HIGH SCHOOL ORATORS AND SPRINTERS TO MEET AT GUILFORD APRIL 26

Plans for Annual High School Day Are In Hands of L. L. White

Saturday, April 26, has been chosen for the 14th annual Guilford high school day. Professor L. L. White, who is in charge of the day, has invited 147 high schools to participate in the track events for boys and the recitation and declamation contests for the boys and girls.

The committee under the direction of Professor White is already preparing for the entertainment of the visitors. Saturday morning will be taken up with the preliminaries for the speaking contests while Saturday afternoon will be full of exciting athletic events. The team winning the most points in the athletic events will be presented with a silver loving cup, while the winning declaimer will receive a gold medal. The winner of the recitation contest will be awarded a set of books.

There are in all thirteen possibilities for a track team to win. The events are: 440 yard dash; 220 yard dash; 100 yard dash; 1/2 mile run; 1 mile run; mile relay; running broad jump; running high jump; low hurdles; pole vault; 12lb shot put; discus and javelin throw.

In the evening a reception will be held for the high school students in the library and at Founders Hall.

This promises to be the biggest high school day that has yet taken place on the Guilford campus.

Screen Version "David Copperfield" Entertains

Humor, pathos, and delightful mush made up the Saturday night movie at the college, the screen version of "David Copperfield." The film was a faithful reproduction of parts of the novel, but whole threads of the plot were left untouched. Students doing parallel reading in English appreciate that comparatively little of any of Dicken's classics could be treated in seven reels.

TEAPOT DOME QUESTION REVIEWED BY PERISHO

Dr. Elwood Perisho, in his chapel talk of February 11, described the Teapot Dome situation as one of the burning questions of the day. He stated that it was at the suggestion of ex-secretary of the navy Josephus Daniels that President Wilson ordered a survey of the oil fields to be made in order that the best oil region of the country might be reserved for the use of the navy. The result was that in accordance with the geological survey recommendation ex-President Wilson declared the Teapot Dome Oil region a National reservation to remain forever for the use of the American navy.

However in 1922 the oil reserve was turned into the hands of sec-

SENIORS DELVE INTO LAB AND LIBRARY FOR THESES

Class of '24 Begin Work On Dissertations for Bachelor's Degree

Senior table discussions have recently assumed an air of literary browsing and scientific prowling unheard of in the annals of the dining room. No more jokes; no more juggling of intimate remarks! The seniors are taking Aristotle with their pancakes and will soon give Darwin the cold shoulder in the light of late research.

For the season of the thesis has arrived; the dissertation which marks the close of four years of study, and which will crown with glory the head of the writer, and clothe his intellect in sheepskin forevermore.

Three of the seniors have chosen subjects pertaining in particular to North Carolina. Elizabeth Brooks is collecting material on "Authors of North Carolina," and somewhat related to this subject is that selected by Marie Beaman and entitled "Contemporary Poets of North Carolina." Leora Sherrill's topic "North Carolina Folk Lore" also sounds suggestive of an interesting thesis.

Louise Winchester, who is majoring in mathematics, is writing "The History of Arithmetic." Some phase of Home Economics will be dealt with by Virginia Osborne

LENOIR-GUILFORD TO DEBATE IMMIGRATION

The Lenoir-Guilford forensic contest will take place probably on April 15. At a recent meeting of the inter-collegiate debating council it was decided that the query "Resolved, that the sixty-eighth congress should re-enact the three percent immigration act for a period of two years," should be debated. Tryouts will be held on February 28; judges selected to choose the debating team from the contestants are Prof. F. C. Anscombe, Dr. E. C. Perisho, and Prof. R. H. Dann.

The meeting of Guilford and Lenoir in a debate this year will make the first meeting of these two colleges of North Carolina, who stress to a large extent debating among their students.

J. W. BAILEY INSTITUTES WOOLMAN ESSAY PRIZE

J. W. Bailey, democratic candidate for governor of North Carolina, has offered a prize of ten dollars to the Guilford student who before April 1, 1924, writes the best essay on "The Influence of John Woolman."

Mr. Bailey stipulates that each contestant must read John Woolman's Journal. The condition imposed by the college is that there must be at least five contestants.

Two Wins and a Loss in Home Games With Strong Opponents

QUAKERS IN FINE FORM Close Scores and Hard Playing Mark Each Game

Guilford cagers added two more victories and one defeat to its season's record during the last week, coming out at the big end of the score with N. C. State and the William and Mary Club but falling before the attack of the smooth running Wake Forest machine. Each game was marked by hard playing and close scores. The Quakers were in good form and gave their supporters a demonstration of high class basketball. Scores were: N. C. State 28-35; William and Mary 31-35; Wake Forest 45-35.

