FOOTBALL WARRIORS ARE PREPARING TO INVADE TRINITY'S BATTLEGROUND

EIGHT VARSITY MEN RETURN TO LINE-UP; WHITE OF HIGH POINT SHOWS ABILITY

Coach Robert Doak is again rounding his fighting Quakers into shape for the coming football season. Eight men of last year's squad are back again submitting themselves to Coach Doak's hard drill preliminary to opening game with Trinity College on October 4. There are excellent prospects for the vacant positions and by October 4, Guilford should have an iron muscled eleven which will be ready for the opening battle of the year. The old men returning are: Harrell, "Block" Smith (captain), Herring, Frazier, Thomas, Neese, Warrick, and Casey. These men furnish the nucleus of the squad, and around these "knights of the gridiron" Coach expects to build up a powerful machine. Harrell plays a right guard; "Block" Smith, end; Herring, left tackle; Neese, left guard; while Warrick spends his time at the pivotal position, "Shorty" Frazier, a third year man, now occupies the quarter back position. His short agile body is especially adapted to substantial end runs; and when it becomes necessary to buck the line, "Shorty" is right there.

Thomas and Casey, halfbacks, possess no small portion of the stamina of the backfield. They are endowed with eel-like characteristics which enable them to slip through the enemy's line.

Harrell, "Block" Smith, Herring, Neese, and Warrick form the backbone of the line. With these experienced men reinforced by the prospective new line men, the Quakers should build up a first-class defense that would be hard to break through.

Of the vast year's scrubs the following men are showing real football mettle: Clyde McBane, Lindley, "Hank" Tew, Pate, Reynolds, Hammond, Holt, Martin, and Welborn. These men are strongly competing for positions on the varsity squad. Clyde McBane did some creditable work on the end in last year's game with Elon, while Lindley, Hammond and Holt have done some good line work.

Reynolds has served the scrub team well in the capacity of quarter back.

The new men who have donned the Crimson and Gray uniform and appear daily on the field of combat, are: Murray White, of

ADJUSTMENT IS SUBJECT OF PROF. NEWLIN'S TALK

"The Importance of Ideals" was the subject of Prof. R. L. Newlin's chapel talk on Monday, Sept. 22. He mentioned the necessity of obtaining the confidence of one's fellow students and his home community. The harsh critic of his home people, according to Mr. Newlin, is really criticizing himself, and proving that he has failed to succeed in that community. Mr. Newlin mentioned constructive and destructive criticism and defined the destructive critic as one who always sees the bad qualities of a person or community.

"Treat everyone as you would like to be treated," said Mr. Newlin. "This should be the ideal of Guilford College. Every Guilfordian has a chance to build on the ideals of the founders. It is necessary to think about self preparation but that is not sufficient, for self development is not the highest aim in life. Service is life's highest goal. Try to be of some service to the other fellow."

SIX MEMBERS ADDED TO GUILFORD FACULTY

ALGIA NEWLIN, '21 RETURNS; MUSIC DEPT. INCLUDES TWO NEW MEMBERS

Six new names appear on the list of the Guilford College faculty members for this year, 1924-25.

Prof. George P. Wilson, a resident of Clarksville, Va., comes to Guilford to head the English department. Professor Wilson received his A.B. degree from the University of North Carolina, his M.A. degree from Columbia and has completed the residence requirement for his Doctorate at the University of Wisconsin. Mr. Wilson is a teacher of much experience having taught at Texas A. & M. College for four years, Indiana University for two years, University of Wisconsin for two years and Bessie Tift College of Georgia for one year. Mr. Wilson is also the author of a book on English Rhetoric.

Eva G. Campbell who holds an A.B. degree from Ohio Wesleyan College and a M.A. degree from Ohio State College takes charge of the Biological department. Miss Campbell taught Biology at the North Carolina College for Women for five years.

The department of French will be strengthened by Alfrida C. Elliott. Miss Elliott received her bachelor's degree from University of Toronto and has done advanced work at McGill College in Montreal. She has taught French at Edgemoor School for five years. Miss Elliott's home is in Port Hope, Ontario.

