Make Interesting Speeches

(From the Twin-City Sentinel)

The annual banquet of the Guilford College-Forsyth County Club was held at the Robert E. Lee hotel on Thursday evening, January 18th, at 7 o'clock. There was a large attendance, and a fine program of an informal nature, was carried out. Col. W. A. Blair presided as toastmaster. Among the visitors were representatives of the High Point club and other nearby points.

C. C. Smithdeal, president of the club, greeted the visitors, recalling the first annual banquet held just a year ago, and urged promotion of the organization with the purpose of making it an effective agency for the advancement of their Alma Mater in the years to come. There was a series of short talks recalling days and scenes at the old school, the names of members of the faculty and others connected with the school being affectionately referred to. Prominent among those were Dr. Hobbs, former president. Among those speaking were Walter F. Grabbs, of Bethania; C. S. Cude, Rev. Hugh Moore and others.

After joining heartily in the singing of the Guilford song, "Hail Dear Old Guilford," the banqueters heard a most inspiring talk by Prof. L. L. White, formerly principal of the Winston-Salem high school, but now a member of the Guilford faculty. Mr. White urged the loyalty of the alumni, showing that a strong backing is the hope of every college. Referring to the suggestion concerning the suspension of the preparatory department of Guilhe stated that although the preparatory department had trained

NEW GARDEN GIRLS GIVE BIRTHDAY PARTY

"Come down to Ko-Zee-In immediately after society, for we three girls of twenty wish you to have fun a plenty," was the way the invitations read which were received last Friday for the birthday party given in honor of Misses Ruth Levering, Mabel McBane and Cordia Thompson. Tea, wafers and fruit were served during the social hour while stories and jokes by each guest added to the merriment.

The invited guests were: Misses Annabel Thompson, Gladys Furrell, Alice Thompson, Margaret and Mildred Townsend, Ione Lowe, Margaret and Elizabeth Levering, Marion Ward, Rosa Elliot, Sallie Wilkins, Inez White, Elizabeth Brookshire, Lalah Hassel, Lalah Cox, Daisy Hobson, Olive Jenette, and Bertha Zachry.

RECITAL OF VOICE STUDENTS DELIGHTS AUDIENCE

Show Special Finish

The pupils of Professor James Westley White gave a voice recital Saturday evening, January 20th, in Memorial Hall. This was the first voice recital of the year and for a number who took part, the first time to appear before an audience at Guilford College.

The program, which was enjoyed throughout by a number of students and friends of the community was as follows:

1. (a) You, Frank H. Gray; (b) A Southern Song, Robert Batten—John Reynolds.

2. (a) Look Down, Dear Eyes, Howard Fisher; (b) The Lute in the Grass, Florence Turner-Malley—Mary Webb Nickolson.

3. (a) In the Afterglow, Frank H. Gray; (b) Proem; Faith, from Songs of the Desert; G. H. Clutsum—Frank Crutchfield.

4. (a) In My Garden, Claud Warford; (b) When Love Comes Clambring In, D. D. Slater; (c) The Return of Spring, A. Walter-Kramer—Vera Farlow.

5. (a) Sail, White Dreams, Anna P. Risher; (b) Peggy, Ralph Cox; (c) The Morning Wind, Gena Branscombe—John Gurney Frazier.

6. (a) Would God I Were the Tender Apple Blossom, (old Irish) arranged by Bibb; (b) My Lord, What a Mornin', (Negro spiritual) arranged by H. Burleigh; (c) Light of Mine Eyes.

SUNDAY SCHOOL GROWS WITH NEW YEAR

Since Christmas more interest is being shown in the college Sunday school. The attendance has also materially increased which gives encouragement to those who have been laboring to build up the school and make it one of the most worth-while things with which the student comes in contact.

Mrs. Perisho, who was the first superintendent, since her return has taken an active part in the work and is now a teacher of one of the classes.

Since the new hymn books purchased by the students, for use in chapel, can also be used in Sunday school, probably a more interesting song service will result.

Since the services both in the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., and in the Sunday school are all for the purpose of developing the religious life of the student, it behooves each student to be a faithful attendant at all these services. Many of the chapel talks recently have been to the same purpose of more fully developing the moral and religious as well as the intellectual side of life.

ELIZABETHAN PLAYERS PRESENT SHAKESPEARE'S MERCHANT OF VENICE

Pelletier in Role of Shylock is
Star of Cast

Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice" was creditably presented by the Elizabethan Players on Wednesday evening, January 17, in Memorial Hall. Pierre Pelletier as "Shylock" was the outstanding actor.

Although the performance of the "Merchant of Venice" did not equal the company's "Taming of the Shrew" as taken on tour last year, the performance as a whole was satisfactory. Mr. Pelletier's delineation of the crafty and revengeful old Jew was very effective. Mrs. Pelletier as "Portia" added much to the performance by her graceful acting and brilliant costumes.

Dramatically, the crisis of the play was spoiled by the indifferent acting of the interpreter of "Bessanio." The sombre trend was relieved by the few farcical scenes fortunately interspersed by Shakespeare.

The relief scene of the meeting of "Launcelot" and his father "Gobbo" and final scenes of the berating of the husbands because of the loss of the rings met with hearty applause from the audience.

