William K. Hoyt Of Winston-Salem Journal Delivers Main Address

TECHNICIAN BEST PAPER

"Archive" Is Selected As The Best Literary Magazine In The State

Mr. William K. Hoyt, business manager of the Winston-Salem Journal and widely known newspaper man, addressed the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association, Thursday night. He stated that he believed the general character and merit of college papers had greatly improved in the short time that the Press association had been functioning.

In newspaper work, it is necessary to keep the enthusiasm of youth. A newspaper man cannot afford to get behind the times, and for this reason many older men lose out. A youthful mind with its indignation against wrong, its optimism and its ability to observe, is essential for a successful newspaper.

Newspapers need college people. It was true that for some time, and still in some places today, the college journalist was looked upon with suspicion. Dr. Freeman defined a journalist as a "man who borrows money from a newspaper man, and does not pay it back." This, however, is not the popular idea at present.

THE POLITICAL SITUATION IN CUBA IS MORE STABLE

Dr. Binford, in his chapel talk Friday, spoke of the political situation in Cuba. There are three parties in Cuba. The first party of which he spoke was that of the grafters. Another party is that of the patriots who are idealists. A third party wants a peaceful existence.

In 1907 Palmer was routed from the presidency by the grafters and since the United States was still interested in the governmental affairs of Cuba, Roosevelt sent Taft down to straighten things out. But Taft, intending to run for president, did not wish to become very deeply involved in the affairs there, for fear it would hurt his chances for becoming president. He, therefore, effected a compromise. Gomez was the elected president of Cuba. He was deeply in debt when he went into office and all his debts were paid, and $16,000,000 was accumulated by him during the four years he was in office. Such has been the politics in Cuba.

"The president in office now," Dr. Binford stated, "seems to have the respect and confidence of the people."

FATHER OF MISS RAYLE PASSES AWAY THURSDAY

Last Thursday morning Mr. W. H. Rayle, father of Miss Elma Rayle died suddenly at his home in the community. He has been in bad health for some time but his passing was unexpected.

Miss Rayle has for over ten years been connected with the college and has for the past year taken the place of Miss Benbow who died a few weeks ago. Her many friends among the students and alumni will be sorry to hear of her bereavement.

CARD OF THANKS

To the faculty, the girls of Founders and the boys of the College for their kind remembrances at the death of my Father.

Elma Rayle.

College Journalists Hold a Three Day Session Here April 29-May 1

BANQUET FRIDAY EVENING

About Sixty Delegates Attend Semi-Annual Event As The Guilfordian's Guest

Coming from fifteen colleges and universities of the state, about sixty delegates attended the eleventh semi-annual convention of the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association held here April 29-May 1 inclusive.

The regular sessions started Thursday night when Mr. William K. Hoyt of the Winston-Salem Journal addressed the convention. As short reception was held after the meeting and the delegates spent the remainder of the evening getting acquainted with each other and later attending the National Theatre. Friday morning President E. G. Moore, editor of the Technician, gave his speech, "The Penalty Of Freedom." Following this were held discussion groups of newspapers, magazines and annuals. These were continued in the afternoon and at four o'clock a visit was made to the Guilford Court House Battle Ground. Friday night a banquet was held in the Jefferson Standard Club Rooms, followed by a reception. The Saturday morning meeting was taken up by discussion group gatherings and general business. The "TECHNICIAN" was selected as the best weekly paper, the "ARCHIVE" as the best literary magazine and the "CAROLINA MAGAZINE" as second best. No choice was made of the best annual as only a few are as yet off the press. The Association decided to adopt a pin to be worn by the managers and editors of the member publications.

Byron Haworth, editor of the Guilfordian was elected president of the Association; Dorothy Seiwiers, secretary and John Anderson, treasurer. Doctor Binford gave the closing talk of the convention speaking on "Human Behavior." Many of the delegates remained for the Elon-Guilford baseball game played in the afternoon.

The convention unanimously voted to hold its next meeting at Salem College.

FULL OF THE FLORIDA BOOM DOCTOR BINFORD RETURNS TO GUILFORD

In his first chapel talk after his return from a trip to Cuba, President Binford spoke Thursday morning to the students about the great boom in Florida.

