

Guilford Students Subscribe Over $8,000

Juniors Make First 100 Per Cent; Seniors Lead In Amount Given

Three Classes and Preps Subscribe 100 per cent Strong; Freshman Campaign Not Complete

The students of Guilford College went over the top in their part of the endowment campaign by subscribing $8,346.50, or over $42.00 per subscriber. The Campaign was launched Monday morning at Chapel with speeches from class representatives.

The Junior Class started things with a rush by announcing at the outset that they had already secured a 100 per cent subscription of $2,050.50 from the class. The Senior Class immediately accepted the challenge and before the day was over had equalled the Junior subscription with $2,071.00 and class percentage. The class leaders from the preparatory department, Freshman and Sophomore Class started action at once, each attaining a 100 per cent subscription from their members.

President Binford opened the Student Campaign by a speech at chapel Monday morning. He expressed the deep appreciation for the active interest manifested in the welfare and development of the college by the present student body. He briefly presented the campaign in general to the entire student body and then introduced the class speakers who by their fine college spirit and enthusiasm stirred up the interest of the entire student body in the endowment campaign.

John Webb Cannon, '24, Robert Marshall, '25, Mary Lou Wilkins, '26, James Thigpen, '27, and Kenneth Neese of the preparatory department, were enthusiastic concerning what their respective classes had done or were going to do for Guilford.

The gift of the Junior Class was the first evidence of a definite action

PLANS COMPLETED FOR GREATEST COMMENCEMENT IN HISTORY OF GUILFORD

Final plans for the Commencement program are being made up, with noted speakers for the Baccalaureate services and elaborate plans for the "Home Coming Day" on June 2. The Commencement schedule will open on Saturday night, May 31, with a production of Gilbert and Sullivan's comic opera, "The Mikado," in costume, and will close with an address by Doctor Rufus M. Jones, of Haverford College, Tuesday, June 3.

Dr. J. W. Kesler of Vanderbilt, will deliver the Baccalaureate sermon on Sunday, June 1. Doctor Kesler is nationally known as a theologian and a lecturer and has won for himself a distinctive place at the annual Blue Ridge Conferences, exercising a great influence on all who have come in contact with him by higher vision.

Monday morning will usher in the much heralded and long awaited "Home Coming Day." The festivities of the day will start with a production of a pageant by the graduating class. The pageant was written by Miss Josephine Rhoades, for many years head of the music department at Guilford. The pageant will depict the various stages of development of Guilford. The final scenes have been added by John Webb Cannon and Elizabeth Brooks members of the Advanced Composition Classes.

ANNUAL FACULTY-SENIOR RECEPTION AT FOUNDERS

The Senior Class was delightfully entertained by the faculty last Wednesday evening. Students' Parlor, Faculty Parlor and the front hall at Founders were decorated with profusion of dogwood. The color scheme of green and white was carried throughout the evening.

Miss Lasley and Miss Ricks had charge of a poem writing contest for the entertainment of the guests. The directions for the contest were to address a poem to the person sitting next you. Leora Sherrill's sonnet was judged to be the best of the love lyrics submitted and Prof. Milton C. Davis delivered the prize, an attractive box of Whitman's chocolates.

After mating for partners the guests were treated to an ice course followed by coffee, mints and almonds.

Miss Ardena Jackson spent the week-end with her parents.

GLEE CLUB GIVES MASTERLY PERFORMANCE BEFORE LARGE AUDIENCE AT HOME CONCERT

Costume Features, Club Chorales, and Solos Constitute Well Balanced Program.

BY LUCILLE PURDIE, '27

Pep! That one word, probably more than any other, describes best the performance of the Guilford Glee Club given at Memorial Hall last Saturday evening. And with pep as the chief ingredient, a remarkable mixture of quality, character and genius resulted. Not only was the Glee Club itself full of pep; the audience, the majority of which was made up of college students, was enthusiastic to the last degree. This enthusiasm first proclaimed itself when the curtain rose, with a spot-light playing on the silver cup which the Guilford Glee Club won at Durham in the State Inter-collegiate Glee Club contest.

The program could not have been presented more effectively. Appropriate spot-lights were thrown on the stage, and some of the numbers were given in costume.

The individual numbers were very well given. Least, but by no means last in importance, was Mr. James Joyce, who gave one of his popular

GLEE CLUB WINS SILVER CUP IN DURHAM CONTEST

"Parade of Wooden Soldiers" Awarded First Honors Among Specialties

With its accurate reproduction of the "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers," from "Chauve Souris", the Guilford Glee Club won first honors in the Specialty number of the inter-collegiate glee club contest conducted under the auspices of the civic clubs of Durham at Trinity College, May 1.

Three handsome silver cups were awarded in the contest, the one won by Guilford for the Specialty number, one by the University for the best rendition of the glee club song, and one by Trinity for the best quartet. Guilford, the University, Wake Forest and Trinity were entered in the contest. The specialty and quartet selections were left to the choice of the club; the Contest song was Bach's "Grant Us to Do With Zeal."

More than 100 voices, representing all the glee clubs, joined in singing "America," prior to the contest, and Buck's "On the Sea" in conclusion of the program. Dr. Paul Weaver, of the University, directed the ensemble singing.

JUNIORS AND SENIORS BANQUET AT COUNTRY CLUB IN GREENSBORO

Unique Toasts on Theme "Good Luck to Class of '24"

ROBERT MARSHALL PRESIDES

The annual Junior Senior Banquet was held on Friday evening, May 9, at the Greensboro Country Club. It was easily the most brilliant affair of the season, and the Junior Class carried it on in a manner which has not been equaled in many years.

The name of Robert R. Marshall is probably the out-standing one in the evening's personages. As toast master Mr. Marshall kept the 66 people in a happy frame of mind for three hours. His remark were very clear and his introductions to the speakers "hit the nail" on the head.

The theme for the evening was "good luck to the class of '24." It was most tastefully carried out in the "luck symbols" that were used during the program. Mr. Marshall kept the speakers keyed up by leaving the order of speaker's in spite of printed order, to chance or "luck."

The favors were attractively done in the senior class colors, purple and gold, and were decorated with a four leaf clover. Another good luck symbol.

Another luck symbol started the dinner when the grape fruit was brought in served on a large paper four-leaf clover.

Toasts were responded to in the following order: "Rabbits' foot" William W. Blair; "Fairy Stone."

Hampden-Sidney and Wake Forest Win From Guilford By 1 Point Margins

April 28—Guilford 9; Lynchburg 0.
April 29—Guilford 2; Hampden-Sidney 3.
May 1—Guilford 4; William and Mary 1.
May 2—Guilford 4; Wake Forest 5.
May 10—Guilford 7; Hampden-Sidney 0.

The Quaker nine split 50-50 on its tour of last week by winning from Lynchburg and William and Mary, and losing to Hampden-Sidney and Wake Forest.

The Quaker lads played sterling baseball in every game. Burge and R. Smith, two of coach Bob's dependable hurlers, twirled two games each of these four tilts, and each pitched a type of baseball of the highest order. Burge retired fifteen men in his two games by the three-swing method, while Smith turned back fourteen in his two games. C. Frazier came back with the highest batting average of the trip. This short third sacker smacked the pill for an average of .500.

Quakers Shut Out Lynchburg

The Quakers trounced Lynchburg College by a score of 9-0. Guilford's sluggers grabbed the game in the first two innings by scoring eight earned runs.
