Guilford Ties Score with Roanoke in Initial Game of Season

High Point, N. C., Oct. 2.—Guilford opened her foot ball season here today when Captain Newlin's squad of warriors met Roanoke's eleven in as clean and fast a struggle as usually develops on the gridiron; the plays averaging a little less than two a minute throughout the entire four periods.

The first score came early in the second quarter when Guilford opening with a fierce offensive succeeded in driving the pigskin over Roanoke's goal line in a series of terrific line plunges. Stout kicked goal.

Roanoke evened the score in the last five minutes of play when as a result of a penalty to Guilford, two end runs, and a trick play on Guilford's five-yard line, they were able to maneuver the ball over the final ditch.

During the first and third quarters the ball played up and down the field, neither team being able to secure a decided advantage. Both teams relied chiefly upon old-fashioned foot ball, straight through the line, to gain ground. For Guilford Cox and E. McBane played stellar ball, breaking through Roanoke's interference and throwing her for repeated losses. To Raiford goes the honor of carrying the ball for Guilford's only touchdown. Ballentine at fullback and Neice at tackle proved most effective for Roanoke.

Game by quarters is as follows:

1st Quarter.—Roanoke won toss and chose to defend south goal.

Stout kicks to Roanoke's 25-yard line. Roanoke advances ball to 40-yard line. Roanoke advances ball five yards through line. Three more attempts failed to net a gain. Ball goes to Guilford on Roanoke's 45-yard line. Stout advances ball three yards thru line. McBane through line for three yards. Stout around left end for eight yards. First down. Tremain through line for two yards. McBane around end for six yards. Raiford through line for two yards. First down. McBane through line for one yard. Stout through tackle for one yard. Forward pass to Newlin incomplete. Forward pass to Tremain incomplete. Ball goes to Roanoke on their 25-yard line. Roanoke advances ball ten yards by two end runs. Roanoke loses ball on downs. Guilford's ball on Roanoke's 32-yard line Stout through line for two yards. McBane around end for no gain. McBane through line for six yards. Raiford through line for three yards. Quarter ends with ball in Guilford's possession on Roanoke's 20-yard line.

2nd Quarter.—McBane through line for two yards. Raiford through line for six yards. Roanoke penalized five yards for holding. First down. McBane through line for two yards. Raiford over for a touch down. Stout kicks goal.

GIRLS' STUDENT GOVERNMENT

A Splendid Organization with Good Support

The Girls' Student Government Association has taken on new life this fall and has become a very strong organization. The president is working hard to make the Association a great success, and all the old girls are cooperating with her. They appear to have realized that Faculty government belongs to a boarding school and that Guilford College has no place for such ruling.

The officers for this year are:

President, Myrtle Cox;

Secretary, Ruth Outland;

Treasurer, Ruth Reynolds.

Each class elects two members of Students' Council, one of the members is from Founders Hall and the other one is from New Garden Hall.

The House Presidents are: for New Garden, Madge Coble; for Founders, Tom Stewart.

The Student Government Association is not among the oldest organizations at the college, for it was not organized until the fall of 1916. It had good leaders then, and since that time many strong girls have worked to make it a success. Among these we find Mary J. Shamburger, Deborah Brown, Gertrude Cronk, Ellen Raiford, Ruth Coltrane, Eula Hockett, Katherine Smith, Genevieve Lindley and Vanner Neece.

But like all other organizations in some places it failed. Possibly one cause for these mistakes was the different rulings in the two dormitories. However, this fall the Student Government Association is working as one unit. The old girls are its strongest supporters, and the new girls are liking it also. It has declared to every girl the same rights and the same privileges except to the upper classmen. Judging from the reports concerning it, it expects to play an important part in the lives of the girls.

POLITICAL DISCUSSIONS

Both Parties Make Plans for Lectures

The two political parties at Guilford are beginning to warm up for the political conflict which will end the first of November. The present plans will give a mild send off for the two parties. At a recent joint meeting of Democratic and Republican representatives a series of discussions were arranged for. This schedule includes three joint discussions to be held on Friday night after Society meeting. At the first meeting national candidates and national issues will be discussed by speakers from both parties. At the second meeting state candidates and state issues, and at the third meeting county candidates and issues will be discussed. The time allotted to each party will not exceed thirty minutes.

This is to be a political discussion in the mildest form. It will not be of the ordinary political nature, nor will it be a series of debates. There seems to be some speculation among some of the students as to whether the political temperature can be kept so low as this program seems to attempt to confine it.

