GUILFORD COLLEGE, N. C., SEPTEMBER 20, 1923.

No. 1.

EIGHT NEW MEMBERS ON GUILFORD'S FACULTY

Gladstone Hodgkin and Miss Era Lasley Administrative Officers

Eight new members have been added to the Guilford faculty.

The English department will be directed by Prof. Lester C. Farris, of Amherst College. Professor Farris holds a Master's degree from Amherst, and is completing further advanced work at that institution. He will be assisted in the English department by Miss Elizabeth Parker, a recent graduate of Earlham, and a student of Columbia University. Miss Parker also takes charge of the girls' physical culture.

Prof. Milton C. Davis comes from Harvard University to teach Latin and German.

The department of biology receives two new members. Dr. M. B. Carleton, medical missionary from India, will be instructor in embryology. Doctor Carleton received his training at Amherst College. He has worked in the foreign missionary field in India for 40 years. The biology laboratory will be in charge of Mr. Ralph Landis, who was a student of Ashland College.

Miss Minnie Kopf will head the department of home economics this year. Miss Kopf is a graduate of Cornell College, Iowa.

S. Gladstone Hodgkin of the class of 1922 is business manager of the college, while Miss Era Lasley succeeds Miss Robinson as registrar.

Prof. Jesse B. Mowry, will be here January 1, to take up the department of Economics.

A NEW PAGE!

Following the present issue of the Guilfordian it is hoped that an additional sheet will be run, making the paper a six page weekly newspaper form of college publication. It is the intention of the editors to devote the new page to strictly literary talent as developed among the students. On this page will be printed the masterpieces of aspiring freshmen; the usual "Open Forum" articles; news letters; commentaries; news writing. It is hoped gossip and scandal as gathered from among the dear Guilfordians; short editorials; and in fact everything that is not thought to be on the lower scale or regular that this will be a medium for expression for all who wish to see themselves in print.

FOOTBALL WARRIORS ARE PREPARING TO INVADE TRINITY'S BATTLEGROUND

Coach Doak Teaching His Cohorts Bag of New Gridiron Tricks

For two weeks now Coach Doak has been having his football men packing the soil on Hobbs field in preparation for the first clash of the season with Trinity which takes place on the Methodist battlefield. So far the activity of the squad has been mostly of a toughening nature, drill in position and technique of the game. Coach Doak has been showing the pigskin artists some new tricks which he got while attending the football summer school at Notre Dame university.

Scrimmage will begin this week according to the mentor and will be held twice before Sunday. Then he next week will be almost all scrimmage tapering off in time to meet the sons of Trinity on the following Saturday.

The team that will probably line up in practice scrimmage posing as the varsity follows: ends, Fred Thomas and Charles (Block) Smith; tackles, Herring and Neese; guards, Cray Shore and Jack Harrell; center, Warrick. In the backfield will probably be found Captain McBane and Tom English as halfbacks, Paul King at quarterback and Woody fullback.

In the scrub team there are some pushers for the varsity and any line-up is apt to shift before the first battle. Tom English is at present punting for the varsity and he shakes a wicked boot.

MISSSES POLK, NOLES AND ROBINSON AT COLUMBIA

Miss Bessie V. Noles, for six years head of the department of economics at Guilford college left for New York on the 17th of September, to take up her studies at Columbia university. She will resume courses in her chosen field of home economics and work toward a master's degree.

During her residence in New York, Miss Noles will have as her roommates and fellow students at Columbia, Miss Mary Aline Polk and Miss Virginia I. Robinson. Miss Polk, who holds a master's degree from Leland Stanford University, will continue her studies with the idea of a doctorate in English. During Miss Polk's three years at Guilford she introduced many new features into the English department.

Miss Robinson, who was physical director for the girls during the past two years at Guilford, will take courses in art with the intention of obtaining a master's degree in this field of work. The three of them will remain in New York during the entire winter and quite possibly a part of the following summer.

Nature knows neither revenge nor piety.

So far as economic conditions will permit, a young man should be as careful selecting his employer as his school.

ENROLL TWO HUNDRED FORTY- THREE STUDENTS IN FIRST TWO WEEKS OF SCHOOL

Eight States Represented; Ninety Friends and Sixty-seven Methodists

BIGGEST IN HISTORY

In the first week of Guilford's year, 243 students have been registered and classified, the largest in the history of the college. Not only this, but of this group not any are purely preparatory students and very few carry anything but college work. This student body comes from eight different states and from 32 counties in North Carolina, Guilford leading with 88. Two hundred and thirty-five of the students hail from the Tar Heel state. Twelve denominations are represented, with the Friends leading with 90. The closest follower is the Methodist with 67.

The registration last year at this time was 228, 15 less than at present Guilford county has eight more enrolled this year than last. The Friends in attendance, however shows a decrease, falling from 96 to 90.

