EDITORIAL COMMENT

The basketball season has opened. Soon baseball and track will follow. There is also a recitation and declamation contest for high school students held at Guilford each year, which it is hoped will be made a greater success this year than ever.

Last year the above mentioned activities brought to our campus some of the best representatives of a number of high schools in various sections of the state. Let us hope that we will continue to be visited by these prospective Guilford students. We should take every opportunity possible to get them here and then to see to it that they are well cared for while they are here.

Unfortunately for us, a few times last year we were not able to do this, not because we were not willing, but rather because we were not sufficiently instructed by those responsible for the contests.

Here is a good opportunity for the county clubs to make themselves useful, as some have done, by seeing that any delegations or representatives which come from schools in their counties are well cared for and entertained while here. Some arrangement should be made with the Guilford high school, by which we might be notified of any contests in which they participate with other high schools on the college athletic field, in the gymnasium or in Memorial Hall. We would then be in position to make arrangement for them. The county clubs, the federation of clubs and the college authorities should cooperate to make the visits of these students so pleasant that they will want to come again. The spirit in which we receive them and the courtesy which we show them while they are here will determine largely their opinion of the college as a desirable place to attend school.

For the benefit of the students and faculty members, "The Guilfordian" wishes to call attention to the exchange which come to it. These publications can be found on the table in the Guilfordian room and everyone is permitted to read them. Perhaps you have friends at other colleges, or doubtless you are interested in them for other reasons; about the best way to keep in touch with these colleges and friends is to read the newspapers and magazines which are published by them.

The Guilfordian takes pleasure in recommending to you publications from the following colleges and universities: the North Carolina, N. C. State, Davidson, Wake Forest, Elon, Lenoir, Trinity, N. C. C. W., Queens. In addition to these, is, The U. of S. C., Winthrop College, S. C., Howard College, Ala., Lynchburg College, Va., Haverford College, Pa., Westtown School, Pa., Norwich University, N. H., Wilmington College, Ohio, Earlham College and Marion College, Ind., Penn College, Iowa, Friends University, Kan., Whittier College, Cal. and Pacific College, Oregon.

Greensboro, N. C., Jan. 13th—The students of the North Carolina College for Women enjoyed last Thursday evening in the college auditorium "The Program of the Far East" presented by Mr. and Mrs. Michitaro Ongawa, clever Japanese entertainers who are making a tour of our country under the management of William B. Feakins, Inc., Times Building in New York.

The program which sets forth Japanese life and customs, consisted of talks, stories, songs and dances to the accompaniment of Japanese musical instruments, and a fashion show. The program was concluded with a short play, "The Fox Woman," typical of modern Japanese dramatic art.

ALUMNI NEWS

On Thursday evening, December 23, 1921, a number of Guilford College Alumni, residing near Ivor, Virginia, gathered around the banquet table in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Philip Raiford, to indulge in reminiscences of Guilford and revive college spirit. The dining room was artistically decorated with potted plants. In the center of the table stood a miniature cedar tree draped with the college colors and at the top of which were the letters G. C.

The following guests were present representing seven graduating classes: Sue Farlow Raiford '92, Louise Raiford Neare, '01 Mable Raiford and George W. Bradshaw '08, Ellen T. Raiford '18, Thelma Cloud '20, Olsie Raiford '21, Esther White, Lula and Edna Raiford, '22. Mr. G. W. Bradshaw acted as Toastmaster for the occasion and the following toasts were called for: Guilford in the Nineties" by Linnie Neare, '01; "Guilford in Retrospect, by Sue F. Raiford '92; and "Present Day Spirit at Guilford" by Esther White '22. Humor spiced the evening by the telling of recent jokes of the college by Edna Raiford '22.

Before the banquet closed a club was formed to work for the interest of Guilford, with the aim in view of securing new students and increasing the endowment fund. The following officers were elected: president Edna Raiford, vice-president; Bonnie Barnes; secretary, Thelma Cloud.

Plans were discussed for holding a meeting in June, 1922, at which time alumni residing in Southamp county, Virginia, would be solicited for membership in the club.

—Ellen Raiford, '18

CAMPUS NOTES

Dr. Ellwood Perisho, field agent for the college left Thursday, January 12, for Eastern North Carolina. Before returning he will visit the high schools and Friends' churches of Hertford, Northampton, Perquimans and Wayne counties. At Belvidere in Perquimans county he will organize a Guilford Club. A similar organization will be formed at Rich Square in Northampton County and at Goldsboro in Wayne county.

Dr. Binford, president of the college is in Chicago this week attending some important conferences. Thursday he met with the General Board of Education of the Five Years Meeting. Friday and Saturday he will be present at the convention of the American Association of Colleges.

Mr. Chang Choon Sim of Pyoung Yaung, Korea, arrived at the college Monday to become a student of the Institution. Mr. Sim has a very remarkable record. After graduating from High School he spent two years in Japan at the Middle School of Aoyama, Kokuin, Tokio where he learned the Japanese language. He then returned to Seoul, the capital of Korea and studied at the Baichai Junior College. In 1919 he spent one year in China travelling and studying Chinese. From China he travelled through India, Africa and Italy. He spent a year in France studying French and in 1921 spent six months in Germany studying German. Through the advice of the Methodist Bishop Herbert Welch of Korea and Japan he came to America last summer and remained in New York during the fall. Miss Alice Jenkins of Greensboro, a former missionary in Korea and Mr. Billup the assistant pastor of the West Market M. E. Church of Greensboro, have placed him in college here to study English and French. After doing this work he expects to return to his native land to each languages.

Among the visitors on the campus last Sunday afternoon were Miss Sallie Perkins, a former student of Guilford, Mr. Shelley Beard of Winston-Salem, Mr. Clarence Johnson of Greensboro, Mr. Archie Johnson of Greensboro, Messrs. Gladstone and Percy Groom of Groomtown and Mr. Thomas C. Barber of Winston-Salem.

Miss Ruth Zachary was the weekend guest of Misses Alta and Bertha Zachary.

Miss Katherine Riley's father was another visitor on the campus last week-end.
