

THE GUILFORDIAN

VOL. XII.

GUILFORD COLLEGE, N. C., FEBRUARY 17, 1926.

No. 17.

Lenoir Rhyne and Elon Fall Before Fighting Quaker Basketeers In Too Fast And Hard Fought Cage Games

Guilfordians Come From Behind To Defeat Lenoir Rhyne In The Last Few Minutes Of Play

GAME IS THRILLER

Team To Invade Virginia Territory During This Week

The "Fighting Quakers" turned the tables on two aggregations during the past week—Lenoir Rhyne and Elon College. Both games were well played and exciting. Next week the team makes an extended trip through Virginia, playing six games, including William and Mary and University of Richmond.

LENOIR RHYNE DEFEATED

Lenoir Rhyne was defeated Thursday night in a hard fought game by a score of 32 to 28. The game was devoid of all room for criticism by the thrill seeker. Coming up from a 19-10 defeat at the end of the half, the Fighting Quakers came through in the last three minutes with a rush, scoring ten points in this interval.

At the outset of the game, the boys from Hickory apparently, had the game won. Hodge and Moose caged a shot apiece and Spurlock netted two points. A foul brought the score to 7-3 Lenoir Rhyne leading. From then until the end of the half, Guilford seemed completely out-classed.

With the beginning of the second half, Guilford's skill seemed rather slow, but about half way through, the redoubtable Smith-Ferrell combination began to function normally with a tie at 26-26 as a result. Moose put the Lutherans in the lead by a snappy goal a moment later. This however, was the last score for Lenoir, while Guilford chalked up six more points.

For Guilford, the work of Moore Smith and Ferrell was of high collegiate character. For Lenoir Rhyne Moose started with Hodge running a close second.

During the intermission for half an added attraction in the form of a wrestling match entertained the audience. Fred Dunnerman of Greensboro and John R. "Swede" Hughes of Guilford College were the participants. Dunnerman, a more experienced wrestler, naturally had an edge on Hughes, but the "Fighting Swede" held him to a no-decision match.

Lineup and Summary:

Guilford	Lenoir
Russell	Hodge (11)
	R. F.
Ferrell (11)	Karriker (2)
	L. F.
Moore (2)	Moose (12)
	C.
Smith (15)	Spurlock (2)
	R. G.
Coltrane	Overcash (1)
	L. G.

Substitutions:

For Guilford:—Griffin (2) for Russell; Coble (2) for Griffin; Marshall for Coltrane.

(Continued on page 4.)

JUNIORS OFFICERS ELECTED FOR COMING SPRING TERM

At the regular meeting of the Junior Class last Wednesday night, February 10th, officers were elected for the coming term. Sidney Winslow was elected president and Julia Wolfe, vice-president. To serve with them the following were elected: Louise White, secretary; Theodore Doub, treasurer, and Raymond Thomas; marshal.

The meeting was then turned into an informal discussion and adjourned at eight o'clock.

FRESHMAN QUINT DROPS A FAST GAME TO OAK RIDGE

In one of the fastest and best games they have played so far this year, Guilford's Freshman Basketball team was defeated at the hands of Oak Ridge Institute by the score of 35 to 20. The game was hotly contested throughout. Up through the end of the first half both teams seemed about evenly matched. The score at the end of the first half was 15 to 11 in favor of Oak Ridge.

In the second half of the game, Oak Ridge showed itself the better team. Their passing and accurate shooting soon gave them a comfortable lead. They made practically every free try for the goal count, this being responsible, in a large measure, for their high score. In this half the Freshmen did not work very well together. Their passing was bad and they resorted to long shots with no success. They were also unsuccessful in their attempts to shoot foul shots.

The line up:

Guilford	Oak Ridge
Roberson	Kirkman
	R. G.
Pringle	Reynolds
	L. G.
Rabb	Pierce
	C.
Ayers	Morton
	R. F.
Marshall	Rand
	L. F.

Substitutions for Guilford: Mays for Roberson; Holt for Rabb. For Oak Ridge: Rand for Kirkman; Swift for Rand.

EAST BEND DEFEATED BY FRESHMAN CAGERS

Coming from behind after a rather bad start during the first quarter the Guilford Freshman basketball team defeated the East Bend High School team by the score of 38 to 16. East Bend started the scoring and managed to keep several points ahead of the Freshmen during the first quarter. Marshall, however, came through in the pinch and put his team in the lead by shooting two field goals. These were quickly followed by numerous shots by May. After this the Freshmen were never in danger.

