GUILFORD TEAM RETURNS FROM TRIP THROUGH VIRGINIA

FOUR GAMES OUT OF THE SIX LOST

Herman Shore and "Babe" Shore Do Greater Part Of Pitching

EVERY GAME PLAYED IN RAIN, MUD OR COLD

QUAKERS AND VIRGINIA CHRISTIANS BATTLE FOR THIRTEEN INNINGS.

Lynchburg Leads Until Ninth, Then Neither Side Able to Score Before Darkness Ends Game

Guilford began her Virginia trip with a thirteen inning tie game with Lynchburg College. Score 2 to 2. As said by one of Lynchburg's oldest sport writers, "For real, air tight, gritting basketball it is doubtful if anything like this game had been seen in the Lynchburg fair grounds for the past 10 years." This is evident from the fact that the Lynchburg team had 57 fielding chances and made but 3 errors. Guilford had 59 chances and made 2 errors. Lowman for Lynchburg and "Babe" Shore for the Quakers, each pitched eight innings and were hit rather hard at times although they came by most pinches allright. Thomas took Lowman's place and Herman Shore relieved "Babe" in the 9th inning and from then on it was a regular pitchers battle between the two southpaws.

The Quakers drew first blood in the first inning when J. G. Frazier hit a three bagger and came home on Algie Newlin's triple. Newlin was left on third when Babe Shore was out, pitcher to first.

Lynchburg also scored in this inning. Meadows and Parker both hit safely and then scored on Brown's single.

From this time till the 9th neither side scored. In this inning the Quakers put one more run across tying the score. Cummings first up, singled. H. Shore struck out and Stout was walked. C. Shore was out on the infield fly rule, both Cummings and Stout advancing a base. Cummings scored a moment later on C. Newlin's single. After this neither side scored although Guilford had a man on third and second in the thirteenth inning. But three batters per inning passed H. Shore after the 9th inning.

GREENSBORO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OFFERS AID TO GUILFORD STUDENTS

The Chamber of Commerce of Greensboro has offered to the students of the college some very good positions for the summer. Professor Baker is conducting the work and attending to the officiations: The students appreciate very much the efforts for them.

WASHINGTON AND LEE UNIVERSITY RUNS AWAY WITH GUILFORD IN A BASE BALL GAME.

Six Home Runs the Feature of the Game.. J. F. Frazier Sent Two Over Fence and Hayworth One.

The Guilford team ambled out into the cold drizzling rain at Lexington, Va. and proceeded to give the Washington & Lee generals some hitting practice. Score 18-3. The score however does not show the relative strength of the two teams. To begin with it was not base ball weather and to end with the Quaker lads seemed to fail to get started. Six home runs were scored in the game. J. G. Frazier garnered two. Hayworth one and three went to the W. & L. players, while Guilford's home runs come with the bases empty, there were always one or two W. & L. men perched on base when their home runs came. That in a way counts for the one-sided score.

Batters, H. Shore, McBane and Hayworth; W. & L. McCallum and Frew.

Hits off H. Shore 7 in 2 innings, off McBane 12 in 7 Innings off McCallum 6.

VIRGINIA MILITARY INSTITUTE WINS FROM GUILFORD FIVE TO ONE.

Game Played on a Muddy Field. Quakers Lead until the Seventh

Guilford's second loss with Va. trip came at the hands of V. M. I. Score 5 to 1. Guilford playing on a muddy field and in November weather scored first in the third period. J. W. Frazier was safe on catcher's error, took second on J. G. Frazier's sacrifice and came home when C. Newlin singled. Guilford held this one run lead till the seventh inning. Then Summers and Bunting hit safely. Teach walked filling the bases. Saunders, who had struck out three times in succession came to bat and after having struck twice in vain landed on the pill for a good single bringing in two runs. Three errors and two hits gave the cadets three more runs in the eighth inning.

With the exception of the seventh inning C. Shore pitched fine ball and had it not been for this one time should have been accredited with a victory.

