HISSING AS AN ART

Geese have a right to hiss; they don't have brains or tongues enough to do anything else. So do snakes; it is one of their noted characteristics. So do some ill-mannered people; may be they don't know any better. College men and women are not usually too unintelligent. But the prerogative of hissing in Founders dining hall when someone is called from the hall during the course of a meal, has been constantly exercised. It is a source of great embarrassment to the one passing down the aisle to be hissed at so loudly and with such unison. Probably it is the embarrassment that causes that one to wonder if after all they are not geese without grains. Or may be they are just people who don't realize just exactly how the other fellow feels.

TOM ZACHARY—A MYTH

Tom Zachary, who has pitched him self to glory, Washington to a world championship, and added greatly to Guilford's athletic prestige, all in one season, has had the greatest and most enthusiastic support of the present Guilford student body ever accorded an old Guilfordian so far removed. To most of them he is a god of the baseball diamond, much lauded by the press; a towering personality whose daily baseball successes have been eagerly gathered over the radio.

"Zach" came to Guilford about 1915 and during the season of 1916 and 1917 pitched Guilford to a North and South Carolina state championship. He seems to have just the knack for pitching teams to championship; or to put frankly, putsheds have the "stuff" and he puts it across. No one would say that he put Washington on top by himself, for Washington has other great pitchers, but he did hold New York down twice; he did win two out of four games won by Washington in the final World Series.

There are still some men in Ceollege who can remember when "Big Zach" was last at Guilford doing his Junior work, and they were doing their freshman stunts for the all-powerful Sophs. These onetime "rats" can also remember how it snowed that winter, and they were snowballed. "Zach" in that day, had that marvelous control of his arm (it is said that he could throw a rock through a knot hole in a fence fifty feet away), and it was his delight to put forth his magic arm and graze a fellow's chin, or clip a fellow's ear with a snowball. He never had the habit of hitting his subject, but that subject was never convinced of that fact. Possibly which read, "Zachary held New York 2 to 1," and the like, have since the sensational headlines come out, the freshmen would trust his accuracy; even let him try one of those Billy Tell stunts. But "Zach" never had the habit of hitting; he seemed to have a much bigger heart, than even the magic of his arm.

And may be some of those near-ant freshmen wish now that he had knocked a piece or two of skin off their chin so that they could display it with pride and say, "See this scar? Well that's where Tom Zachary got his practice for ball pitching. Nice scar, don't you think?" If only one could have had a sense of far-sightedness—or even just a scar to display with pride.

REGISTRAR ANNOUNCES SCHOLARSHIP CONDITIONS

The Registrar has asked that the following regulations governing scholarships and honors be announced.

Members of the Freshman and Sophomore classes, pursuing a regular amount of work whose average grade is 90 or above, and whose grade does not fall below 85 in any subject shall be entitled to "honors."

Members of the Junior class who receive an average grade of 90 in their major work and do not receive a grade below 85 in any subject shall be entitled to High Honors.

Those members of the Senior class who have received High Honors in their Junior year and whose average grade in the senior year does not fall below 93 shall be entitled to Highest Honors.

The class of 1904 in memory of their members, Marvin Hardin, who died in 1907, has endowed an annual tuition scholarship which is to be awarded to the Sophomore making the best average in the sophomore studies, said amount to be available in the spring of the senior year and only upon the condition that the student winning the honor remain at Guilford during the junior and senior year.

Haverford college offers annually to the young man of the graduating class whom the faculty shall recommend, a scholarship of $300 and Bryn Mawr offers to the young woman of the graduating class, recommended by the faculty, a scholarship of $400.

ERRORS TO BE CORRECTED

There have been two serious errors in the past two issues of the Guilfordian that need correcting. The first issue carried the statement that Miss Elizabeth Cude died June 2nd. This should have read June 22nd, 1924.

In the second issue of the year, in the list of college marshals, the name of John Cude was omitted. Mr. Cude was elected as college marshal at the regular meeting of the faculty.

Besides being an active member of three woman's clubs, she is a member of the Guilford County Board of Public Welfare, Chairman of the Board of Public Welfare of the city of High Point, recording secretary of the Five Years Meeting of Friends and secretary of the Ministerial Association of the North Carolina Yearly Meeting.

Miss Cox spent the summer of 1923 traveling in Europe.

OLD STUDENTS

Harry Johnson who withdrew from Guilford College in 1920 is doing interne work at Cincinnati General Hospital, a large hospital owned and operated by the city in which it is located. Just now Dr. Johnson is doing work in surgery from which work he will be shifted, after a short time, to general medicine. He began his work as interne last spring and will probably finish it within the next year. He is very popular with both the patients and those in charge of the hospital.

After leaving Guilford "Harry" entered the Cincinnati Medical College from which he received the degree of M.D. last June.

Algia Newlin enroute from California to North Carolina paid a visit to "Harry" and reports, among other things that he is a member of the hospital baseball team. Those who knew him at Guilford remember his good work on the Guilford team.

SOUP AND "HOT CAKES" BANISHED FROM MENU

It has been decided to banish both soup and the so called "hot-cakes" forever into the limbo of past delicacies at Founder. This authority comes from no less an authority than Miss Kopf, who assures us that it is true. Occasionally, perhaps, on cold rainy days, soup may help constitute the menu, as there is still a heavy stock on hand in the basement, but no longer will it arrive with dreary regularity on Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday lunches. As soon as the supply of pancake flour gives out, they too will cease to be a troublesome factor. Hereafter Wednesday mornings will be a constant adventure, where anything may turn up—even eggs.

HOME ECONOMICS GIRLS TO SUPERVISE H. SCHOOL

The class in Cookery I is highly elated over the arrival of the new ovens in the Domestic science department. They are hoping to have them up and in use by next week, in time to get all the peaches, pears and string beans canned. The Domestic science girls are to supervise and overlook the class in cookery and sewing at the High school this fall. This will count as part of the practice teaching in the Home Economics major.
