

THE GUILFORDIAN

VOL. X.

GUILFORD COLLEGE, N. C. OCTOBER 26, 1923.

No. 6.

GUILFORD TAKES DEFEAT FROM LYNCHBURG TEAM ON HOME COMING DAY

Quakers Fail To Stop Virginia Fullback, "Mingo" Parker

4 TOUCHDOWNS SCORED

Last Few Minutes, Guilford Completes Four Consecutive Forward Passes

Before her Alumni student body, and many friends Guilford team met defeat at the hands of Lynchburg by the score of 25 to 0. Eager to return a victory on this the home-coming day, Guilford uncorked everything available but was met with strong opposition at every point. At times the Crimson and Gray warriors, spurred on by the loyal cheering of their backers, played the Virginians off their feet, and it would seem as if victory would be snatched from the wreck, but at this point Lynchburg would cut loose her double-barreled fullback, "Mingo" Parker, and Guilford's chances were no more.

Too Much Parker

At the feet of this player can be placed Guilford's defeat. Whenever yards were needed, Parker added them. To every first down gained by Lynchburg, "Mingo" donated his part, and that no small one. His special tactic was plunging the line, and by this method he added an average of five yards for each attempt. However his ability was not limited to this one phase, for in the second quarter he made a beautiful broken-field run of 60 yards.

"Too much Parker" could be written through the entire game. Guilford's line was able to hold against the other backs, and many times these were thrown for losses, but "Mingo" passed by like a whirlwind, and several times penetrated deep into Guilford's second line of defence, before he was stopped. He was unquestionably one of the most brilliant foot-ball players seen here in several seasons.

Guilford's Chance

Guilford's closest chance of scoring came when Block Smith caught a forward pass and raced to the five yard line. On the next play one of Guilford's backs was thrown for a ten yard loss. Again in the closing minutes of the game, the Quakers uncorked an aerial attack, in the hopes of adding a marker. Four straight forward-passes were successful, and sixty-five yards were won. However on the next pass, Clark, of Lynchburg, made a beautiful interception on his forty-five yard line. A long pass from Witt to Nottingham gave Lynchburg a touchdown in the last minute of play.

Honors for Thomas

Fred Thomas, for Guilford, heaped honors on his head. He was in almost every play, and was the only man to gain ground steadily. His beautiful tackling, line-plunging, running and passing places him above all, in honors, with the exception of "Mingo" Parker.

Defense Stars

"Block" Smith, Warrick, McBane, and Neece showed up exceptionally

(Continued on page 4)

Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh

The dramatic council is presenting its fifth semi-annual production at Memorial hall Saturday evening, November 24, 8 p. m. "Miss Bumpstead-Leigh" is a clever, brilliant comedy written by Harry James Smith, the author of "The Tailor-Made Man." A cast of a dozen of Guilford's best players produce a whirlwind of action through the whole two hours of the comedy's three acts.

Tickets are on sale Wednesday, November 14, at $1.00 each. All seats reserved. Mail orders will be filled in the order of their application by Edward M. Holder, Guilford College, N. C. Proceeds will be for the benefit of the Y. W. C. A.

COUNTRY CLUBS ON CAMPUS MEET AND ELECT OFFICERS

The County Clubs on the Guilford College Campus have recently been organized and the majority of them have elected officers and representatives to the Federation of Clubs.

Below is a list of some of the clubs with a personnel of the officers: Guilford College Community Pres., Frank Crutchfield; Sec., Edna Coble; Representatives to Federation of Clubs, John Cannon, Harriett Pringle.

Jamestown High School: Pres., John Reynolds; Sec., Cordia Thompson; Representatives, Gilmer Sparger, Annie Wagoner, Colfax, Friendship and Summerfield: Pres., Earl Cummings; Sec., Louise Winchester; Representatives, Wendell Cude, Geneva Highfill.

Forsyth County: Pres., Edward M. Holder; Sec., E. B. Parks, Jr.; Representatives, Elizabeth Cude and Raymond Ebert. Stokes County: Pres., Nell Chilton; Sec., Evelyn Neal; Representatives, James Joyce, R. Thomas.

Perquimans County and Hertford County: Pres., Vivian White; Sec., Viola Odom; Representatives, Sidney Winslow, Inez Blanchard.

Chatham and Lee Counties: Pres., Wade Lindley; Sec., Katie Cooper; Representatives, Frances Hodgkin, Ina Goldston.

Davie and Iredell Counties: Pres., Ola Nicholson; Sec., Sarah Hodges; Representatives, Ruth Hodges, Dorothy Taylor.

Moore and Duplin Counties: Pres., Carrie Norman; Sec., Mary Lou Wilkins; Representatives, Katherine Shields, Jewell Edwards.

Rockingham and Caswell Counties: Pres., Alice Thompson; Sec., Esther Ward; Representatives, Tarleton Thompson, James Thigpen.

Davidson County: Pres., Sam Harris; Sec., Mary Fitzgerald; Representatives, Reed Barbee, James Andrews.

Wayne County: Pres., B. Russell Branson; Sec., Ina Mixon; Representatives, Everett McBane, Oscar Burgess.

Out of State: Professor Milton C. Davis; Sec., Deborah Mendenhall; Representatives, Fred Winn, Beulah Allen.

Miss Louise Holton spent Sunday at her home in Jamestown.

Miss Laura Ballinger spent the week-end at her home in Pomona.

Miss Annie Wagoner spent the week-end at her home in Jamestown.