President Binford in his opening remarks mentioned briefly the great California gold-rush which was not unlike the recent rush to Florida. He then gave an impersonation of the real estate agents who were trying to sell homes and lots in "the land of perpetual sunshine."

"I met only one man," he said, "who admitted that the boom is over." The speaker also pictured how the artificial islands which were dredged from the river bottom were being sold at $2000 per lot, even the many small islands along the coast were priced like precious jewels. In the parks and in the midst of the developments, lecturers and speakers are all this time busily engaged in telling the people what a wonderful place Florida will be in only a short time.

"It would be almost impossible," concluded President Binford, "for one to go through with one hundred dollars without a real estate man getting it."

Wade Lindley

Besides playing good ball at first base "Parson" is hitting over 300 and has been for the past two years one of the most valuable men on the team.

DOCTOR BINFORD RETURNS TO GUILFORD AFTER FOUR WEEKS IN CUBAN MISSION

Spends Month Investigating Educational System And Friends' Mission

President Binford has returned from a four weeks trip into the island of Cuba, where he has been studying the conditions existing among the mission schools which are receiving support from the contributions made by Friends in the United States. He was working according to the direction of the Friends' Mission Board.

Two things which Dr. Binford is convinced of are that the best condition that the people of the United States can give to our island neighbor is to help the educational situation there, and the best aid that Friends' can give in their own work in the island is means by which more trained natives can be made available for work among their fellow countrymen.

At the present time, the Cubans have no compulsory attendance laws for their schools. Only 23% of all the children of intermediate school age are enrolled in school, and the average attendance of those enrolled is only 66%. In each of the six provinces there is a high school. These high schools are entirely inadequate to meet the needs of the people. The National University, situated at Havana, is the only institution of higher learning in the island. Dr. Binford states the Friends' have considerable educational facilities with their mission equipment at Holoquin. The Friends' Board of Missions is working to give their best to the Cubans along educational lines.

RELIGION MUST BE LIVED TO BE OF VALUE IN LIFE

Milo Hinkle, pastor of the Asheboro Street Friend's Church in Greensboro, spoke before students and faculty in chapel, Tuesday morning, April 27.

The chief theme of his address was, "Religion and Life." The only type of religion which appeals to youth is a life which pays. The test for real life is to see life relived after the pattern laid down by Jesus Christ.

The tendency of the time is to swing with the pendulum and take the easiest position on religious questions. In closing, Mr. Hinkle said, "Life without religion is just as useless as religion without life. It is perfectly possible to follow Christ without compromising any of the good things of noble living."

Guilford Wins Over Lynchburg, Davidson and Elon and Better's Chance for State Championship

Elon Takes Early Lead Off Rabb But Is Stopped By Coltrane

SCORE SIX TO FIVE

Quakers Come Out Of Slump And Win Game In Last Few Innings

In the closest and most thrilling game of the season Elon was defeated here Saturday by the score of 6-5, Guilford overcoming a four run lead in the last few innings.

Too much credit cannot be given to Coltrane who relieved Rabb in the second inning. Going in, with two men on bases, he worked himself out of the hole without allowing a single hit. He had the Elon batters swinging wildly at his underhand shoots. Only two hits, one a scratch infield hit, were gotten off his delivery.

Kendall, Guilford rightfielder, was the hitting star of the game, getting a double, and two singles in four trips to the plate. Raub hit best for Elon getting a double and two singles in five times up.

Guilford scored one run in the first inning. Griffin first up, hit to first, who juggled the ball. F. Smith sacrificed him to second. Kendall singled scoring Griffin, but was thrown out trying to stretch his hit. Ferrell singled but Lindley popped up to second base.

Elon came back and scored two runs in the second inning and added three more in the third inning, driving Rabb from the box. Lindley first up in third, walked. Rabb singled, Crutchfield singled scoring Lindley and Coltrane relieved Rabb. Bralon hit to second and Rabb was caught at the plate. Slaughter was hit by a pitched ball and Shepherd hit to Griffin who errored, and two runs came over the plate. C. Crutchfield struckout, ending the frame.

