QUAKERS LOSE FIRST GAME TO METHODISTS

Guilford Fails To Score Against Trinity's Team

In the first football game of the season, the Quakers went down in defeat to the tune of 43 to 0 at the hands of the battling Methodists on Hanes Field, Saturday, Sept. 30.

The game was a losing one for Guilford from the beginning. The heavier Trinity team plowed through her line repeatedly for gains, which her offensive was too weak to offset.

Trinity's team, heavier by ten pounds to the man than the Quakers, played a steady and consistent game, although only twice did they make gains of as much as 25 yards at a time. Fritz Smith at quarter handled his team in splendid style.

The best ground gainers for Trinity were Boswell, Brown, Johnson and Neal. On the defensive, Neal, Hatcher, Simpson and Carter were the outstanding men.

For Guilford, Warrick, Johnson, Nicholson and Frazier played the most consistent game.

The line-up for the two teams follows:

Trinity (43) Neal, le; Caldwell lt; Taylor, lg; Simpson, c; Moore, rg; Hatcher, rt; Carter, re; Smith, qb; Boswell, rhb; Brown, lhb; Bullock, fb.

Guilford (0). Thomas, le; Pringle, lt; Harrell, lg; Warrick, c; Lassiter, rg; Nicholson, rt; Smith, re; Frazier, qb; Johnson, rhb; McBane lhb; Knight, fb.

Score by periods:

Trinity	19	0	6	13	43
Guilford	0	0	0	0	0

Referee, Rich of Georgetown; Umpire, Rowe of Gettysburg. Time of quarters, 12 minutes.

STUDENT SUNDAY SCHOOL REVIVED ON CAMPUS

The campus Sunday School, organized last year by the two Christian Associations, has been revived, and held its first meeting on Sunday, October 1.

Plans for the work of the organization have been worked out by the two chairmen of the associations, Miss Ruth Pearson and Benbow Merriman, whereby the students will all convene in Memorial Hall every Sunday morning at 9:30. Here a short program, prepared by a joint committee, and usually consisting of a brief talk and music, will be given.

After this the group separates into classes. Four classes have been organized among the girls, a junior-senior class taught by Miss Noles; a sophomore group under Miss Osborne; and two freshmen classes under Miss Ricks and Miss Polk. The boys are divided into two sections, the freshmen and preparatory boys will be taught by Professor Anson, while Dr. Binford will have charge of the sophomores, juniors and seniors.

All classes will use the uniform Sunday School lessons as texts. Miss Inez White, the secretary, will report every Sunday at the closing exercise on attendance and the general progress of the school.

Guilford College Football Schedule

Sept. 30—Trinity at Trinity
Oct. 7—Lenoir at Lenoir
Oct. 23—Wake Forest at Wake Forest
Nov. 4—Haverford at Haverford, Pa.
Nov. 11—Elon at Greensboro
Nov. 18—Roanoke at Roanoke
Nov. 30—Lynchburg at Lynchburg

MEN'S GLEE CLUB BEGINS FALL WORK

The college glee club met Friday, September 15, with thirteen of its original members present. Officers were elected as follows: President, R. K. Farlow; secretary and treasurer, J. O. Reynolds; bus. mgr. R. G. Lassiter; assistant business manager, J. F. Casey; chairman music committee, F. L. Crutchfield; faculty advisor, Joseph D. White; director, Miss Beatrice Lynn Byrd.

There are several talented men in the freshman class, and from these the club expects to fill the place of the men who have dropped out. The glee club will consist of a chorus of sixteen voices, out of which will be selected two quartets; and a small orchestra. Unless new talent can be developed, the orchestra will consist of only four pieces, violin, cornet, trombone and piano, three of last year's players having dropped out.

After conferring with Dr. Binford, the club has fixed February and early March for the concert tour. The music committee is now at work selecting classic and popular music, and practice will begin in earnest by Dec. 1.

The club is fortunate in having as community and to other sections of the country a program of real merit.