The head of the Chemistry department, Prof. Howard O. Smith, is a resident of Indianola, Iowa. He holds a bachelor's degree from Simpson College and has spent several years at Iowa State College doing advanced work. Prof. Smith also taught at Iowa State College for four years.

The music department will be in charge of Mrs. J. Russel Winslow of Cleveland and Mrs. Lillian Kohloss of Salisbury. Miss Winslow who will teach piano has studied extensively at Western Reserve University and holds the degree of Bachelor of Music from Bush Conservatory of Chicago. She has taught for two years at Montana Western University also

TOM A. SYKES CONDUCTS OPENING JOINT Y MEETING

CHALLENGES STUDENTS TO MAKE THEMSELVES A PART OF GUILFORD

Tom Sykes, pastor of the Friends church of High Point, conducted a joint meeting of the local Christian associations in the first meeting of the year held in Memorial Hall, Thursday evening at 7 o'clock.

The speaker opened his address with a tribute to Guilford, and a word of welcome and encouragement, especially to the new students. He then challenged each student not only to become a part of Guilford but to contribute to the good of the whole.

"You," he continued, "are the foundation of tomorrow's success. What will you use as an anchor? Is christianity to you a relic of bygone days, a tradition? Or is it a dynamic force in life? It is time for a revolution in moral enthusiasm. Self-expression is being advanced to the neglect of self-control. Creed and form have too often been substituted for personal goodness."

In conclusion, Mr. Sykes expressed the hope that the Christian associations on the campus would mark the way to the birth of a new devotion to Guilford.

ELIZABETH S. CUDE '25 DIES DURING SUMMER

PASSES AWAY QUIETLY IN WINSTON-SALEM AFTER LONG ILLNESS

The death of Elizabeth Cude on Sunday, June 2, came as a great shock to all of her classmates, and her death has been a cause of great sorrow to all the students of Guilford and friends throughout the state.

She was born August 6, 1900. Her parents were Callie Stanley and Charles Cude. After attending Winston High School for three years, Elizabeth went to Cleveland Bible Institute, Cleveland, Ohio, where she spent one year. Returning to North Carolina she attended Salem College for one year. In September, 1920, Elizabeth entered Guilford as a sophomore. The following two years she was forced to stay out of school on account of ill health, but in 1923 she returned once more to Guilford and entered as a member of the Junior class.

Elizabeth was a member of the Friends church of Winston-Salem and was one of its most active members. It was not enough that she be an active member of the church but she started a mission in East Winston and a few years later another mission in the same city. In Y.W.C.A. at Guilford she took a most active part and her influence was greatly felt. The Y.W.C.A. will miss the inspiration of her work and interest.

Those who attended the funeral and heard the description of how Elizabeth died expressed the belief that it was the most beautiful death of which they had ever heard.

The tribute of the girls of Guilford is: "That knowing Elizabeth Cude has been an inspiration; that she has lived a most beautiful life; and, lastly, that she was the most consecrated Christian which we have ever known."

Besides her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Cude of Winston-Salem, she is survived by one sister Marjorie Cude and two brothers, Robert and Joseph Cude, all of Winston-Salem.

OPENING SOCIAL EVENT GAY DESPITE WEATHER

Y.M. AND Y.W.C.A. VERY SUCCESSFUL IN ENTERTAINING NEW STUDENTS

The annual opening reception, given by the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations, was held Saturday evening, the 20th, in the college library, from 8:00 to 10:30 o'clock.

Rain, cold drizzly wind, greyish-black clouds—it seemed a conspiracy of nature to break up all hopes of strolls in the proverbial pale moonlight, with the balmy air and twinkling stars to match. It was nature that was fooled this time, however, for the library, bare except for rows of chairs and a few book-cases, with the lights reflecting in the cleaned windows and on the polished floor, was the scene of gay crowds. True there have been receptions and receptions given there, but the spirit of this last one was such that it more than counteracted any dreariness or rebelliousness of the favorable

After the formal procedure in which each old student safely piloted a freshman or new student through the first fright and awe of the receiving line, all formality and reserve, and even dignity, vanished and a jollier crowd one never saw before.

