ORIGINAL PLAN FOR THE NEW GARDEN BOARDING SCHOOL UNEARTHED HERE

ANCIENT DOCUMENT WAS A DREAM OF THE PRESENT GUILFORD

By Kenneth Neese

Age worn and yellow, the original copy of the plan for the New Garden Boarding School, adopted by the New Garden Yearly Meeting, November 7th, 1832, has recently emerged from the decay of years, much frayed and much worn. It is impossible to read all the copy on account of its worn and frayed edges, therefore, several words and sometimes whole sentences are necessarily omitted from the new copy.

In the records of the New Garden Yearly Meeting, there are several notations of discussions, and appointments concerning a boarding school; and finally on November 7th, 1832 the following is recorded:

"The committee appointed last year to prepare a plan for the Boarding School, produced one which was read and approved and the sum of $15,000 was proposed to be raised by subscription to aid in putting it in operation. The clerk is directed to furnish each Quarterly Meeting with a copy of the plan."

The plan proposed that the Yearly Meeting purchase a farm with some buildings, which with some additions would do for a Boarding school of 40 or 50 students. It gave much detail about the location of the school, the use of the farm, with insertion that there must be a "dry, cleanly and healthy situation;" and the plan for securing teachers. The Quarterly Meetings were to have charge of the school, to employ teachers, and each to furnish two men to compose a committee who would visit the school monthly. Christian principles, religious conduct, and good order in the institution were stressed. Board and tuition was to be $50.00, one fourth paid in advance and the remainder in quarterly payments. None but the members of the society of Friends and their children were admitted. No children were to be permitted to enter under five years of age.

As for the Rules and Regulations, the superintendent was to have charge of everything. He must "govern the family of the institution, keep accounts of expenditures, direct work on farm, keep the boys and girls separate, except at meetings of worship; open and examine all letters sent by the students to any other than parents or guardians," and numerous other duties. At his discretion "brother and sisters would be permitted to converse with each other at suitable seasons." Each student must be in school three months before he or she may go home or visit neighbors. A very detailed account of the application of time for the students is given.

On waking in the morning the children are told "to turn their minds inward and wait upon the Great Creator." As detailed instructions they read: "wash your face and hands, comb your hair, and attend to decency and cleanliness in your apparel and proceed downstairs without unnecessary noise; to endeavor to sit still; to refrain from laughing, talking, whispering or making a noise with your feet; to be careful or conduct;

EDUCATION VACANCY FILLED BY D. R. HAWORTH

WAS ONE TIME HEAD OF THE EDUCATION DEPT. EAST TENN. NORMAL SCHOOL

D. Riley Haworth, brother of Samuel L. Haworth, has been secured to take charge of the work in Education at Guilford College for the rest of this year.

Mr. Haworth is a native of Tennessee and a graduate of Maryville College, Maryville, Tennessee. He has also done graduate work at Columbia University.

For several years Mr. Haworth has been engaged in educational work, both in the West and in Tennessee. For a few years he was head of the department of Education at the East Tennessee Normal School, Johnson City. During the summers he worked with the Teacher's Institutes of that State and a very interesting account of his work with the teachers of McMinn county, Tenn., is given in a number of the 1914 World's Work. The story is told of how he carried a group of rural teachers out into the country and did some practical "laboratory" work in the complete renovation of a dilapidated one-room country school house—all the work taking place between 8:00 a. m. and 4:00 p. m.

For the past six years Mr. Haworth has been superintendent of the schools of Jonesboro, Morristown and Johnson City, Tenn.

N. C. C. W. FACULTY AIDS EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

Through the courtesy of the Department of Education of North Carolina College for Women the different classes in Education at Guilford have not suffered any loss of time for lack of a faculty member to meet with them. The classes that Doctor Binford was not able to meet were called at the usual periods and members of the N. C. C. W. faculty carried the work on without interruption.

Dr. A. P. Kephart, head of the Training School, and member of the Education department, lectured to the class of Tests and Measurements on Intelligence tests and their application to the work of the secondary school teacher.

Prof. W. W. Martin and Prof. John T. Miller, also of the Education department, lectured to a number of classes.

MRS. BINFORD DISCUSSES LIFE OF IDA TARBELL

In preparation for the coming of Ida M. Tarbell to Guilford College, Mrs. Binford talked in chapel Friday morning on Ida M. Tarbell, as an author.

Mrs. Binford presented many interesting facts concerning this distinguished woman. As a woman Ida M. Tarbell has an unusual personality and her sentiments are brought out very forcibly in all her writings.

