THANKSGIVING!

Another Thanksgiving season is approaching, a time that we all look forward to with joyous anticipation. We always long for this time of the year because of the joy and happiness it brings us. Usually, we either go to our homes or to visit our friends or take a trip to some noted place of interest. Thanksgiving, then, usually means a happy time for us. But do we ever stop to think of the real meaning of this occasion which affords us so much merriment, and why we observe this day? Perhaps many of us will say it is because our Pilgrim Fathers did so. But do we always really observe Thanksgiving in the spirit that our Pilgrim Fathers did? We should celebrate this occasion with a true spirit of thankfulness. We, as students, should especially be grateful in college; for the ones who have made it possible for us to be in school; for our teachers who are giving us their best in order that we may become better fitted to meet the problems of our day; for our fellow students who bear with us the "burden and heat of the day," helping us to understand humanity and to learn lessons of co-operation by which alone the world's work can be done efficiently.

Let us then, on this day of thanksgiving, not forget to render due thanks to the Divine Being for all the blessings that we enjoy and for the opportunities and privileges which surround us.

As we go to press we are glad to state that Algie Newlin, John Taylor and Murray White, who were right severely injured in Saturday's game, are getting much better. White was able to get around all right by Saturday night. Algie's collar bone has been paining him considerably and will until it knits back together. John's hip has not yet permitted him to bear much weight on it, but we hope to soon see him around. Our heartfelt sympathy and thanks goes out to these boys for work in bringing us the victory. We know how heartbroken they were at not being able to stay in until the finish of Elon. Mere words cannot do much towards salving pain but, boys, in Guilford's name, we thank you again for your courage and efforts.

Our headline of last week, "Let's Get Elon Students and Alumni" was an error in setting up the copy. The last three words of the first heading were intended as the first three of the second. We have no especial desire to "get" either Elon's students or her alumni but we did get her goat Saturday, which is what we were after.

We wish to protest against the conditions which made possible the darkness which enveloped the closing scene of the play on Saturday night. We have no desire to apportion blame, but we feel that steps should be taken to make a repetition of the incident impossible.

PHILS ENJOY UNIQUE PROGRAM

On Friday, November 21st, the Philomatheans enjoyed an unusual program. Upon entering the door the eyes of each one were filled with wonder to see the hall changed into an Indian village.

The program was as follows:

- I. The Great Indian Chief, Powhatan—Miss Ione Stewart.
- II. Solo, "From the Land of the Sky Blue Water"—Miss Anna Henley.
- III. Reading, "The Sioux Chief's Daughter"—Miss Edna Raiford.
- IV. Piano Solo, Indian Revel—Miss Ruth Pearson.
- V. Pantomime, "Wooing of Hiawatha"—Misses Wanda Clodfelter (Nokamis), Isabelle Pancoast (Hiawatha), Octavia Clegg (Minnehaha), and Clementine Raiford (the father of Minnehaha.)

This program was given by the first group in the contest series, and deserves commendation because of the excellent manner in which it was given. The parts showed that time and practice had been given them. It is hoped that each of the other six groups will work equally as well in preparing their programs.

At this meeting the members decided to purchase two dozen new chairs for the hall. In securing these chairs the society will need some extra financial aid, as the chairs are expensive. It is hoped that those who are expecting to become life members will do so before January of 1920. After a helpful critic's report by Miss Edith Macon society adjourned.
