ANNUAL JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET BIG EVENT

Robert E. Lee Hotel Scene of Merry Occasion.

The biggest social event of the season occurred last Wednesday evening, April 5, when the members of the class of '22 and members of the faculty were the guests of the class of '23 at the Robert E. Lee Hotel, in Winston-Salem.

A delicious seven course dinner was served at eight o'clock in the Orangerie. The menu consisted of: Relishes:—Concomme Bellevue; Baked Halibut Creole; Half Spring Chicken; French Fried Potatoes; Mixed Imported Vegetables; Martha Washington Salad; Merengue Glace; Demi Tasse.

Succeeding the dinner the following toasts were given:

- I. PackageDewey Crews
- II. Insured Package .Mrs. Perisho
- III. The StringEdna Raiford
- IV. R. F. D.Dr. Binford
- V. StampCurtis Newlin
- VI. ContentsJosephine Mock

The general theme for the toast was the Parcel Post System. The package itself represented a college student; the Insured Package, the student with an ideal of service; The String, the different phases of the student's life; the R. F. D., the work of graduates in their home communities. The Stamp, the college approval; and the contents, the personal characteristics of the members of the class of '22. Each guest was presented by Uncle Sam's mail, with a package characteristic of his college life. Mr. Spot Taylor acted as toastmaster for the evening. The theme was farther carried out by the place cards which represented small packages while larger packages decorated the center of the table.

DR. PERISHO VISITS DAVIDSON SCHOOLS

Last week Dr. Perisho visited schools in Davidson County, the first of the week, delivering seventeen addresses. On Wednesday evening Dr. Perisho was in High Point where he gave two addresses at the high school and one at the Rotary Club where the high school boys were guests at luncheon.

On Friday Dr. Perisho visited all except one of the high schools in Montgomery County, and made seven addresses in one day. A letter from Roger Kiser speaks in highest appreciation of his visit to Canon High School where Mr. Kiser is teaching.

Dr. and Mrs. Perisho with Professor L. L. White motored to Pilot Mountain Sunday evening where Dr. Perisho delivered the Commencement address at the high school.

Misses Ruth Outland, Isabel Pancoast, Esther White, Lulu Raiford, and Edna Raiford, the Founder's Seniors, were entertained at dinner Sunday by Mrs. Nellie Brown, of Greensboro, N. C.

Miss Lucile Brown, Mr. Lloyd Cates, and Mr. Ben Johnson, of Burlington, N. C., were the guests of Miss Carrie Edmund at dinner Sunday evening.

A plan for elimination of fermented wines for sacramental purposes and the substitution thereof of a specially prepared fruit juice is under consideration by the Federal prohibition officials in Washington.

SECOND TEAM WINS ONE AND LOSES ONE

Guilford's second team broke even in a double header here April 8, winning the first game from Trinity High School, 8 to 4; and losing to South Buffalo High School, 3 to 0, in the second contest.

For the first time this season Coach Doak gave his reserves a workout against an outside outfit, and the youngsters acquitted themselves in good form once the game was under way.

C. Shore and Kinney formed the battery for Guilford, while McDowell and Johnson did the box work for the Trinity boys in the first game. Shore allowed seven hits, but scattered them so that only in the third and fifth innings were the visitors able to score. They sent two runs across in the third on three clean bingles by Dobson, McDowell and Parkin, and added the other two in the fifth on a smashing three bagger by McDowell.

The collegians made all their runs in the first four innings, the big onslaught on the Trinity High School heavier coming in the fourth when five runners were sent over the home plate.

The game with South Buffalo was a much better exhibition of ball playing than the first. The errors and hard slugging which featured the first game turned into a pitchers' battle between English and Taylor, who were both given good support by their team mates.

The scrubs secured only one hit off the visiting mound man, and were unable to cross the rubber bingle was made by Vaughn who connected for a beautiful drive in the fourth which was good for three bases.

STANDARD CLASS RING ADOPTED BY GUILFORD

Regulations Concerning New Ring.

For many years as the succeeding classes have reached their Junior year, they have discussed the possibility of selecting a standard ring. The class of 1923 have done more than discuss. They invited the other classes and the Faculty to appoint committees to meet with them and consider taking definite steps this year. All were enthusiastic for the advantages seemed obvious. A much better looking ring will be available for little additional cost. The alumni of Guilford will have a token by which they may recognize each other at any time and at any place. Different size rings for the girls and for the men will be feasible since the dies once made can be used indefinitely.

Spot Taylor, chairman of the Junior committee, was most efficient and untiring in his efforts to secure the best possible design. Eight or ten of the best jewelers were requested to submit sketches and from these the committee selected the one that seemed to them the most attractive and at the same time the most representative of Guilford—a white gold ring with a sardonyx setting.