The game with the Tech men was a hair raising scrap. At no time during the game were the scores more than six points apart, the Quakers holding the lead most of the time. The Tech men threw a scare into the Guilford sidelines in the beginning of the second half, when they saged a rally that gave them a temporary lead of six points.

The line-up and summary: Guilford Pos. N. C. State

William and Mary
A rally in the last two or three minutes of the game, defeated William and Mary to the tune of 35-31. The Indians led during most of the last half by a margin of eight points until J. G. and J. W. Frazier began to pierce the hoop and put their team in the lead. J. G. Frazier as usual led the scoring of both teams.

CAMPAIGN TO END WITH ALUMNI SUBSCRIPTIONS

Recent Donations Bring Goal In Sight. Alumni Subscribed 30 per cent. Strong

Dr. Perisho, director of the campaign, and his associates are vigorously pushing their work with the hope of reaching the goal of their efforts at an early date. Last week two thousand dollars came in from Greensboro and several thousand from Philadelphia. A few more thousand will be secured here and there but for the most part the success of the campaign awaits the action of the alumni—upon those who have received the benefits of the College.

Now as never before the future of the College awaits upon its graduates and former students. They have it within their power easily to save the day if all will act together in this critical hour. Many have responded, some in a really sacrificial manner, but many have not yet put their shoulders to the wheel.

Forty have sent their subscriptions in response to the recent letters sent out. These forty have subscribed over $6,000.00, which is an average of $150.00 for each subscriber. The average for the 80 who subscribed before the letters were sent out was over $400 each. The alumni have now given nearly $40,000.00, but this represents only about 125 out of the more than 400 graduates.

BASKETBALL QUINT TO ENTER STATE TOURNAMENT

The Guilford College basketball team will take part, with six others, in the state championship tournament which is to be held in Raleigh, March 6-8. The tournament will be under the direction of North Carolina State College Athletic Committee.

The competing teams come from the seven leading colleges of the state, namely: Guilford, State, Carolina, Wake Forest, Davidson, and Elon. Three games of the series will be played on the first night, March 6. The odd team which did not play the first night and the three winning teams will play on the second night, March 7 and the two winning teams will play for the championship on the third night, March 8.

CLASS OF 1926 ELECTS SPRING TERM OFFICERS

At a regular meeting of the Sophomore class, Tuesday evening, February 12, the following officers were elected for the spring term: president, Harvey Dinkins; secretary, Elton Warrick; marshal, Otis Burke.

The class editor of the annual, Mr. Dinkins, reports that the sophomore material is ready to go into the hands of the Editor-in-chief.

MISS RUTH FRY, HEAD ENGLISH FRIENDS RELIEF WORK, VISITS COLLEGE

Speaks in Chapel, of Economic Conditions of Germany and Russia

Miss Ruth Fry, executive secretary English Friends' Relief Work, spoke to the students and faculty at the chapel period, Thursday, February 14.

Miss Fry mentioned the beginning of this relief work in 1914 in France recalling the difficulties in carrying on an international task like this.

"In 1916," said Miss Fry, "relief work was commenced among the Polish refugees who were fleeing from Russian Poland into interior Russia. Terrible suffering was experienced by these refugees, many of whom went to the district of Samara in Russia. By 1920 the French people required less care than did others, so work in France was transferred to other countries, chiefly Russia and Germany."

Miss Fry stated that she helped carry on the work in Russia for two years. She told of the failure of two consecutive harvests in 1920 and 1921 and the terrible famine that followed.

"By the aid of the American English Relief Corps," said Miss Fry, "350,000 persons were fed. At the present time, although there was a fair harvest in 1923, a malarial plague is raging, which incapacitates the people for work. Nearly all the farm animals were killed and eaten during the famine period, but the relief workers were able to purchase 1100 horses at a price of five dollars each, thereby to some small degree aiding the situation."

"The Polish refugees, on returning to their homes found their villages destroyed. They are now living in caves and old army dug-outs. There are many Polish orphans."

"In Germany, conditions are worse than they were in 1923. The situation is depressing and overwhelmingly sad. It is hardest to

DR. HOBBS LEADS MEN'S THURSDAY PRAYER MEETING

Dr. L. L. Hobbs was leader of the Young Men's Christian Association last Thursday evening.

The theme of Dr. Hobbs' discussion was the nearness of God to man. He said he could not imagine man and God being separable, and for man to be conscious of God's nearness he must obey all His great commandments. He quoted Jesus' answer when the lawyer asked him what was the great commandment: "Love the Lord thy God with all thy heart with all thy mind and with all thy soul and thy neighbor as thyself."

The speaker stressed the importance of one's loving his neighbors, as it is written: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me."
