QUAKER TEAM GOES DOWN IN DEFEAT BEFORE FAST RICHMOND BLUES QUINT

HOLIDAY STARS FOR RICHMOND WHILE TEW IS OUTSTANDING QUAKER SATILITE

The Quaker Quint on Saturday night went down in defeat before the strong Richmond Light Infantry team in the first game of the season by a score of 44-27.

The absence of the "famous Frazier" and the excellent guards, Thomas and Cummings, was at times noticeable. The further handicap occasioned by the illness of "Shirt" Smith upon whom fans are depending for an excellent season was also felt. This team which consisted of only one veteran player outplayed the nimble Virginians in the second half.

The game was a fast encounter although both teams made many fumbles. Due to the newness of the season they had not yet perfected a smooth running machine.

Coach Doak's squad held its own during the first few minutes of the game but the Blues spurted away for a gain which the locals never overcame. The Blues played their best and piled up most of their scores in the first half. The Quakers seemed to be unable to get into smooth running order, and at the end of the first half the Blues had looped the cage for 32 points while Guilford's score stood at 12.

With the beginning of the second half the Doakmen found themselves and caged two field goals in rapid order. They held the visitors from doing the

FACULTY COMMITTEE TO REGULATE ACTIVITIES

Hereafter when students at Guilford find themselves overworked they may take it up with the college authorities and find whether there is a legal right for such a condition. At least there has been a legislation by the faculty governing such conditions.

A committee has been permanently established for supervision of student activities. This is to insure against the work of students overlapping. It has been agreed by the "powers that be" that henceforth no student shall take part in extra-curricula activities who has not in the previous quarter passed a minimum of nine hours of college work.

Extra-curricula activities have not been so far permanently defined but at least the following offices have been designated as coming under that head: president of the Y.M. and Y.W.C.A., Editor-in-chief and managing editor and business manager of the Guilfordian, managers of the athletic departments including tennis and track, manager of the Glee club, manager of the orchestra, president and secretary and house presidents of the Student Government Association, members of debating team, members of Glee club, members of the orchestra, character in a play and member of College athletic team.

BROWN AND DINKINS TO HEAD GUILFORDIAN BOARD

A new Guilfordian editorial staff was elected at the last regular meeting of the Guilfordian board before the Christmas holidays. Heading the new staff is Edwin Brown, who was elected editor-in-chief to succeed Robert Marshall, who for the past three years has served in the various editorial capacities. Harvey Dinkins was elected managing editor to fill the vacancy created by the election of Edwin Brown to the editorship. Lucille Purdie and Nereus English were unanimously re-elected associate editors. The new board will take formal office at the beginning of the second semester.

COUNTY CLUBS ORGANIZE TO ADVERTISE GUILFORD

PROGRAM OUTLINED FOR PURPOSE OF BOOSTING GUILFORD IN HOME COUNTIES

The students of Guilford divided into county groups at chapel, Thursday, December 17, 1924, for the purpose of reorganization.

The aim of the county clubs is to keep the high school students in touch with Guilford and Guilford in touch with them. It has been the policy of the clubs heretofore for the representatives of each county to entertain any visitors at the College from their county, especially athletic teams from the high schools. One county, Alamance has already taken action along this line by appointing a social committee. The officers of this county are: Paul Holt, president; Lalah Durham, secretary.

Stokes county, James B. Joyce, secretary, adopted the slogan "Boost Guilford everywhere."

Rockingham county, Ruth McCollum, secretary.

Randolph county, Nereus English,

MME. HOFFMANN ATTENDS MODERN LANGUAGE ASS'N.

Madam Hoffman, who spent the vacation at her home in New York City, attended the meeting of the Modern Language Association of America at Columbia University, Dec. 29-31. Among some of the important lectures in the Romance language section was "Foreign Influence on Spain from 1750 to 1800," "Nature Appreciation in French Literature of the 17th Century," "The Nature Doctrine of Voltaire," and "Balascon Ibanez and His Novels."

At the third session of the association Madam Hoffman attended the French III group where the following papers were given: "Calderon's Astrolago Fingido in France," "Some Textual Critics turning Philosophers," "Savage of Rousseau and Voltaire," "Communication sur la Correspondence de J. J. Rousseau," "Dix-huitieme siecle francais: travaux possible et rechercher a faire." Comparative Literature, English Literature (1660-1880) and Victorian Literature were some of the topics discussed in the other groups.

The ladies of the Modern Language Association were entertained at dinner by the Columbia Faculty the evening of Dec. 29, and following the presidential address by Dr. William Allan Nelson, Dr. Nicholson Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, and Mrs. Butler held a formal reception for the members of the association at their home.