MRS. MARY ARMOR, SPEAKER OF NATIONAL REPUTE TALKS AT W.C.T.U. CONVENTION HERE

Mrs. Mary Harris Armor of Georgia, Chairman of the National Committee of the Women's Christian Temperance Union on Evangelism, who was the leading speaker of the W. C. T. U. state convention held here last week and who is accorded the foremost woman orator of America, spoke in the church Sunday morning before an enthusiastic audience.

The Happy Warrior

Taking as a basis Ephesians 6th chapter, verses 10-18, Mrs. Armor spoke on "The Happy Warrior." "The Happy Warrior," she said, "is one who fights for a righteous cause and such is the cause of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, in the fight for prohibition and the protection of the home." She pointed out that the reason for the early defeat of prohibition was because spiritual things are underrated. "But," she declared, "we are marching to victory so long as we are following our Invincible Leader, Jesus Christ who has never been defeated."

With Girdle of Truth

"The Happy Warrior" she next pointed out is armed with perfect equipment, that is, with spiritual weapons. The "breastplate of righteousness requires not self-righteousness but rather that one live right all the time keeping his life square, clean, and honest. The "girdle of truth" implies that men love the Lord God with all their mind. In connection with this she referred to the dangerous propaganda against prohibition now found in the leading magazines and pointed out that the wearing of the "girdle of truth" implies on the part of the wearer the strength to answer and help put down such propaganda. Referring to the injunction "Having your feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace," Mrs. Armour said, "Only the serene soul is strong," and continued, "The lack of peace causes us to lose out in the battle of life. Peace is dearer than joy or happiness and nothing can destroy or disturb it."

After the completion of the regular program, brief speeches of praise and encouragement of the sojourners were highly appreciated.

The warrior's "sword of the spirit" is the word of God and the reason, according to Mrs. Armour, that people do not know how to wield

(Continued on page 2)

GUILFORD HOME COMING DAY SEES ABOUT A HUNDRED OLD STUDENTS HERE FOR GAME

Attendants of Old New Garden Boarding School on Hand

"Home Coming Day" at Guilford on November 1, was a great success for those who attended. There were about one hundred old students who returned to the College to witness the football game between Lynchburg and Guilford and to attend the society meetings held that night.

The attendance was not as great as had been hoped by those in charge, yet in no way was the day discouraging. Those who attended, were enthusiastic in their praise of the spirit and good fellowship that existed between the old and present students of the college. Students from classes when Guilford was still a boarding school participated with those of the class of 1923 to make the day a great success. The Walsers, Zeb and Don, of athletic fame, were here to welcome Tom Zachary, now pitching for the Washington Nationals. Herbert Reynolds '93 exchanged reminiscences with S. G. Hodgkin Sr., who attended Guilford when the institution was New Garden Boarding School. Everyone met in good fellowship.

R. J. M. Hobbs Talks

The student body welcomed them all with unstinted enthusiasm. R. J. M. Hobbs, who spoke at the supper tendered the visitors after the game, paid a tribute to the student body for its great sportsmanship in the face of defeat on the athletic field and its welcome extended to those who had returned.

"Let me commend you," he said, "on the good spirit, the sportsmanlike attitude toward the victorious team, and let me assure you that the alumni is working and will work harder for a closer bond between those who have graduated and those who are now in attendance."

Since his return home he has written L. Lea White, again thanking him for the royal welcome and expressing the hope that "Home Coming Day" will be an annual affair.

Speaks of Athletic values

R. S. Doak, coach, spoke on the value of the Alumni using their greatest influence to get high school students who play football to come to Guilford.

Herbert Reynolds and Tom Zachary both touched upon the value of athletic training and the hope that Guilford football teams would go on to greater things.

President Binford's Speech

President Binford in reviewing the success of the day expressed the views of the college administrators and faculty.

"Next to the pleasure of going home and welcoming one's own children home," he said, "is the pleasure that we feel on seeing the students return to the college ground. It was a special pleasure to greet some who had not been with us for many years. The dis-

(Continued on page 3)

SEMI-ANNUAL DRAMATIC PRODUCTION GETS PAGE

No Change In Stage Property To Be Made During Evening

"Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh," the play to be presented by the Guilford College Dramatic Council on November 24, under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. comes apace. Details such as dress and make-up are now under serious discussion. The setting, which by the way remains stationary during the whole play, is being arranged to give the proper locations. The scene used in the conservatory scene of "The Art of Being Bored" and the drawing room scene of "Clarence" will be used with only a slight altering. There will be no property changes during the evening and this will eliminate any wait beyond two or three minutes between the acts.

It is about decided that Mary Lou Wilkins as Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh will wear a purple pan velvet gown with train to offset the value of her auburn hair. Marie Beaman will wear black, while Leora Sherrill will probably wear a dress of light shade to add to her piquancy.

Ruth Levering as the maid will wear what all maids do, a lace cap and quite becoming dress. Miss Levering is the flirt of the play and despite the fact that she is an employee in the house of Mr. Rawson, she sees no reason why she should not let the son of the house make love to her. Withal it is very interesting, she says to have love made to you.

Fred Winn, strictly speaking is the villain of the play and must flirt with the maid and make serious and romantic love to Violet, the rebellious daughter of the house of Sayles. French Smith is the romantic lover of the play, marries the marriageable daughter of Mrs. Sayles, and appears very love sick at the proper time. Tom English as the irate father does quite a bit of swearing up and down the stage, much to the embarrassment of his family and enjoyment of the audience.

Miss Mary Webb Nicholson spent Sunday at her home in Greensboro.

Miss Bessie Phipps spent the week-end at her home near Greensboro.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Coltraine of Salisbury were on the campus to see their daughter Hazel Coltraine.

Messrs. William Downs and John Andrews were callers on the campus Sunday afternoon.