Guilford scored one in the fourth inning when Kendall tripled and scored on Lindley's sacrifice fly to right field, making the score five to two.

In the next inning Guilford got next to Bryant and scored 4 runs, winning the game. Hendrickson, first up, doubled, Edwards went out, pitcher to first. Coltrane proceeded to help win

FIGHTING QUAKER NINE IS OFF ON VIRGINIA INVASION BEFORE UNIVERSITY GAME

Monday at noon the Fighting Quaker baseball team left for a northern trip which will last for the remainder of the week.

On May 4 the Guilford squad will encounter the Roanoke College nine at Salem Va. On May 5 they will meet Washington and Lee at Lexington and on May 6 Bridgewater at Bridgewater Va. Games with Georgetown at Washington D. C., and the Quantico Marines, on their home field, will complete the Virginia invasion.

Shirt Smith, who has been off the mound for the past four games with a sore arm, will be in good condition and should make it two straight against Quantico, the team he defeated at the first of the season. Poole, the southpaw from Davidson, is expected to turn in some victories for Coach Doak against some of the out-of-state teams. Both Coltrane and Rabb have shown what they could do. With these four Guilford should bring back several scalps.

If Kendall, Ferrell and the rest of the steady hitters continue their present policy of maintaining a batting average of about .400, Carolina will have to play a defensively game May 11.

Rabb Holds Wildcats To Few Scattered Hits and Quakers Win 11-2

STRIKES OUT 12 MEN

Poole Shows Up Fine On Home Field And Defeats Strong Lynchburg Team

The Guilford baseball team journeyed up to Winston-Salem Thursday and completely tamed the Davidson wildcats by the score of 11-2.

The Quakers hit the ball to all corners of the lot, getting 14 hits. All the while Rabb pitching for Guilford held the Davidson sluggers to 6 hits. Not a single earned run was made off him. He struck out 12 men during the game and walked only 3. Too much cannot be said about him, for he held the Davidson batters at his mercy throughout the game, and pitched one of the best college games that has been seen in the state this season.

Guilford scored 2 in the second inning drawing first blood. Hendrickson tripled sending Lindley over, and Edwards hit a sacrifice scoring Hendrickson. Rabb struck out to end the inning. Guilford scored in every inning after this except the seventh and

VIOLIN CONCERT ENJOYED AS LAST LYCEUM NUMBER

Elene de Sayn, Violinist, gave a concert in Memorial Hall, Saturday night, May 1, as the last number of the Lyceum course this year.

Miss De Sayn is a graduate of the Royal Conservatory in Leipsig on the violin and piano. The great violinist, Auer, has taught her and has termed his method of technique perfect in her. She is at present director of the Sayn school of the Art of the Violin in Washington, D. C.

Miss de Sayn's program was well taken by her Guilford College audience. She proved her ability as an artist especially in her group of Russian numbers, Tshaikowsky's "Serenade Melancolique" and "Mazourka" by Zarzycki. Her interpretation of the "Spinning Song" by Popper-Auer was also well received.

Mr. Milton Boyce of New York accompanied at the piano.

The program follows:

1. Concerto D minor—Vieuxtemps
Introduction Cadenza
Adagio Religioso
Finale
2. (a) En Bateau—Debussy
(b) Spinning Song—Popper-Auer
(c) Guitarre — Moszkowski-Sarasate
3. (a) Serenade Melancolique—Tshaikowsky
(b) Mazourka—Zarzycki
4. "Faust" Fantasie—Wieniawski.

PRIME REQUISITE OF TRUE GIANTHOOD IS GENTLENESS

Joseph Peele, in chapel Monday morning, read a part of the book, "The Investment of Influence," by Dr. Hillis.

The main topic of the reading was the gentleness of gianthood. A fine structure of body and mind being the first characteristic of a true gentleness go hand as another great asset. "Jesus Christ is the only perfect giant the world has ever known."

In conclusion Mr. Peele read a sketch of the life of Carlyle who lacked gentleness, the characteristic which has always been the test for gianthood, and due to this lack of gianthood, became bitter.