Other denominations follow with number representing it, Methodist 67, Baptist 18, Presbyterian 10, Methodist Protestant 8, Moravian 5, Reformed 3, Christian 3, Episcopalian 1, Lutheran 1, Church of Brethren 1, and Universalist 1. Thirty-five were affiliated with no church.

Counties follow with number represented from each: Guilford 88, Alamance 16, Randolph 15, Yadkin 11, Forsyth 15, Stokes 8, Rockingham, 7, Davidson 6, Perquimans 7, Surry 5, Montgomery 5, Chatham 4, Davie 4, Northampton 3, Moore 3, Iredell 2, Meclenburg 2, Wilkes 2, Rowan 2, and 1 each from the following counties, New Hanover, Caswell, Catawba, Beaufort, Staley, Duplin, Cabarrus, Edgecombe, Richmond, Hertford and Lee. States represented are, Ohio, Illinois, Missouri, Virginia, Georgia, Maryland, and Indiana.

Frank Casey Elected Vice-President A. A.

At a called meeting of the young men's athletic association, September 15, Frank Casey was chosen vice-president to succeed J. W. Frazier, and Thomas English was elected baseball manager to succeed James Diffee.

Kate B. Smith '19 Enters University of N. C.

Miss Kate Brittain Smith '19, who or two years was a member of the department of English at Guilford, as gone to Chapel Hill to enter the University of North Carolina for further work toward a master's degree. Miss Smith was awarded the Mawr scholarship at the completion of her studies at Guilford and following a year at this institute took further work at the University of Colorado.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS OPENING SOCIAL EVENT

Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. Very Successful in Entertaining Aew Students

The initial reception of the school year, for the old and new students, was given last Friday night in the library under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. Despite the rather cold and threatening weather promptly at eight o'clock the long line of boys and girls began to form outside together with many of the town people and old alumni. Quite a number of last year's class were present, and also Miss Smith and Miss Noles, of last year's faculty.

President Binford and Dr. Hobbs stood at the head of the receiving line, composed of the faculty members and their wives and welcomed the new students to the college. At the end of the line, small books and pencils were distributed and the informal part of the evening began—that of exchanging names, and generally getting acquainted. During this time the Glee Club gave several selections which were enjoyed very much by everyone.

The punch bowls outside served as a good inducement for stray thirsty couples, and the near space around them was generally congested. Other couples soon found seats around the walls nicely arranged for small tete a tete parties and a few of the more courageous ones braved the cold, and strolled out on the moonlit campus.

GUILFORD REPRESENTED BY FIVE AT BLUE RIDGE

Five Guilford men represented the Guilford college at the annual summer term of the Southern college for Y. M. C. A. at Blue Ridge, N. C., last summer. This was not the required number for a special table, so Davidson's five men joined with Guilford's, and their combined efforts made the dining-room ring with their college yells. Guilford was brought to the attention of hundreds of college men from all parts of the U. S. A. That she was favorably received by the new men, and that he held a warm spot in the hearts of the old, was manifested by the different college groups. Yet while these men were doing their utmost for Guilford they were receiving daily blessings that had personal value.

Each morning they arose early and observed morning watch, after which, they went to Bible study classes. At the close of these classes all students attending the conference assembled to openly discuss the problems that daily occur. After this, came the classes for the vocational students. The platform hour that followed was given over to addresses, which were delivered by some of the best speakers of the present day. This ended the morning activities. The afternoon was taken up with athletics, which consisted of, baseball, tennis, swimming, hiking, olley-ball, rowing, and golf. Each student was at liberty to select the

COLLEGE LOSES ONE OF BEST FRIENDS IN DEATH OF MISS JULIA S. WHITE

Closely Associated with Guilford and N. C. Friends for Twenty Years

With the death of Miss Julia S. White who died at her home here on August 20, both the college and community have sustained a great loss. For more than twenty years she has been closely associated with the college, having served in the capacity of librarian since 1901, until 15 months ago when ill health forced her to abandon the work. She was a well known figure on the campus and was recognized as a woman of many accomplishments and of charming personality. She was the beloved friend of the college and of all who came under her influence. Having a wonderful knowledge of and beautiful taste in literature, she was really fitted for the position of librarian and has always been not only a great help to the students but a great inspiration to them as well.

Miss White was born of the old Perquimans stock of Friends. Her early training was received at the old Belvidere Academy and at the age of 18 she graduated from the Westown boarding school near Philadelphia. She then spent four years at Guilford College, graduating here also, receiving her A. B. degree. Later she was a student at Bryn Mawr where she had won a scholarship, while there she specialized in mathematics and Biblical Literature.

After brief periods of teaching at Miss Nold's seminary in Louisville, Ky., and at Pacific College, Newburg, Oregon, Miss White came back to Guilford college and for some time was the efficient teacher of mathematics here. She was then absent from the college for a few years but again returned in 1901 and had
