique musical contest planned by Miss Robertson.

The Society was indeed glad to hear from two of the former members, Misses Julia Dixon and Gracie Kellam, and to receive as members of the Society Misses Irma Harrison, Vera Cooper, Aline Johnson, Johnnie Belle Grant, Flora Burrus, Sallie Perkins, Mary Daniels and Alta Jessup.

NEW ORDER IN CHAPEL.

As is mentioned elsewhere in this issue there has been a change in the time worn scheme of seating in chapel. The Seniors have been promoted to the seats of honor in front of the platform and the Juniors and Sophmores in turn behind them. The Freshmen and preparatory students occupy the outside rows. This brings the student body up into a very solid phalanx and should improve the singing materially. At the close of chapel the students walk out two by two, the underclassmen waiting until the classes above have withdrawn. The result is much greater dignity in emptying the building, and obviates the jams that have heretofore formed in the aisles.
