

SOCIETY NOTES

Zatasians Welcome New Girls by Varied Program

A miscellaneous program was given by the Zatasian literary society Friday evening, Sept. 21st, which was a example to the new girls of the spirited work done in that society.

In the reading of "Laska," Margaret Levering exhibited her ability in dramatic expression and was rewarded by the strict attention of the entire society. Very appropriate for this meeting was the explanation by Hazel Richardson of what a year in society may mean to a college girl. She pointed out as two of the chief things a girl ultimately gets out of society, the feeling of sisterhood with a large group of girls and the ability to express one's self in public without embarrassment. The reading of Beulah Allen's selection "Girl" by O. Henry was also received with interest.

The two musical numbers of the evening, "Shepherds All" and "Maidens Fair" by Viola Tuttle and a vocal solo by Mary Webb Nicholson were quite entertaining.

Under miscellaneous business the following girls were received with hearty applause as members of the society: Priscilla Stuckey, Jonnie Conrad, Margaret Conrad, Elizabeth Harris, Ailene Beeson, Esther Ward, Katie Lambeth, Mary Frances Turner, Julia Wolff, Bessie Butler, Sarah Jennette, Norine Burkhead, TheMa Hill, Evelyn Neal, Maie Hollady, Alven Stone, Rosa Hobson, Inez Blanchard, Gertrude Adkins, Pomona Johnson, Lola Beeson, Olive Crow, and Isabel Cox.

Tell "Phil Ways to 23 New Society Members

For the benefit of the new girls, a "philomathean" program was given by the Philomathean literary society on Friday evening, September 21. This was fittingly begun by a greeting to Philomatheans by Kate Cooper, which was a welcome to both old and new members. The next number "What it means to be a Philomathean" by Bertha Zachary presented an accurate picture of the society and the place in holds in the college. "Philomathean Ideals" by Marie Beaman was a review of the customs, habits, and ideals which characterize the society.

The musical numbers of the evening were especially enjoyed, according to the enthusiastic applause. These were an instrumental solo, "Badinage" by Victor Herbert, played by Edith Hollowell, and a vocal solo, "You, Only You" by Louise Frazier.

After adjournment the society united with the Zatasians in an informal reception given in honor of the new girls and held in the parlors and porches of Founder's hall. Here for an hour music conversation and punch were enjoyed.

In this, the second meeting of the year, the Philomatheans welcomed into membership the following girls, Delphia Smith, Deborah Miriam Mendenhall, Elma Jones, Vesta Lineberry, Lucile Purdie, Olga Armstrong, Louise Holton, Laura Ballinger, Vida McCombes, Nellie Morris, Leora Sherrill, Geneva Friar, Ruth Maltass, Viola Odum, Chandos Kimery, Bessie

Medearis, Louise White, Connie Butt, Anna Finch, Allen Robertson, Annie Wagoner, Lena Marshburn, and Sarah Southerland.

Henry Clays Add Four to Roll; Two Reinstated

The Henry Clay literary society held its regular meeting in the Clay hall Friday night, Sept. 21. The program consisted of a debate, Resolved: That the Philippine Islands should be granted an immediate and unconditional independence. The affirmative was defended by R. R. Branson and J. O. Reynolds who drank out of the cup of defeat at the hands of W. W. Blair and J. B. Joyce who advanced the argument for the negative. The second number on the program was a reading by Thomas Holder which was a masterpiece judging by the applause he received.

The society was pleased to have with it two old Clays' namely: attorney Hobbs of Greensboro, and S. G. Hodgkin of Guilford. The society was also glad to welcome into membership, Paul Woody, Carson Thornburg, Rufus Smith and Harvey White. The former two were old Clays and were reinstated.

Five Join Websterian Society; Old "Webs" Talk

"Resolved: That the United States government should cancel all loans made to the Allies between April 6, 1917, and November 11, 1918," was the subject for debate in the Websterian Literary Society last Friday evening. In the spirited debate on this question Wendell Cude and Hershel Macon, the negative speakers, won the two-to-one decision of the judges over Thomas English and Fred Winn, who ably defended the affirmative.

Following the debate, Elton Warwick gave a very original and interesting talk on various amusing features of college life.

The society was glad to have a number of new men as visitors. Three former Websterians: Prof. L. L. White, Coach Robert S. Doak, and Mr. Fred Morris were present, and all gave inspiring talks, stressing the importance of literary society work in college, and urging the new men to join one of the literary societies.

The society was glad to receive the following men as members: James Andrew, Lexington; William Oscar Burgess, Burlington; Floyd Gray, Kernersville; Dan W. Ireland, Burlington; Duke McKaughn, Kernersville.

Hazel Richardson Gives "Friendly" Talk at Y. W.

"The Habit of Friendliness" was the topic discussed at Y. W. C. A. prayer meeting Thursday evening, by Hazel Richardson.

In her discussion of this subject, the speaker pointed out the way for every girl to be always cheerful and sympathetic, then showed how cultivation of this habit is a stepping stone to true friendliness. "In one's hands," she said, "lies her own salvation." In each there is a possibility for forming the habit of friendliness, and the essence of friendliness is love—an all embracing love that knows no bounds of social or racial prejudice.

"College girls," Miss Richardson said in conclusion, "are forming lasting habits and moulding future characters. Begin aright now."

Religion is Friendship Says Mr. Peele at Y.M.C.A.

"A wonderful opportunity exists at Guilford college for the formation of the finest kind of friendship," said Rev. Joseph Peele in his talk to Y. M. C. A. last Thursday evening.

He said that religion is simply friendship with God and man, and that a person's willingness to make sacrifice for others is the real test of his friendship. He cited Jesus as the greatest friend as He laid down his life for the world.

Mr. Peele maintained that a true friend can so point out a person's faults that he may remedy them.

"One must not compromise," said he, "with the things that are opposed to the kingdom of God." A person must keep a clean heart and mind and access to God if he would be a true friend.

Class of 1924 Elects William Blair President

Nineteen of the twenty-one members of the class of '24 met on the evening of September 18, in the first class meeting of the year.

The president, Marvin Shore, called the house to order and extended a welcome to the new members of the class, Misses Leora Sherrill and Louise Winchester.

The following new officers were elected: president, William Blair, secretary, Ruth Ragsdale, marshal Leora Sherrill, treasurer, Glenn Lassiter.

After the discussion of a few important business matters the class adjourned for a pleasant social home in which games and music were enjoyed.

Professor Dann Gives Address to Convention

Professor Robert H. Dann attended a Sunday School convention of the Friendship township at Pleasant Ridge on last Sunday and gave an address on "The Aims of Religious Education" to a large audience. Professor Dann has been appointed chairman of the township committee on Sunday School work. During the coming year Prof. Dann is planning to visit the different Quarterly Meetings in the Yearly Meeting in interest of Sunday School work.

Bright Prospects Ahead For Women's Athletics

Under the splendid supervision of the new physical director, Miss Parker, all branches of the Girls' Athletic Association are being systematically organized and prospects for a successful year seem unusually bright.

Already a large number of girls have gone out for baseball, and are manifesting a great deal of interest in this sport. Hikers are quite frequently seen out on the roads, and preparations are in progress for playing tennis at an early date. It is mainly due to the interest and enthusiasm of Miss Parker that there are such pleasing prospects for this year's accomplishments in girls' athletics.

Miss Virginia Galloway and Miss Ruth Stephens spent Sunday in Greensboro.

Miss Louise Holton spent Sunday at her home in Jamestown.
