EDITORIAL

After a student has visited about twenty colleges as a representative of the institution in which he is a student, he invariably begins to make comparisons. In what respects is that college superior to his own school? And how can improvements be made at home? The equipment at one school may be different—one superior to the other. The lack of proper accommodations for students may be unavoidable in some schools. Lack of funds may account for it. But one important part of a college may be on every college campus—that is an attractive college spirit.

The attitude of the students toward each other and toward visitors attracts the attention of a visitor and impresses him more than all the buildings on the campus. Ask a member of the Guilford base ball squad who made the trip into Virginia, what school he liked best, and he will without doubt readily say "V. P. I." Not because the buildings are more attractive, nor because the dining room was more luring, but because the students gave him a better impression than those of other schools. Every one spoke to the visitors. No one "rogged" the players while on the field. After the visitors won from the home team the attitude of the students was just the same.

V. P. I. may have its faults but that "first impression" which the student body gave the visitor drowned out these if they existed.

Visitors are coming to Guilford every day. What description of the institution does the student body give by its attitude today. Then every thoughtful student who has any regard for his own institution will exert himself to give visitors the right impression of Guilford.

THE BLUE RIDGE CONFERENCE FOR Y. W. C. A. REPRESENTATIVES HOLDS ATTENTION OF YOUNG WOMEN OF GUILFORD

The members of Y. W. C. A. enjoyed a meeting Thursday evening, led by members who attended the Y. W. C. A. Conference, held at Blue Ridge last June. Madge Coble first told of her trip there, the beautiful scenery, description of the buildings in which the conference was held and various kinds of information regarding the place. Florence Martin and Clara Farlow then gave a full account of a Day spent at Blue Ridge. The day is filled with meetings, classes, hikes and sport of all kinds. If you want ten days of full life go to Blue Ridge. There are religious meetings from which much good is derived. Speakers from various parts of the United States are there. Their talks are very inspiring and worth going to hear. At this conference you meet girls from a great number of the Southern colleges. They have all assembled here for a good purpose and are really the cream of the college which they represent. The scenery is also worth going to see. There are these and many more reasons why a trip to Blue Ridge is worth while, and it is hoped that Guilford will have a large delegation this year.

FARM LIFE PICTURE SHOW

The Old and New Methods Contrasted

A comparison of the old and new methods of farming was given on the screen in Memorial Hall on Wednesday evening, May 4, by the agricultural class, which is directed by Professor Baker.

Improved farm machinery, the tractors, gang plows and many other modern implements used on the farms were contrasted with the old ox-drawn plows.

GIRL'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION ELECTS OFFICERS FOR THE COMING YEAR.

The Girls' Athletic Association met in Memorial Hall Thursday, May 6, for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year.

The following were elected:

President, Edna Raiford;
 Secretary, Hattie Poindexter.
 Treasurer, Nell Carroll.

Miss Crabb then talked to the association for a few minutes concerning the year's work after which the meeting adjourned.

SOPHOMORES SURPRISE THE SENIORS.

In the Midst of the Class Program The seniors held their regular class meeting on Tuesday night, May 3.

While the program was being given, the door was opened and in rushed the Sophomores each carrying a plate of ice-cream and cake, which they gave to each member of the senior class. The seniors were so surprised that they did not know just what to do. This is one of the many instances which show the love of these two sister classes. The seniors greatly appreciated this treat.
