

THE GUILFORDIAN

VOL. X.

GUILFORD COLLEGE, N. C. MARCH 26, 1924

No. 23.

ZATASIAN SOCIETY ENTERTAINS CLAYS

Zays Give Novel Egyptian Program at Inter-society Banquet

8th BIENNIAL RECEPTION

The splendor of old Egypt, the Egypt of Pharaoh and Tut, was brought to life and accurately portrayed by the Zatasians, royal entertainers of the Henry Clays, at the eighth biennial reception of the Zatasian literary society last Friday evening.

As the guests entered Memorial Hall they were given miniature Egyptian pyramids in purple and white, complimentary to the Henry Clay colors, on which were carved an Egyptian program and Egyptian menu, remaining to be translated as the evening progressed.

The prologue to the program, by Geneva Highfill, was an excellent original lyric in blank verse, which led the attention back three thousand years to the Nile Valley, and gave the correct Egyptian atmosphere for the program.

"Court Recreation" revealed a dazzling princess, played by Mary Webb Nicholson, reclining in a luxurious apartment where attendants, Sarah Jinette and Jennie Howard Cannon, anticipated her wants, and where the maids of the court gave her novel entertainment. This was a graceful court dance led by Ruth Stephens, in which Julia Wolfe, Ruth McCollum, Inez Blanchard, Alvin Stone, Gertrude Atkins, and Grace Kimrey took part. All were in quaint, characteristic costume.

The "After the Banquet Scene" from Eber's "Egyptian Princess," was read by Margaret Levering as the second number on the program. Miss Levering's interpretation of the scene was effective, and her enunciation of the formal court language was good.

The third number, Friml's "Egyptian Dance," was well played by Mildred Townsend. Beulah Allen gave an original paper entitled "Digging Back 3000 Years," which depicted the pleasurable work of the explorers of Tut-Ankh-Amen's tomb.

The final number consisted of local prophecies given by three characteristically costumed mummies, impersonated by Carrie Norman, Jewell Edwards, and Margaret

(Continued on page 4.)

ELWOOD C. PERISHO SAYS:

"Every week the Guilford Campaign comes closer and closer to its final goal. It is the wish of the College that the graduates may quickly make their final pledges.

"The college is justified in placing its financial hope for the success of the campaign in the members of the Alumni Association and former students.

"This hope is not without proper justification for none of the friends of Guilford have received so much real value from the institution as those who have attended the college.

"As quickly as the returns are in from the graduates and old students there will be given an opportunity for the present student body to have the pleasure of giving the last push in bringing the campaign to a successful close."

COLLEGE CONFERENCE MEETS AT GREENSBORO

President Binford Presents Report on College Entrance Requirements

The North Carolina College Conference held its meeting at the O. Henry Hotel, Greensboro, N. C., on March 21 and 22. At this meeting, composed of North Carolina College Presidents, many new matters concerning rules and regulations of colleges in this state were brought up by the various committees appointed at a previous session.

Two questions which provoked much discussion were the recommendations regarding the control of inter-collegiate athletics in North Carolina Colleges and the question of uniform entrance examinations for non-accredited high school graduates.

The recommendations regarding inter-collegiate athletics were adopted with some modifications.

Dr. Raymond Binford, Chairman of the Commission on uniform entrance examinations presented the following report:

"That the examination be held in June in the office of the county superintendent in each county where such examinations are desired by students, and that a fee of $5.00 be charged.

"That a comprehensive examination be given in algebra, plane geometry, history and whatever language and sciences the student may have had.

"That no college admit a student who does not pass the examination in three years of English, two of mathematics, two of foreign language, one year of history, and seven years' work in addition to this.

"That, the colleges, may conduct entrance examination at the openings of their sessions, charging a fee of $5.00."

The report presented by President Binford was adopted; however, it will not go into effect until 1925.