She entered Alleghany College—the only woman in the freshman class. Among her writings are: "The Life of Napoleon," "The Life of Lincoln," "History of Standard Oil Company," "He Knew Lincoln," and many others of great note. Ida M. Tarbell's slogan is, "Is it Worth it?"

GUILFORD GIRLS VISIT ANSCOMBES AT U. N. C.

The girls attending the 24th Annual Student Volunteer Conference at Chapel Hill February 20 to 22, were very delightfully entertained at a tea given in their honor by Professor and Mrs. F. C. Anson on Saturday afternoon at their home in Chapel Hill.

Even though Professor and Mrs. Anson have been away from the college several months, they still are interested in Guilford, and the work she is doing. They expressed their intentions of visiting friends here at an early date.

WINIFRED CRAMP TELLS OF EUROPEAN YOUTH MOVEMENT

ADDRESS JOINT MEETING OF "Y" IN ADOPTED COSTUME OF MOVEMENT

Miss Winifred Cramp, dressed in the costume which the girls of the youth movement in Germany have adopted as a kind of national garb, spoke to the joint meeting of the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening. Miss Cramp has spent sometime in Germany and has wandered with groups of the Youth Movement and is perhaps the greatest authority on this subject of any speaker who has visited and spoken to the students, of this new order in Germany.

"The Youth Movement," began Miss Cramp, "started in Germany fourteen years before the war started. It was a protestation of the school girls and boys against the school and religious systems. They were known by the name, 'Wandering Birds.'" When the war came, although opposed to war, they fought for their country, and after the war closed and they returned to their homes, a meeting was held on a hill and they

DR. PERISHO BEGINS HIGH SCHOOL VISITATION

During the past week Dr. Elwood Perisho has been visiting some of the high schools of Forsyth and Wilkes counties. On Tuesday, the 24th, he visited the Old Town consolidated school of Forsyth county in the forenoon, giving two addresses. In the afternoon he visited the Old Richmond high school, Tobaccoville, where he spoke to the student body. From there he took the afternoon train for North Wilkesboro, where he gave a public lecture that evening in the high school auditorium. On Wednesday morning he spoke to the high schools of both Wilkesboro and North Wilkesboro. In the afternoon he, with the county superintendent of Wilkes county, visited the Ronda high school.

In speaking of his visit to the mentioned high schools, Dr. Perisho says that the students showed a marked interest in continuing their education and that many of them are looking forward to entering college at the completion of their high school course.

On Friday of this week Dr. Perisho spoke at the High Point and Jamestown high schools. These visits were made under the auspices of the North Carolina Association of College Presidents, which association has arranged for the annual visitation of the high schools of the state.

On next Friday, March 6, Dr. Perisho with superintendent Thomas R. Foust, will visit the Pomona, South Buffalo, Bessemer and Gibsonville high schools.

FORMAL DEDICATION OF ARCHDALE QUAKER CHURCH

Samuel L. Haworth, head of the department of Education of Guilford returned to High Point on last Sunday to deliver an inspiring sermon to the members of the Friends Church of High Point in the absence of Rev. Tom Sykes. Mr. Haworth was for five years pastor at this church and his return for a visit was gladly welcomed.

Mr. Sykes, the regular pastor of the Friends church of that city was invited to preach the dedicatory sermon for the new Friends church of Archdale, N. C., just south of High Point. Miss Clara I. Cox, daughter of J. Elwood Cox, chairman of the Board of Trustees of Guilford College, is, and has been pastor of this meeting for several years. The Dedicatory services were very impressive, and largely attended.

The Archdale Monthly meeting was "set up" last summer, and the completion of the new church is helping to establish more widely the influence of the Quakers. The church is of the established Friends church design; Grecian lines, and built of brick, with fluted columns.

Guilford Cagers Split Even In The Last Four Games Of The 1924-25 Season

MISS ELIZABETH PARKER

Miss Elizabeth Parker, head of the Physical Education for Women at Guilford, has introduced during her two years at Guilford a keen enthusiasm and interest in athletics for the women. She very successfully instituted Hockey as the girl's major sport in the fall, and her reorganization of the entire women's athletic system has met with excellent response. At present, her class teams in basketball are claiming an unusual amount of attention on the campus.

BARRIE'S "PETER PAN" LAST MOVIE OF YEAR

Last Saturday night Barrie's "Peter Pan" played at the college to a small but appreciative audience with Betty Bronson as the wistful, elfin Peter. Considering the fact that this picture took New York by storm—playing simultaneously at the Rivoli and Rialto theatres all during the Christmas season; Guilford was fortunate in procuring it here as a part of the college entertainment.