This ring was unanimously approved by the classes and by the preparatory students and the committee then proceeded to draw up resolutions concerning the purchasing and the wearing of the ring.

The resolutions, which were unanimously approved by the Faculty, are as follows:

Resolution I. A standard ring shall be adopted for Guilford College. This ring shall be white gold with a sardonyx setting embossed with a gold scroll marked with G. Silver may be substituted for white gold if the class so desires. Degree and class numerals shall be embossed on the shank of the ring.

Resolution II. The ring may be purchased during the spring term of Junior Year and may be worn for the first time publicly on commencement day of that year.

Resolution III. Only those expecting to return the following year to complete the college course and

FRESHMEN WIN FINAL GAME IN BASKET BALL TOURNAMENT

Lowe and Raiford Star at Forward

The Freshmen won a victory over the seniors by a score of 10 to 9 in the final game of the class basketball tournament, which was played April 7.

The game was hard fought from the beginning and a large number of fouls were called. Since both teams were about equal in strength and basket ball skill, the game was close and exciting. The freshmen took the lead in the beginning when Lowe pitched a field goal. Raiford soon tied the score by throwing two foul goals. At the end of the first half the score was tied and at no time during the game was one team more than two points in the lead. First one team and then the other forged ahead and when the game was nearing the end it seemed as if it would be mere luck for the team which had the lead when the whistle blew for time. All the members of both teams played hard and constantly. The success of the game can be attributed to no individual player.

For the freshmen, Lowe led in the scoring 3 field goals and 2 fouls to her credit. Ed. Raiford, for the Seniors, scored seven of the nine points. Outland as forward for the seniors and McBane for the Freshmen filled their place well, even though they did not score many points. The guards of both teams did some very efficient work, and were able to prevent the forwards from piling up a large score on field goals. Some of the hardest playing took place in the center. The work here was characterized by swift passing, team work and high jumping. Sarah Hodges for the Freshmen did some excellent floor work by her swift playing.

THOMAS R. ENGLISH WINS PEACE CONTEST

Rudd Accorded Second Place.

The ninth annual peace oratorical contest which was held in Memorial Hall, Saturday evening, April 8, was won by Thomas R. English of the class of '25, while second place was accorded to Wm. Lee Rudd of the senior class. Both of the men's literary societies were represented in the contest with two speakers each, Mr. English and Mr. Rudd representing the Websterians while Edwin P. Brown and John D. Reynolds appeared for the Clays.

Mr. English's oration, entitled "Education for Peace," was delivered very forcefully. He showed that the wonderful progress in the material world has made it rather difficult to understand why the human mind has been able to rid itself of war. The great world war opened the eyes of the people to the fact that the cost of war in money and men, in suffering and sacrifice was far too great for the gain of victory. "The world wants universal peace, yet the policy of armed peace has failed as a means of preserving peace," said the speaker. "Viewing the records of the past, we must introduce a new program if we want universal peace, we need an Educational Leadership and policy in order to educate the people up to a sentiment against war. This education must come through the church, school and press."

"Keeping Faith," delivered by Mr. Brown, emphasized the general cost of war both in property and life, and the comparative cost of war and education. It emphasized the fact that to avoid the waste and cost of war, we must have a constructive policy of peace and that it is the work of the church to bring this about.

Mr. Reynolds in "The Economics of War" spoke with good tone and expression. His oration was developed entirely from an economical viewpoint. He cited many figures concerning the cost of war and the cost of school buildings well equipped with all the conveniences of the present time.

Mr. Rudd in "The Dawn of a New Era" showed the trend of human society toward a larger unit of organization as civilization and science advance. A brief review was made of the progress of humanity from the savage state to the present, which is the dawn of the era of internationalism in the political, as well as in the educational and spiritual, activities of men. The speaker showed that "wars must cease" or our present civilization must fall, and dwelt upon the fact that the money spent for wars might do wonders toward bettering conditions in the world.

The last number on the program was a solo, by Miss Clara Henley, which was very much enjoyed. Her fine voice and pleasing charm won the hearty applause of the audience.

The judges for the contest were Mr. W. A. White, Jr., Dr. L. L. Hobbs and Miss Mary Petty.

As a result of this contest, Mr. English will represent Guilford in the state inter-collegiate peace oratorical contest which will be held at Burlington on Friday, April 25.

Miss Ruth Sampson spent the week-end at her home in Greensboro. Visitors on the Campus Sunday were: Messrs. Archie Johnson, Clarence Johnson, Shelley Beard, Worth Winslow, and M. B. Fowler. Miss Kate Smith spent the week end with relatives in Jamestown. Miss Minnie Morrison, of Statesville, N. C., was the week-end guest of Miss Noles.