G. E. SCORES SUCCESS AT CHURCH OYSTER SUPPER

The St. Patrick's day oyster supper held by the Guilford Christian Endeavor society in the basement rooms of the church on Tuesday evening from 5 to 8 o'clock was decidedly a success.

Although the supper, which in itself consisted of a delicious menu of fried oysters, oyster stew, potato salad, rolls, saltines, and coffee, was the main attraction, there were other important features which made it the success it was. The main dining room was decorated in that shade of green peculiar to St. Patrick, and the booths and tables were made to harmonize in green and white. Then there were little private rooms, beautifully decorated, for admittance to which couples had to pay ten cents. Needless to say, many disappointed couples were driven from their inviting doors, and someone was heard to remark that a fortune could be made if there were a dozen more of these rooms at the disposal of the

(Continued on page 3.)

ALGIE I. NEWLIN, GUILFORDIAN TO BE ON 1924-25 FACULTY; SAMUEL P. HAWORTH SECURED

Mlle. Hoffmann Receives Teaching Position at Columbia

Several changes have been made in the faculty list for the coming year. Three new members have already been added to the Guilford faculty, and there are several more that have not been definitely decided upon as yet.

Madame Bolete de Duras Hoffmann will be head of the Romance language department, taking the place of Mlle. Hedwig H. Hoffmann. Mlle. Hoffmann is planning to go abroad this summer, accompanied by her mother, Madame Hoffmann, and Miss Elizabeth Parker, to gather material for her doctor's degree. After October she will be a member of the Banard faculty, at Columbia University. She will probably return to Guilford in the fall of 1925.

Miss Alfred C. Elliott, a class mate of Mlle. Hoffmann and a talented linguist will assist Madame

(Continued on page 3)

MR. PEELE READS "ENOCH ARDEN" MISS BYRD PLAYS STRAUSS ACCOMPANIMENT

On Wednesday evening, Rev. Joseph H. Peele gave, before one of the largest audiences assembled in Memorial Hall this year, a reading, Tennyson's "Enoch Arden," with musical accompaniment played by Miss Beatrice Lynn Byrd.

Mr. Peele, who was Professor of English here for several years, and who has studied Oratory for a number of years, proved his ability as a reader. If "Enoch Arden" had not been loved before, it is now, for the reader was so much in sympathy with the poem that the story was burned into the memory of all present, as it was interpreted by the expression of Rev. Peele. He was particularly effective in the description of the beach, the initial setting of the poem, and in the dramatic scene between Anne and Philip.

The musical setting was written by Richard Strauss, conductor of the Royal Opera, Berlin. Mr. Strauss showed his understanding and sympathy by his translations of the vital parts of the story into music. Miss Byrd added much to the reading by her able accompaniment.

GUILFORD TRACK TEAM TO ENTER TOURNAMENT

The Guilford track team will enter the meet to be held at Chapel Hill, April 12. This is a quadrangular affair, including as contestants Carolina, Wake Forest, Elon and Guilford. This four-fold arrangement gives the smaller colleges a chance of capturing some events. Guilford is not expecting to enter a full team in every event.

The cinder path is in daily use now, and it is the opinion of the track mentor that the Quakers will make no mean showing at the University.

GLEE CLUB SUCCESSFUL IN TWO INITIAL CONCERTS

Pleasant Garden and Vienna High Schools Welcome Guilford Musical Club

The Glee Club in excellent form played twice last week to appreciative audiences. Despite the heavy rain, many came to the concert at Pleasant Garden, Thursday evening, while at Vienna High School the whole country side "turned out" to hear the joy makers. There were about six hundred persons present.

At Pleasant Garden the string sextet and the humorous reading by Joyce gained the roaring applause of the small audience while the Robin Hood quartet was much appreciated.

Rocking the house with applause, the six hundred in the audience at Vienna, Saturday night, provided the most appreciative listeners that the Guilford entertainers have faced this year. Between numbers one could hear bursts of favorable comment. There was no number which escaped a call for encore. The house drank in Schubert's "Ave Maria," the violin solo played by Pamplin, and when the last strain had died away spontaneously called for another rendition.