Barrie's immortal whimsey was first produced in 1905 with Maude Adams in the title role, and so popular did this magical nursery play prove that crowds waited in the falling snow at the stage door after each performance just for a glimpse of Miss Adams as she went to her carriage.

Concerning the present performance, the Literary Digest of Jan. 17 quotes the following: "It is no easy thing in these days of artificial and shallow pictures, of cynical and hypercritical audiences, for a director to work such magic as this. That Herbert Brenon has done this is of course primarily due to Sir James Barrie, whose whimsey he has made a pliable medium for his working. It was in Mr. Brenon's power to make of it nothing at all. Many directors would have. But by surrounding himself with a troop of players capable of reading Barrie's imagination into their parts obviously enjoying their playing to the full, by sympathetic astuteness, and a delectable fancy of his own he has made 'Peter Pan' a really superb picture. There was no mistake in selecting Miss Betty Bronson to portray Peter. She may not disguise the fact that she is a girl; she does not need to, for she has caught the soul of the wistful boy and the eternal youth of him. George Ali, as Nana, the mournful dog-nurse, is delightful. Each rolling of those sombre eyes, each turn of the expressive paws is imitatively droll, and somehow infinitely pathetic. Nana might have been made more comical, and thereby have provoked more laughter. But it would not have been Barrie's Nana, and the laughter would have been too loud. The contented chuck-

WIN FROM LENOIR AND SALISBURY BUT FALL BEFORE DAVIDSON AND WAKE FOREST

The Guilford basketball team closed the season by two victories and two losses during the past week. The Quakers met Wake Forest on the home court Wednesday night and were defeated by a count of 49-16. Then the quint took a trip to the western part of the state, where they met Lenoir-Rhyne Thursday night and defeated the Lutherans 33-14. On Friday night the Quaker quint encountered the Davidson Wildcats, but were defeated 49-18. The final game of the trip and of the season was played with the Salisbury "Y," and out of which the Quakers came victorious by a score of 38-32. Those making the trip were Thomas, Ferrell, Frazier, R. Smith, Sparger, Herring and Russell.

WAKE FOREST GAME

The Wake Forest cage artists won a hard fought contest over the Quakers on the home court Wednesday night by the score of 49-16. The score, however, does not indicate the fight that the two teams put up in the contest. The local team showed the greatest scrapping spirit that it has exhibited this year. The scrapping started from the very first and neither team loosened up throughout the first half. When this canto ended the score stood 12-8, with the Quakers four points in the rear.

It was at the beginning of the second period that the Baptists began their great offensive game that literally swept the local quint off their feet, and despite the terrific yelling from the galleries they continued to add point after point to the large lead. They were accurate on their long shots and were also successful in getting many "crip" shots. The local team could not work as a unit and were able to chalk up but four points in the last lap. Daniel, center for Wake Forest, was going good throughout. He was closely followed by Greason whose ability to pierce the magic hoop was excellent.

Line-up:

Guilford	Pos.	Wake Forest
Ferrell	r.f.	Emerson
Frazier	l.f.	Greason
Sparger	c.	Daniel
R. Smith	r.g.	Ober
Herring	l.g.	Vickers

DAVIDSON GAME

Davidson defeated the Guilford team 49-18 for the second defeat of the year. From the very first the game was Davidson's though it was not until the second period that the Wildcats began their heavy scoring. The first half ended with Davidson leading 21-10. Staley was the big scorer for Davidson; he alone scored a total of 14 points. McConnell's floor work featured during the whole game. Rufus Smith was the best man for Guilford. Sparger also showed up well.

Line-up and summary:

Davidson 49	Pos.	Guilford 18
Staley	r.f.	Ferrell
Laird	l.f.	Frazier
Anderson	c.	Sparger
McConnell	r.g.	Smith
Boggs, Capt	l.g.	Herring

Substitutions: Davidson, Beall for Staley, Hulet for Boggs, Laird for Hudgins, Anderson for Hudgins, Beall for McConnell, Hudgins for Boggs, Faucette for Laird, Hulet for Staley, Simpson for Beall. Referee, Sipley (Bucknell).

LENOIR-RHYNE DEFEATED

The Quaker five defeated the Lenoir-Rhyne basketball team for the second

A Correction

Due to typographical error the name of Edward M. Holder was confused in the grade report box of last week. He was to have been listed as one of the two people receiving a straight "A" report.