The club is fortunate in having as faculty advisor, Prof. Joseph D. White. Mr. White has had much experience in quartet and chorus work, and is obviously the man to help out in this work. With his co-operation, the glee club is looking forward to a successful year.

Tennis With Greensboro 'Y' Scheduled for Oct.

To tell just what the tennis team will amount to is impossible at such an early date. However, as it now appears, the varsity tennis team will be far superior to any that has gone out for several years past.

Just who this team will be composed of is at present doubtful. Among the old men, Merriman and Joyce seem certain to fill their last year's berths. This will leave two vacancies, for which there are some ten candidates. Among the most promising are: Shore, Harris, Ben Reynolds and Holder.

During the first week of October, a tournament between the Greensboro Y. M. C. A. and Guilford will be held on the Guilford courts. Mr. Leifer, a Trinity star of last year, will be on the courts for several individual matches with Guilford men. These hard matches will fit the men for the elimination tournament scheduled to commence the second week in October.

ENROLLMENT PROMISES TO EXCEED LAST YEAR

Guilford County Sends Most; Four States Represented

Again the enrollment of Guilford College has reached its usual number of 228. This has been the general average for the past four years. Last year the number was 229, while in the year of 1919 it was 227.

Although the actual number of students is the same, the number of college students breaks all records of the past, having jumped from the last year's record-breaking number of 171 to 187, thus decreasing the number of preparatory students from 82 to 58; a decrease of 27 preparatory students since last year and an increase of college enrollment of 16. This would seem to indicate that the ultimate desire of the trustees of Guilford College to eliminate the preparatory department in favor of a more specialized curriculum, is gradually being realized.

It is also interesting to note that Guilford county still holds the lead in the greatest number of students in college, the number this year being 80. Randolph county holds second place, with an enrollment of 33. Last year the Guilford county enrollment was 70 and the enrollment of Randolph county, 23. Each county shows an increase of 10 students. Alamance county follows next with an enrollment of 13.

A study of the statistics shows that the number of counties represented is 31. The number of students from outside the state is only seven this year, but three states, Virginia, Georgia and Florida, are represented.

A report of the religious registration shows a decrease in the numbers of Friends registered, the 112, of last year falling to an enrollment of only 96 this fall, showing a majority over the Methodist of only 19.

The following is an abbreviated statistical report of the denominations represented:

Friends, 96; Methodist, 77; Baptist, 16; Presbyterians, 14; Moravians, 3; Episcopalians, 3; Christians, 1; Universalist, 1; non-members, 17.

The prospect of new students indicates that there will be at least 10 more registrations next week, bringing the total up to about 240, an equal, if not larger enrollment, than any previous year.

Juniors Elect Officers

The junior class met for the first time this semester on Tuesday evening, Sept. 26. Although the loss of several members makes '24 the smallest class on the hill, the same class spirit that was born in the fall of 1920, was found to be still alive at this meeting. The following officers were elected and installed: president, Sam P. Harris; secretary, Hazel E. Richardson; marshal, Ruth Ragsdale.

Guilford Trustees Go to New York for College

Albert Cox, president of the Board of Trustees, and Professor Dudley Carroll, '07, also a trustee, have gone to New York to present the cause of Guilford College to some educational boards of the city.

Y. W. C. A. GIVES PAGEANT

Forty-five students joined the Y. W. C. A. as a result of a membership campaign and an effective pageant, presenting to the new girls the various phases of college life, which was given on the campus last Wednesday afternoon.

The pageant was enacted by a group of old girls under the direction of Vera Farlowe, chairman of the membership committee of the Y. W. C. A.

The pageant represented the visit of a representative of Guilford College to a home in the mountains of North Carolina, in which there is the mother, Mrs. Mitchell and six daughters.

In an attempt to interest the mother and daughters in college, the various activities of the student body are explained to them. During the explanation, girls costumed to represent the various organizations crossed the stage in order to impress the Mitchell family more vividly with the girls' activities.