SPANISH CLASS STUDIES TEXTBOOK OF J. M. PURDIE

Stories and happenings of Guilford alumni are always sources of interest to the student body, and the news that the second year class in Spanish here, is to study a text-book edited by an alumnus of the College is of special interest to many people here. The text-book to be used is "Trozos Seleccionados" edited by Professor Joseph M. Purdie '06 and Arturo Fernandez of the United States Naval Academy.

The text-book was originally written for the use of the midshipmen in the Naval Academy.

Mr. Purdie is a graduate of the College, being an alumnus of the class of 1906. He has taught extensively in Mexico, Central America, Panama, Cuba and for several years in North Carolina and Virginia. At present he is associate professor of Language at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland, where he teaches Spanish and French. The second year Spanish class this year will use this book as a text during the next semester. It is interesting to note that Mr. Purdie's daughter, Lucille, is a member of this class in Spanish.

Jos. M. Dixon, Governor of Montana, a member of the class of '89 and a charter member of the Henry Clay literary society, recently made the society a present of one of his photographs, bearing the following autographed inscription: "To my confreres of the Henry Clay Society—Just the best wishes of Helena, Montana."

CHORAL SOCIETY GIVES CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

CHRISTMAS CAROLS AND CANTATA "HOPE OF THE WORLD" SUNG

The Guilford Choral Society presented a program of Christmas music on the evening of December 17 under the direction of Professor James Westley White, instructor in voice. The soloists were Mrs. Frank Hauser, of Winston-Salem, and Miss Eva Campbell, of the Biological department at Guilford. Mrs. Gladys Wineow Spivey and Edward Holder were the accompanists.

The program consisted chiefly of hymns and well-known Christmas carols sung in a new and artistic manner. A cantata "The Hope of the World" by Schaecker was well given. It showed careful preparation and intelligent interpretation on the part of the singers.

Both of the soloists deserve special mention for the fine presentation of their numbers. Mrs. Hauser is a soprano, while Miss Campbell is a mezzo-soprano.

The program was as follows:
1. Hymn—"Adeste Fidelis" No. 24, Chorus and audience; 2. Choral—Good King Wenchelas, traditional, Chorus; 3. Solos—(a) The Virgin's Lullaby (from The Coming of the King) Dudley Buck, (b) "He Shall Feed His Flock" (from The Messiah) Handel, Miss Eva Campbell; 4. Choral—"We Three Kings of Orient Are" Hopkins, (solo verses sung by John Reynolds, Frank Crutchfield and Frank Casey) 5. Solos—(a) Jesu Bambino, Pietro Yon, (b) "Hear Ye, Israel" (from Elijah) Mendelssohn, Mrs. Frank Hauser; 6. Choral—"Silent Night, Holy Night" Haydn; Intermission; 7. Cantata—"The Hope of the World" P. A. Schaecker, (a) Ring Forth, Ye Bells, (b) The Shepherds, (c) The Wise Men, (d) Hail Royal Babe; 8. Hymn—"Joy to the World" Chorus and audience.

JOHN F. CUDE ELECTED PRESIDENT CLASS OF '26

At the last regular meeting of the junior class the following officers were elected: President, John Cude; secretary, Hazel Coltrane and marshal, Joe Welborn. The retiring officers were Nereus English, president; John Cude, secretary, and Jack Harrell, marshal.

MISS CAMPBELL ATTENDS NATIONAL SCIENTIFIC MEET

Miss Eva G. Campbell, of the Biological department, attended the American Association for the Advancement of Science at Washington, D. C., during the week of Dec. 29 to Jan. 3. This association is made up of the different National Scientific societies. Miss Campbell is a member of the Zoological branch. She reports that the greatest benefit derived from such a meeting is association with the leading men of science and hearing them discuss the latest scientific developments.

"One of the most interesting topics discussed," said Miss Campbell, "was the discovery of the cause of a new disease called Tularenia. This disease affects those who handle and prepare rabbits for the market and comes from the condition of the animal's liver. It affects the victim with a gagged fever which lasts about ten days.

FOUR GUILFORD CLUBS TO GIVE BANQUET SOON

HIGH POINT, GREENSBORO, WINSTON-SALEM AND LOCAL GUILFORD TO JOIN IN FESTIVE EVENT

For some time the local Guilford College club as well as the clubs in High Point, Winston-Salem and Greensboro have felt the need of changing for once, at least, from the custom of holding an annual banquet, to something of a more general interest. A conference was called to meet here January 11 to discuss plans for something of this kind. The meeting was attended by Arthur Lyon, Ralph Parker, Joseph Cox and Chase Idol of High Point, R. J. M. Hobbs and Robert Frazier of Greensboro with Dr. E. C. Perisho, Miss Emma King and President Binford, of Guilford College. Arthur Lyon acted as chairman of the meeting and Algia I. Newlin as secretary.

