Walks! Walks about the campus have been greatly improved. Instead of wading about in mud ankle deep we will have our feet on reasonably firm ground. Thanks be to the business management of the college.

The main walk to the gate is our front yard. Let's keep it respectable. After making puchases at the store don't throw the paper wrappers on the campus along this walk.

Freshmen, you will have much spare time during this year which you may use very profitably. Your college courses will not consume all the time which you have at your disposal. There are a number of activities on the campus which will prove of great value to you.

Line yourselves up with some of these activities.

TO OLD SCHOLARS

Within a few weeks you will receive several copies of, "The Guilfordian," which we hope you will read.

On the front page you will find news pertaining to college activities; in The Alumni column you will see what the members of your class are doing you may follow the work of the Societies and see what improvement have been made, since you left college or you can read about athletics.

Read,"The Guilfordian, and keep in touch with your alma matter! After you have read it then sign the blank which you will receive and forward it to us, then your name will be placed in our list of regular subscribers and you will receive the paper each week.

Y. M. C .A. HEARS ADDRESS BY JAMES READ BARBEE

A large crowd of students heard James Read Barkee, new president of the Association, address the Young Men's Christian Association last Thursday night in the first meeting of the year. He emphasized a quotation which he drew from an address that President Binford delivered recently: "College life is not a preparation for life but is life itself." Following up this quotation, he enlarged upon some of the "Do's" and "Don't's" that are found in the Young Men's Christian Association handbooks that are hent out each year. He spoke of the college life as an ideal chance to form desirable habits and at the same time to drop undesirable ones.

The first meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association for this year was a vesper service held on the campus last Thursday night. Maude have a new gift of value on the campus this year in the large group of freshmen boys and girls. Each of them is bringing some potential talent for here."

Following these remarks, Miss Simpson spoke of Tolerance and how it should be developed within the student lips with his handkerchief. body. "A failure to understand and sympathize with the other person's viewpoint, is to acknowledge ourselves smaller in spirit than they," she said. She spoke of the necessity of regarding the wishes and rights of others a thing that is necessary to any community life.

In conclusion, the leader read the well known lines of Markman:

"He drew a circle that shut me out,

Heretic, rebel, a thing to flout;
But love and I had the wit to win;
We drew a circle that took him in."

THE PERISCOPE

By Beulah Allen

If you Freshmen are thinking that your lot is just a bit harder than you can bear, that you've got more lessons than time to prepare them in just feel thank ful that you are not "walking in the Shoes" of the State Freshmen. The September 11, 1925, issue of "The Technician "carried this item-"Freshmen will be given until Tuesday night to have memorized everything in this issue." Rejoice and be glad that you don't have to memorize these observations on student life elsewhere!

Freshmen co-eds at the University of Toronto must undergo a period of modified hazing at the hands of the sophomore women.-The Technician.

When authorities at the University of Alabama told Wallace Wade they wanted him to come to Tuscaloosa and coach football he took them at their word. He teaches football and nothing else

At Alabama there are no settingup exercises, no trick stunts to teach football candidates this or that. When a candidate wants to play football and says so he is put into a football uniform and scrimmage starts with him in it. From the first day of practice right on through the season nothing is done by aspirants to Alabama's team except football. There is a dummy-tackling and kicking practice, but those are both contained in the list of what is done in actual football combat.

Whether or not Wade knows what he is about is rather well shown by what the Crimson Tide accomplished last season when it won the shampionship of the southern conference. The Atlanta Constitution.

WHY I BELIEVE IN FOOTBALL

I believe in football because it fixes in every student the spirit of a fight and the will to win. It is all a mistake to say that the men on the bleachers get no benefit. They receive incalculable benefit in the spirit that surges through them in the support of the team-the spirit of determination and irresistible attack. I believe in football because it fuses the college into a unity. Before the first big home game each year, the college is only a mass of individuals, but with the long yell that greets the team for its first big fight a new and living unity comes into being. In the game the soul of the college is awakened anew, and he is no man at all into whose heart the thrills of devotion and loyalty which will not flow till his heart no longer beats.

For all these reasons I believe in football—especially football led big-hearted men, hard, clean, strictly by rules, and with every ounce in the fight to the last whistle.—John M. Thomas, President of Pennsylvania State College, in Mind and Body.