The humorous reading by Joyce set the house reeling with laughter, while the quartet had to respond to several encores.

The wooden soldeirs in their mechanical parade and with their unique costumes charmed the audience with their numbers.

(Continued on page 4)

FRAZIER AWARDED GOLD BASKETBALL BY SENIORS

Team Receives Stars and Monograms at Close of Record Season

Amidst cheers from the students John Gurney Frazier, one of the best forwards in North Carolina, and mentioned in one instance as a candidate for the All South Atlantic basketball team, walked to the front of the student body Friday morning at the chapel hour and received a miniature gold basketball, as a gift from the senior class, at the hands of Prof. L. L. White, graduate manager of the Athletic Association.

John Gurney has played his last basketball as a Guilford student, and the senior class and student body took this opportunity to express their thanks for the years of hard and brilliant work he has put out on the Guilford quints.

Mr. White then delivered the monograms and stars for meritorious service in basketball. J. W. Frazier and Fred Thomas received stars, indication of over one year's service. Earl Cummings, Rufus Smith, and Henry Tew received G's, this having been their first year of service on the team. To the following men Mr. White extended the thanks of the association for good work on the scrub line-up: Richard Ferrell, French Smith, Gilmer Sparger, Gray Herring, Albert Smith, and John Reynolds.

NEW HORSEHIDE RECRUITS HELP MAKE FAST BASEBALL TEAM

McBane, Lindley, Ferrill, Smith, Frazier, Smithdeal may get Varsity Berth

Another week of baseball practice has revealed to Coach Doak some hitherto undiscovered baseball material. Clyde McBane from Whitney High School of southern Alamance finds favor in the eye of the Guilford baseball mentor as a bright prospect for strengthening his pitching staff. McBane is a raw recruit, but his pitching for the scrubs against the varsity last week proved that he had the "makin's" of a pitcher.

Wade Lindley, practically a "dark horse" as a catcher, is showing up well behind the bat. He is a strong candidate, and is giving Rick Ferrell, the present back stop favorite, a close race for this position. Lindley hails from Liberty, and this is his first year under Doak's tutelage.

Rufus Smith's appearance on the mound for the scrubs has upset no previous "dope" concerning his prowess as a pitcher. His left-handed curves have retired to the bench a number of the hard hitting varsity players by the three-swing route.

Either J. W. Frazier or French Smith is expected to join "Block" Smith and Frank Smithdeal in the outfield. Charles Frazier will take his brother's old place at the third station.

These new finds, together with the old regulars, are expected to open the season against Trinity at Durham, April 2, with a stiff line-up.

Physics Prof: "You see, Class, when you get this in your head you will have it in a nut shell."

BASEBALL SCHEDULE, SEASON OF 1924.

April 2	Trinity at Durham.
" 3	Carolina at Chapel Hill.
" 4	N. C. State at Raleigh.
" 5	Wake Forest at Wake Forest.
" 8	W. S. League at Winston-Salem.
" 10	Greensboro League at Guilford.
" 11	Lenoir at Hickory.
" 12	Davidson at Davidson.
" 15	N. C. State at Guilford.
" 17	Greensboro League at Greensboro.
" 18	High Point League at High Point.
" 19	High Point League at High Point.
" 21	Elon at Greensboro.
" 23	Atlantic Christian College at Guilford (pending).
" 26	Lenoir at Guilford.
" 28	Lynchburg at Lynchburg.
" 29	Hampden-Sydney at Hampden-Sydney.
" 30	Richmond University at Richmond.
May 1	William and Mary at Williamsburg.
" 2	Richmond Blues at Richmond (pending).
" 3	Randolph-Macon at Ashland (pending).
" 6	Elon at Elon (pending).
" 9	Hampden-Sydney at Guilford.