The conference initiated plans for a joint banquet to be carried out this year probably the second week in February. It was arranged to place the

TOM SYKES DISCUSSES NEW WORLD CREATION

Rev. Tom Sykes, of High Point, began his chapel address Friday morning by reading a wonderful prophecy of Saint Peter in which he speaks of "new heavens and a new earth wherein dwelleth righteousness." Mr. Sykes said that the College students of today will put much into the world, which is not there now through living consecrated lives of service.

"High marks in a life of service in a world that needs reconstruction," maintained the speaker, "are more important than high marks in academic work. People today are living on the very verge of the time when the new earth will begin. Some of the present generation will probably take part in the creation of this new earth."

The speaker highly praised the college spirit of service, maintained that the infusion of the Guilford spirit into the life of the state has forwarded the coming of a more glorious future, and that they, too, will greatly aid in this consummation of an improved, regenerated world.

"The application of the Christ spirit," said he, "has not been widely tried. It has been tried by individuals, and by small groups, but to no great extent by nations. Each individual's part is important. The new heavens and new earth can come only through the operation through the Christ-spirit on the individual.

"Persons must think for themselves,"

UNUSUAL COURSE TO BE OFFERED IN THE SPRING

Probably the most interesting and what will perhaps be the most popular new course offered during the next semester will be the "Outline of Civilization." This will be a lecture course giving three hours credit and is something new in the regular college curriculum. It will be primarily a freshman course although it is not stated that other students will be debarred.

The course is divided between several departments. There will be lectures on the accomplishments of man, size of the universe, geology, the fundamental laws of physics, the fundamental laws of chemistry, hygiene, physiology, plant life, psychology, and sociology. There will be lectures under the general heading of art, and will cover, language, literature, painting, and sculpturers. Careful study will be given, also, to the showing of the relation of science to religion.

The course will be taught by several instructors.

FACULTY ENTERTAIN THE STUDENTS IN ANNUAL CHRISTMAS-TIME BANQUET

MR. HAWORTH ACTS AS TOASTMASTER—DR. BINFORD AND DR. PERISHO SPEAKS

The Annual Faculty-Student banquet held on Thursday evening, December 18, was undoubtedly more successful than any former one of its nature.

The committee on arrangements changed somewhat the usual order of procedure. In order to avoid the congestion which on previous occasions has been evident in the hall at Founders, the students were requested to assemble at the Library promptly at 7:00 o'clock.

The various classes were assigned certain portions of the Library where they paired off. At the ringing of the bell in Founders the procession started. Each class headed by a member of the Faculty.

At Founders Miss Katherine Ricks and Professor Algie Newlin received, and took charge of the wraps. As the guests were ushered into the dining room, the hallway vibrated with the sound of Christmas carols sung by members of the College Chorus who were lined up on both sides of the entrance.

The dining room decorations were unusually attractive. Greenery artistically arranged hung from the beamed ceiling. Miniature Christmas trees glistened and sparkled from all parts of the room and even the broad mantles were adorned with stockings brimming over with Santa Claus' generosity. From the banquet tables, made especially for the occasion, the soft glow of red candles added the last touch to the Yuletide atmosphere.

The program was a Christmas one, the theme being "The Star of Bethlehem."

Professor Samuel Haworth acted as toastmaster and very appropriately opened the evening's program by a short reminiscence of his boyhood days at Christmas time.

The first speaker of the evening was Dr. Elwood Perisho whose topic was "The Light That Never Fails." In presenting his topic, Dr. Perisho showed

NOT "WHERE FROM" BUT "WHERE TO" IS QUESTION

Doctor Raymond Binford greeted the students back to Guilford at chapel Tuesday morning, Jan. 6, by reading a few salutations taken from Paul's epistles. He stated why the students were so welcome in one brief statement: "It is for the love of you that this institution exists. The institution within itself would be miserably vacant." The purpose of the institution, stated the President, is to put something into each student so they will be impelled to "live the truth." In following up this idea he read an editorial, taken from a recent number of "The American Friend," the subject of which was "Where to, please?" The editorial stated that train number "1925" is on the track and we are all passengers, but, where to, please? Not how fast—but where to?"

Doctor Binford in addition laid emphasis on the following remark made by himself: "The world stands insistent to know where we are going. Not what you are, where you have been or where you are from, but where to?"

HENRY TEW '27 TO HEAD 1925 BASKETBALL SQUAD

Henry Tew, of Goldsboro, who won his letter with the basketball squad last year was elected captain of the 1925 quint. "Hank" was a consistent player throughout last season alternating as guard with Cummings. In the game played last Saturday night Captain Tew's work was outstanding.