The game was featured by the numerous long shots made by Coram of East Bend who was responsible for 14 of his team's points. May of Guilford was the high scorer for the Freshmen with a total of 21 points.

SOUTHERN TRIP PLANNED BY EARLHAM GLEE CLUB

Will Come To Guilford And G'boro

Last Monday morning Mr. Herman O. Miles, financial secretary of Earlham College, a sister Quaker institution, was a visitor on Guilford campus for short time. The object of his visit was to be come better acquainted with Guilford and her activities. Mr. Miles is also attempting at this time to arrange a tour through the Quaker centers of this State for the Earlham College Glee Club. He talked with The Guilford Glee Club officials about sponsoring one of the concerts either here or at Greensboro. In the event that such an arrangement could be made, he pledged his support to help the Guilford Club plan a return trip through the Friend centers of Indiana in a year or so. Nothing definite could be decided upon at this time but action will be taken on the matter in near future.

BURGLAR ATTEMPTS TO LOOT TREASURERS SAFE EARLY MONDAY MORNING

Awakens The Night Watchman Who Frustrates The Thug In Dead Of Night

Harvey Dinkins, the nightwatchman in the college book store at Guilford College, has a creepy story to tell of a visitor he entertained Sunday night about 2:00 o'clock. The visitor was none other than a nice refined burglar who had the book store cash drawer and the desk change in the Treasurer's office in view as prospective source of swag.

Evidently Mr. Dinkins, member of the vigilante committee, was pretty dead to the world under the spell of Morpheus. The gentleman on the outside had attempted to jimmy he window leading to the safe in the treasurer's office which, by the way, was warmly lined with "long green" which a few days ago had lined the pocket of the local student body. His efforts here had not awakened the sleeping sentry. The window opening into Miss Mand L. Gainey's office, however, is so barred that it presents about as many difficulties to passage as the barbed wire entanglements skirting "no man's land". So the energetic looter became disgusted in his efforts there and moved his little step ladder over the next window. Here he was engaged in clipping away the creeping ivy that clung "to the moldering wall", when the man on the inside, according to his story, "became involved in a rodeo with a nightmare". Perhaps it was due to the influence of the 38 Colt gun which he was using as a pillow. He said he rode the nightmare around for a few shorts seconds and was awakened with a strong desire to take the Colt out for a little sure-enough airing. By this time the bold intruder had flashed a light inside but had overlooked the bed of the sleeper at the far end of the little post-office room next to the treasurer's office.

By this time, according to the story of Mr. Dinkins, things had gone entirely too far for matter on a well regulated nightwatchman's beat. The Colt was straining at the bit and longing to snort with warhorse fury.

The intruder was just fixing to step inside the window when he was accosted and questioned as to what he desired which the man on the inside could help him to. However, at this juncture, the dark visitor suddenly remembered that, according to the law of chance, hemmed night-watchman shoot to hit once in about ever so often. So waiting for no second polite overture for conversation from the sleepy host inside he left his little ladder by the wall and betook himself to his limousine which was parked a couple of hundred yards away. Mr. Dinkins was so engrossed with

(Continued on page 3.)

IN GREENSBORO SOON

Musical
February 17.
Fritz Kreisler at National Theatre.
March 3.
John Philip Sousa and his band at National Theatre.
March 8.
Florence Macbeth, Soprano, at Odell Memorial Hall.
Cinema
February 22, 23.
Harold Loyd in "Hot water" at National Theatre.
February 24, 25.
John Barrymore in "Sea-beast" at National Theatre.
March 8, 9, 10.
Lon Chaney in "Phantom of the Opera" at National Theatre.

CAMPUS CALENDAR

Feb. 18. Freshmen Vs. State Freshmen
Feb. 20. Guildersleeves' Recital
Feb. 22. Richmond Blues Game
Feb. 24. N. C. State Game
Feb. 25. Wake Forest Game

"CAPITAL PUNISHMENT" IS SUBJECT OF CHAPEL TALK

Reverend H. P. Marley, pastor of the Elam Street Christian Church, Greensboro, spoke for a few minutes in chapel last Thursday morning about capital punishment. At the beginning to his talk, he made the statement that "some authorities hold that we have to have capital punishment, because the people demand it." He soon proved that this was the wrong view point and that the majority of our population is willing to abolish a punishment, so harsh and unfair.

"It was a system of injustice even in early times," he said. "If a man killed his servant, nothing was done to him; but if he killed one of his neighbors, he suffered the supreme penalty." There are now many offences of which the penalty is capital punishment. North Carolina has four; in many other states this number is greatly exceeded.