The Annual Freshman Contest

Exhibition of Work in This Department at Guilford, and a History of This Line of School Work Were Main Features of The Day.

A splendid exhibition was given on Wednesday afternoon, May 4, of the work done by the sewing class of the Home Economics Department under direction of Miss Noles.

Wednesday evening at seven o'clock a departmental meeting was held at which was given a brief history of the development of Home Economics and a short resume of the work done during the year by the three classes of the department. Florence Cox gave a history of the work from its beginning until it was put on a new basis about ten years ago. Some of the women who have done most for the advancement of this work were also mentioned and a few remarks concerning their lives were given. Representatives from the three classes gave a short summary of the work done during the year in laboratory work and also in Texture courses. It was very interesting to note the many different things which had been studied by the various classes. Miss Noles then told of the importance of this work and its rapid development. This work was installed at Guilford College and given college credit as the other courses just four years ago. Improvements have been made each year and a few more things added to the course until many things are included. Last year representatives of this department were sent out who held some of the best positions in the state this year.

A PROGRESSIVE TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

Both Boys and Girls Take Part

The first tennis tournament of the year was held on five of the college tennis courts on Saturday, May 7. The object of the tournament was to create a greater interest in this particular phase of athletics and to let the student body as a whole realize that tennis at Guilford College is really doing some effective work.

The participants in the tournament consisted of both boys and girls and numbered twenty in all. The three courts near Cox Hall accommodated twelve players, while the two courts at Founders were occupied by eight. Progressive tennis was the nature of the playing on the three courts at Cox Hall, owing to the distance between the courts of Founders and those of Cox Hall the eight players on the girl courts were allowed to play as they chose. Each team consisted of a boy and a girl and doubles were played throughout the game. The winning team of the evening consisted of Grace Smithdeal and James Zachary.

Plans for another meet are being made which will be held before the end of the school year.

Helen Johnson Wins the Honors of the Contest.. Six Girls Compete.

The Annual Recitation Contest given by the girls of the Freshman class, took place last Saturday evening, May 7, in Memorial Hall.

Although the number of girls who entered the contest was comparatively small, the manner in which each girl gave her reading showed much careful study and preparation.

The fine manner in which each reading was delivered presented quite forcefully to the minds of the audience that in coming years, the old standard of the college, that of producing the very best in each phase of the college work, will not be lowered but carried with much pride by the classes which are now doing their first work of this kind. While each of the speakers acquits herself well, Miss Helen Johnson, with, perhaps, the most classical reading of the group won unanimously the decision of the judges.

The musical numbers were very well rendered.

I. Black Ronold—Hattie Poindexter.
II. The Price of Fame—Isla Willis Thompson.

III. Loves Response Polka—C. Krickel, Nellie Stewart.

IV. Naughty Briar Rose—Shelly Clodfelter.

V. Kentucky Philosophy—Jewel Thomas.

VI. The Fiddle Told—Helen Johnson.

VI. Vocal Solo, "Cob Webs"—Gertritt Smith, Evelyn Henley.

The judges for the evening were Mrs. Raymond Binford, Mr. Balderston, Mr. Mark Mills.

Mr. Mills presented Miss Johnson with the prize, two handsomely bound books of O'Henry.

THE VARIOUS CONCEPTIONS OF HAPPINESS

Thursday night, Professor Dann conducted Y. M. C. A. He spoke mainly from Professor Philip's book entitled "The Philosophy of Happiness."

"Most things which we depend on for our happiness do not give it. Some people think that if they only had money or could just remain idle that their happiness would be complete. Others think that the only way to be happy is to have a continuous round of amusement and wear good clothes. People oftimes dress as if something were the matter with them. Then again people, mostly the younger members of society, think that if they could just play all of the time, how happy they would be. But he is the happiest man who thinks the most interesting thoughts. That is where education plays a large part in helping to make people happy."

Professor Dann stressed the necessity of education and the seizing of every opportunity to broaden the mind.

After a few sentence prayers and familiar songs the meeting was dismissed.