The final episode of the pageant was the wedding, in which six high school girl graduates were united in the intellectual bonds of matrimony to Guilford College. Preceding the ceremony, the flower girl strewed the path of the bridal party with Guilfordians and college bulletins. The pastor, Rev. Eva Holder, performed the ceremony, requiring the six brides to be ever faithful and loyal to their college, and the groom to instruct and direct them in intellectual life.

After the pageant, a short social hour followed, during which refreshments were served.

Miss Robinson Speaks On Girls' Athletics.

The Young Women's Athletic Association met for the first time this semester on Friday afternoon, Sept. 29. A "peppy" yell for the association served as an introduction to the business of the meeting.

Miss Virginia I. Robinson, physical director, gave a brief talk on physical education. "Physical education is the basis of all education," said the speaker. "Although students come to the college for intellectual training, a strong intellect is worth little without a strong body to support it." "Minor bodily discomforts are not necessary," said Miss Robinson, "They are only the results of improper habits and modes of living. Proper physical training should safeguard against them and promote physical efficiency."

After the roll call and reading of the constitution, the tennis manager, Clementine Raiford, announced the new regulations concerning tennis this year. In order to give all a chance to participate in the game, no girl will be allowed to play over three hours in one week. This, however, will not affect many students, since one may still do all of her required exercise in that sport if she so desires. Several of the courts are already in condition, and plans are being made for the establishment of new ones. A new supply of rackets and balls have been purchased.

Hazel Richardson was elected as treasurer of the association.

WEDDING BELLS RING ON GUILFORD CAMPUS

Who Kissed the Bride?

On Saturday night, Memorial Hall was the scene of a most beautiful and impressive womanless wedding, when Mr. N. S. Hunter, of two hundred and thirty-eight advoirdupois, became the blushing bride of wilful feather-weight G. L. Morris.

The hall was gorgeously decorated with at least two dozen sprays of golden rod and an immense lighted bell over the altar added to the wedding effect. Mr. Kimrey, gowned in black lace over silver, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Just a-Wearying for You" in a rich and sonorous voice. John Reynolds, clad in pink taffeta and picture hat, sang "Believe Me, All Those Endearing Young Charms" in his most charming lyric soprano voice. Mr. Thomas sang in a caressing tearful contralto, "Love is What Makes the World Go Round."

To the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, dainty flower girls entered from the vestibule, strewing flowers in the path of the bridal procession. Four bridesmaids gowned in various shades of pink crepe media and carrying golden rod and evergreens made a varicolored semicircle about the Rev. Mr. J. G. Frazier, officiating clergyman. Mr. Kimrey, as dame of honor and Prof. Robert Dann, as maid of honor, entered from the left. Professor Dann wore a charming gown of mimosa crepe with touches of horrible blue and picture hat to match. Mr. Wakefield, tiny and cunningly clad in velvet colonial suit, bore the ring in the bowl of a huge lily.

The bride, weighing only two hundred and thirty eight, wore a beautiful dress of chesse satin trimmed with pearls with an overskirt of imported window lace. The bridal veil caught gently at the brow with orange blossoms and edged with crystal beads, made a regal picture of splendor and volume. The bride's bouquet was in large design of canna leaves and red peppers tied with streamers of cheese cloth and something else.

After the deadly wedlock had been solemnly sealed and every one who so desired had kissed the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Morris gaily tripped down the aisle to the melodious and thunderous strain of Mendelsohn's Recessional.

After the wedding a delightful reception was held at Founders Hall.

Admission to the nuptial ceremony was by ticket only. The proceeds go to the community Parent-Teachers' Association, to be used for the benefit of the Guilford graded school.

Faculty Changes Ruling

At the faculty meeting Friday evening, the average grade required for graduation was placed at 75 per cent.

This is doubtless welcome news to present and prospective students at Guilford College, for the former average grade required, 81 per cent, caused not a few qualms in many hearts.

Miss Frances Garner of N. C. C. W. was the guest of Lucille Moore, Sunday.