College students were, of course, glad to see and talk one to another after the summer vacation. But the most interesting part of the evening was spent in meeting and welcoming the new students and the alumni. There were many members of the class of '24 present.

The little gray books with crimson cord and pencils were given to everyone, and most of them were filled with signatures and remembrances by 10:30, when the whole crowd was literally driven home. Some of the names will never again be recognizable, on account of the rather adverse circumstances under which the writing was done, but the crimson and gray books will always be kept as a most cherished reminder of Guilford.

There was excellent punch, without which no Guilford reception would be complete. The remaining members of last year's Glee club sang their favorite numbers, not new, but never old.

THREE OF G. C. FACULTY WORKING ON DOCTORATES

PROFESSOR FARRIS TEACHES AT U OF W. VA.; PROFESSOR AND MRS. DANN TRAVEL ABROAD

Some of the members of last year's Guilford College faculty are literally scattered to the four winds of the earth. Three members are working on their doctor's degree. Professor F. C. Anscombe who for five years was head of the History department at Guilford is studying at the University of North Carolina and is doing some teaching in the department of History there.

Joseph Dixon White who during 1922-23 and 1923-24 was Professor of Chemistry at Guilford, is completing his second year's work on his Ph.D. at Harvard University. During the summer Professor White had charge of Camp Tecumseh, a boy's camp at Center Harbor, N. H.

Miss Hedwig H. Hoffmann who for the past two years has been teaching French and Spanish at Guilford is this year completing her work for a doctorate at Columbia university, and holding the position of associate professor of German in that institution. Miss Hoffmann spent the summer in Europe doing research work there.

PRES. RAYMOND BINFORD ADDRESSES STUDENTS ON "NEW DAY AT GUILFORD"

URGES STUDENTS TO LOOK UPON GUILFORD AS THEIR HERITAGE OF A CENTURY

President Raymond addressed the students on "The New Day at Guilford College," at the opening chapel exercises of the year on Wednesday, September 18. He mentioned the fact that 261 students had registered, a far greater number of college students than ever before at Guilford. He named the improvements made in the buildings, and the improvements that will be made during the year. He stressed the significant fact that these conveniences and the buildings are the property of the college students while they are here. "We want these buildings," asserted the speaker, "to be yours in the fullest possible sense. Preserve them for others use. All depends on the use of what you have here."

Turning to the college program, he stressed the importance of following a definite program of mental, and physical exercise, with a provision for spiritual development, and presented the program as one which experience has shown to be best adapted to the conditions here.

The speaker emphasized the importance of the location of the college in a cultured community as an aid to the development of culture in the student. He maintained that time is an essential factor in character building, and stated the purpose of the college to acquaint the student with the large fields of knowledge.

In a plea for individuality Dr. Binford said, "We are terribly afraid to be different from others. We need positiveness, stability of character. This is a time when people are concerned with materialism, and this is resulting in a wave of criminality. The solution of this is in love and service. Moral and spiritual courage are needed in the world today, for young people can contribute nothing to the world till they have acquired this moral and spiritual power. The only remedy for the present serious condition of the world is the revival of moral and spiritual power. The most important thing that Guilford College can do for the student is to instill into every life a profound conviction of moral obligation. I hope to instill into every serious mind a great determination to eliminate everything that will hinder development. The world needs a new vision of the things that count, a new baptism of that power for righteousness. You will never find a better field for its exercise than here at Guilford College."

GUILFORD REPRESENTED BY SIX AT BLUE RIDGE

The most important part of the Blue Ridge conference which concerned the assembly was a discussion of the theme, "The Modern Implication of Jesus' Way of Life" by such men as, Dr. A. W. Taylor, Dr. G. Sherwood Eddy, lecturer and author, and a member of the International committee of Y.M.C.A., Dr. Allyn K. Foster, Biologist, Prof. Geo. W. Carver, (colored) scientist, Tuskegee Institute (The "Goober Wizard"), and Kirby Page, lecturer and author.

The general theme of the conference "The Modern Implications of Jesus' Way of Life," was discussed under three main topics, "International Relationships, and the Problem of War," "Intern-