SELF-REALIZATION IS AIM OF CHRISTIAN STUDENT

"The intangible spirit of Guilford" was the subject of Prof. Baker's talk as leader at Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening. "That spirit is not wholly the result of a great tradition, nor a rigid curriculum, nor the work of a few great educators" he pointed out.

"Because of the Guilford spirit, men and women who have graduated from Guilford have succeeded far better in life than others."

The main result seems to be that of full self-realization without egotism. As the features of this spirit we can notice "A" grades in college, the acquirement of confiding friends, and success after Guilford's portals are passed."

However, lack of expression, selfishness and laziness may be mentioned as the shortcomings of college students.

Nevertheless these characteristics are far more than counterbalanced by the better qualities which the college strives and succeeds in transmitting to the greater number of her students.

CLASS OF '25 ELECTS OFFICERS

Election of officers was the feature of the Sophomore class meeting held recently. Fred Winn was elected President for the spring term. Nellie Chilton, vice-president; Pansy Donnell, secretary; Lloyd Merriam, treasurer, and Sallie Wilkins, marshal, completed the list of officers. The usual delightful social hour followed the business session.

Prof. L. L. White's father was a visitor on the campus over Sunday.

SCRUBS DEFEAT OAK RIDGE AND PROXIMITY

Connor Shining Star Scores
Five Goals In Each Game

SCORES: 25—17; 29—15.

In a game that was filled with spectacular shooting, Guilford's scrubs triumphed over their heavy rivals from Oak Ridge. Every moment of the game was filled with keen thrills and excitement. During the first half of the contest, the score see-sawed from one side to the other. The whistle, that marked the half way station, found Oak Ridge leading by two points. In the last half, however, the scrubs set a pace with which Oak Ridge could not compete. Slowly but surely Guilford's scrubs drew away from their rivals, closing the fray with a 25 to 17 victory.

Individual honors for the visitors go to Flowe, left forward. He was in the fight to the finish. The outstanding star of both teams, however, was Connor, of Guilford. In speed, dribbling, distant shooting and basket ball tactics, Connor was easily superior to any man on the floor.

The scrubs as a whole deserve much credit for their good exhibition. Not only did they tag a defeat on Oak Ridge, but the following night they traveled over to Proximity "Y," and tamed that speedy bunch to the tune of 29 to 15. Connor for Guilford repeated his Friday night's performance by taking the individual honors of the game. However, Knox, of Proximity "Y" deserves mention. In this year's bunch of scrubs, Coach Doak has a powerful surplus on which to draw, in case of vacancies in the ranks of the regulars.

REPORTORIAL STAFF ELECTED FOR COMING YEAR

Reporters for the Guilfordian were elected by the four societies on Friday night, Jan. 19. These reporters will assume their duties on Feb. 1, and retain same for one year. This staff will act as directing body for the College publication, having in its authority to vote on the important details of the paper.

Those elected were:

Elizabeth Brooks, Sallie Wilkins, Maude Simpson, Philomatheans; Mary Cal Henley, Eva Holder, Sarah Hodges, Zata-sians; Fred Winn, Wendell Cude, James Howell, Websterians; Edward Holder, John Webb Cannon, James Joyce, Henry Clays.

These with Herbert Macon and Robert Marshall recently elected Editor-in-chief and managing-editor respectively, complete the student representation on the staff.

J. C. Penny, who has been confined to his room for the past week with the flu is improving some.

Bartimus Nicholson and Waldo McBane spent the week-end at their respective homes.

QUAKER QUINT BEING WHIPPED INTO FORM

FIRST GAME JANUARY 27

Not a minute is being wasted in the camp of Coach Doak's basketball warriors. Each night finds them going through care-offensive plays. To make the work-outs count for the most possible, the scrappy scrubs are pitted against the regulars, for thirty minutes of strenuous play.

Although last week end the scrubs proved themselves superior to the average basket ball team, yet, when they lock horns with the varsity, the odds are too great against them. With comparative ease the attack, led by the Fraziers, snakes its way through the scrub's defense, to cage many markers.

This promising power of the varsity, lends interest to the pair of games scheduled for the 27th, and 31st, of this month. Eagerly the followers of the locals await the coming of Lenoir's cage-tossers, for in this, the first college game, Guilford's strength can be measured. The game for the 31st, is a return match with the Greensboro "Y." Even though Guilford did defeat Greensboro in the first match, there is much interest centered around this return match. This is due to the fact that Greensboro "Y" has made many improvements, and has proved their ability as basketball players, by subduing the husky five from Wake Forest.

Just who Coach Doak will select, to wear the crimson and gray on the first appearance, on the local floor, is not definitely known. However, three berths on the team seem cinched. Those are the two forwards and one guard, the former positions going to J. W. Frazier and J. G. Frazier respectively, while the latter is occupied by T. Mackie. The best prospects for the remaining positions are: Thomas, Crews, Cummins and Connor.

GIRLS TRAINING HARD FOR ANNUAL CONTEST

The continued basket ball practice, for which the girls have been gathering semi-weekly has brought about a "peppy" and enthusiastic interest in the sport. More girls are coming out and harder playing is being done especially since the time for the annual contest between the old far but will do so soon.

Carrie Norman, Captain for the old girls, has not fully decided on her line-up yet. The new girls have not elected their captain so far but will do so soon.

Miss Edith Hedgecock spent the week-end at her home in High Point.

Miss Ruth O'Daniel, of Greensboro, was the week-end guest of Mary Webb Nicholson.