Initiation Meeting

Young Women's Christian Association Introduce New Girls to the Organization

Again the Y. W. C. A. says, "Welcome." to the new girls and especially to those who have joined its ranks.

Thursday evening last, the Y. W. C. A. met in Memorial Hall for the annual initiation services of the new members. As each new member entered she was given a small candle. Then while the old members sang, "O Zion Haste Thy Higher Mission Fulfilling," the new members marched down the aisle to the front where the president was standing holding a large lighted candle. As each marched by she lighted her candle from the large one. The lights in the hall were out and there in the quiet candle light the sister "Y's" sang, "I'll Go Where You Want Me to Go." Immediately following the song each girl was given a slip of paper upon which was written the Y. W. C. A. purpose.

The president then welcomed the new members as true members of the organization with these words:

"Girls, just as you lighted your candles from the larger one, so are you going to light your lives from the influences of the Y. W. C. A. The sun is the light by day and the moon is the light by night, but the Y. W. C. A. is our light while away. Our meeting may seem small but remember that little things lead to greater things."

GUILFORD CLASS LAYS PLANS FOR MEMORIAL

The class of '17, of Guilford College, in a reunion held during Yearly Meeting, August 7, initiated the plan of raising a memorial fund to be named for Ezra A. Moore, a member of the class who gave his life while serving as a member of The American Friends' Reconstruction Force in France. This money is to be given to the college to be used in connection with the Biology Department, a line of work in which Ezra was most interested.

The class adopted a letter of respect in memory of Ezra and voted to have it copied on the minutes of the meeting, to send a copy to the family of the deceased and to have it published in the Friends Messenger.

The reunion was a success in many ways; the spirit of loyalty to Guilford predominated. Among the pleasant features was a picnic supper served in New Garden Hall. This was followed by the business meeting with the election of officers. Rhessa L. Newlin was elected president and Ruth Coble secretary and treasurer. It was decided to hold the next reunion in August, 1924.

Among those who attended the meeting were Misses Maude Lassiter, Ethel Spear and Ruth Coble, and Edwin Carroll, Jesse Stanley, Rhessa Newlin and J. H. Beeson.

Those who say they will forgive but can't forget an injury, simply bury the hatchet, while they leave the handle out ready for immediate use.—Dwight L. Moody.

Lyceum Number

Much Enjoyed

Entertainment Meets All Expectations

Members of the college and community have been looking forward with pleasure to the opening of the College lyceum season. The first number of the course given at Memorial Hall, Saturday evening, October 2, though of rather an unusual order for Guilford, proved to be very entertaining. It was such an introduction as will heighten interest and appreciation of even better numbers to be given in the near future.

J. DeJeu, the wizard, of Downer's Grove, Illinois, one of the leading sleight-of-hand performers, amazed both young and old with his seemingly unbelievable accomplishments. The program consisting of tricks, illusion, mystery, fun and music, attracted and held almost spellbound a large audience.

Perhaps none could describe in a more accurate or entertaining manner his numerous tricks with balls, flags, handkerchiefs, bills, watches, and numerous other articles, than the admiring small boys nearest him. How the magician did it all was the mystery, and yet as he said: "It is just so easy—if you know how." Even the older and more dignified members of the audience were interested in his demonstrations of telepathy, though still recalling his introductory remark: "Perhaps you'll know as much when you get home as when you came."

Probably the best appreciated part of the program was the excellent piano-acordion music by _____ assisted by J. DeJeu with the tambourine.

The whole evening's performance showed art and experience, and emphasized the fact that skill in any line of work or play requires untiring perseverance and practice.

LYNCHBURG NEXT

Coach Doak Drilling His Men For Second Game

The Guilford foot ball squad is passing through a strenuous signal practice, preliminary to the second game of the season. This game will be staged on Hobbs Field, Saturday, October 9, with Lynchburg College, of Lynchburg, Va. Lynchburg defeated Guilford last year thirteen to nothing. This year Lynchburg has a strong team. The home ground and support of the student body, however, gives Guilford a slight advantage.

Coach "Bob" Doak will doubtless use practically the same line-up against Lynchburg as was used against Roanoke. The backfield will be greatly strengthened by the appearance of "Boney" White, who was out of the last game on account of a wrenched knee.

STOCKS AND BONDS

Senior dignity "running" a few points above the rating of last week.

Red-headed girls have dropped a few points below par since last year.