The only way to abolish this form of inflicting punishment is to arouse and agitate public sentiment. Capital punishment is now being debated in high schools throughout the states; the press and moving pictures are ex-

(Continued on page 3.)

SAMUEL HAWORTH SPEAKS ON BUILDING A CHARACTER

Wednesday morning professor Samuel Haworth gave an interesting and well illustrated chapel talk on the value and benefits of thorough work, whatever the task may be.

Professor Haworth began his talk by portraying the scenic beauty of a noted drive in France which from the City of Niemes winds its way around the hills and through the valleys of the country along the river Gard. A traveler who follows this drive for some few miles outside the city, upon passing around a sharp bend in the river, suddenly comes upon the scene of one of the most astounding pieces of Roman architecture namely, the ancient Roman aqueduct which crossed the river valley.

The piers of this structure are about eighty feet apart and are one hundred feet high. "So well shaped and fitted," said Mr. Haworth, "were the massive stones in this aqueduct that the structure has, during all these centuries, withstood weathering, storm and the shock of battle."

Professor Haworth emphasized the fact that as it took the Roman builders ages to construct this famous structure, which has withstood the ages, just as true it is that it takes time to mould a character worth while, or master a cause of study.

"It is possible," continued professor Haworth, "to cram enough just before an examination to pass the test but the true benefits of the course are not derived."

In his closing remarks the speaker stressed the fact that it is not necessary to go to some distant country to build a piece of architecture, "every student at Guilford has the opportunity to build a great structure namely, a good character."

MRS. K. C. BENBOW AND GURNEY BRIGGS PLEASE APPRECIATIVE AUDIENCE

Was By Far The Best Vocal Program Of Year

Wednesday evening, February 10, Mrs. K. C. Benbow, of Greensboro and Mr. J. Gurney Briggs of High Point gave one of the most classical musical performances that has been given at the college this year. Unfortunately this concert was not on the regular lyceum course and the audience was not so large as was expected.

It had been announced that Miss Edith Moore of High Point was to sing with Mr. Briggs, but due to illness she was not able to fill the engagement. Mrs. K. C. Benbow, Soprano soloist at West Market Methodist Church in Greensboro took Miss Moore's place in the concert. Mrs. Benbow sang with great ease and expression. Her interpretation of the "Aria" from "La Traviata" captivated her audience. From her first appearance to the last she commanded rapt attention. In responding to calls for encores she sang, "Passed by Your Window" by Brake, and Deilmunts "Such a Lil' Fellow."

Mr. Briggs, lyric tenor, who was director of the Guilford Glee Club last year and was instrumental in putting it through a most successful year, retained all reputation which he had. His numbers consisted of old classics and songs of the modern school. He was best received in his song, "There is no Death," by D'Hara. He, too, was called for encores, for which he sang, "The Star" by Rogers.

Miss Helen Glenn Rankin, organist at the West Market M. E. Church accompanied Mrs. Benbow and Mr. Briggs. The entertainment was sponsored by the Glee Club.

The program as follows:

- I. Caro Mio Ben—Giordani
Total Eclipse (Sampson)—
Mr. Briggs.
- II. The Answer—Terry
Aria from La Traviata—Verdi
Mrs. Benbow
- III. Your Spirit Dwells with me—
Penn
Ecstasy—Scott
- IV. Song of India—Rimsky Kor-
sokom
Will O' the Wisp—Spross
Mrs. Benbow
- V. Spirit Flower—Campbell Tipton
There is no Death—D'Hara
Mr. Briggs
- VI. The Swallow—Del'acqua
At Eventide—Grey
Mrs. Benbow

Storms on the Atlantic and near the coast have resulted in many S. O. S. calls, wrecks and loss of lives. The latest disaster near the Jersey coast claims three barges with eight lives.

MISS BENBOW, MATRON OF GUILFORD, RETURNS HOME

Miss Sallie Benbow, matron of Guilford College has returned, after spending ten weeks in the hospital.

"Miss Sallie after a few days of illness was taken to the Wesley Long Hospital in Greensboro. It was necessary for her to be examined several times before they found out that she had the same trouble that ten other Guilfordians have had this year, appendicitis. After an operation she began to recover immediately.

Miss Benbow has served as matron of Guilford for over 22 years. During her first years here, her duties were much heavier than at present. She planned all the meals, hired most of the help, and acted as nurse for all of the college; besides performing the many duties of a matron.