Without Miss Louise The College Will Seem Bleak

ENJOYING A REST

Returning Students Feel the Loss of Beloved Teacher From Faculty List.

PRESIDENT PAYS TRIBUTE

With the opening of school the usual necessities were apparently present, but one obvious one was missed by all—the smile of welcome and useful advice which has so long been offered by Miss Louise Osborne.

It is to express our benevolent gratitude that the Guilfordian wishes to heartily endorse this tribute of love and sincere remembrance paid to her, who for thirty-four years has served Guilford College as Dean of Women.

(Taken from a report made by Dr. Binford in the 1926 N. C. Yearly-Meeting Minutes.)

"We wish to record at this time our appreciation of the long and faithful service of H. Louise Osborne as Dean of Women. She has been connected with the college since 1892 and has given her life to her work in a most unselfish way. Her sympathetic devotion to the young women of the college and her untiring efforts to protect and guide them into a wholesome way of life have been marked by unusual success. The young men and women who have come under the influence of her spirit and have received the benefit of her keen pertinent criticisms have gone out into the world and lived lives that are a real tribute to her genius and her personal power. In devotion to her work and in efficiency in carrying out the purposes of the institution, we have not had a more valuable member of the faculty. We regret that failing strength makes it necessary for her to withdraw from the active service as the Dean of Women, but we are happy to be assured that her influence will remain with us. In the love of our students, in the incidents that our graduates like to recall, in the traditions, and spirit of the college Miss Osborne continues to hold a central place."

Miss Louise, as she was called by the students, graduated from Earlham College in Richmond, Indiana, with the class of 1887. From this time until she came to Guilford College, she taught in schools in Indiana and Illinois. These thirty-four years Miss Louise has served at this institution not only as Dean of Women, but as Professor of Latin.

Through her motherly disposition she has won for herself that deep feeling of love and devotion in the hearts, not only of the students, but of all who knew her.

COLLEGE LOSES SEVERAL MEMBERS OLD FACULTY

"Chem" Smith Goes to Iowa—Algie Newlin to Johns Hopkins University.

Faculty members of last year who did not return to Guilford College may be found scattered in various sections of the globe. They have accepted varied occupations, some in school and others at work.

Miss Louise H. Osborne, has been dean of women for the past thirty-four years and is now visiting her aunt in California for a few months. She will later make her home in Greensboro, Indiana.

Mr. Rufus Cox, who taught in the education and English department last year has entered the life game.

ALMOST A HUNDRED FRESHIES ON CAMPUS FOR FRESHMAN WEEK

Spend the Time Getting Acquainted and Hearing Instructional Lectures.

HAVE A HIKE ON SUNDAY

Freshman Week, which started only last year, was such a great success that a more extensive program was mapped out for this year. Friday, 10, was the date set for the Freshmen registration and to date nearly 90 new members have matriculated, 42 girls and a few more boys. Twenty more freshmen are expected to enter later.

Friday 10, a regular daily program was followed, consisting of a mass meeting, class periods for assignments and games. Friday evening the new arrivals gathered on Founders Porch to hear a lecture by Dr. Hobbs.

After a song and yell rehearsal Saturday evening the Freshmen went to Memorial Hall to hear lectures by Samuel Haworth and Dr. Binford.

Mr. Haworth compared both men and women to the grain and fruits of the earth, saying that there are "firsts" and "seconds" among human beings just as in wheat or apples. A man or woman must meet the following requirements to be qualified in the "first class."

1. They must have strong, clean, healthy, efficiently trained bodies.
2. They must read things that are worth reading and remember them.
3. They must have judgement that can carefully distinguish between right and wrong.
4. They must have just and due consideration of the rights and creeds of others.

Dr. Binford in his lecture emphasized the importance of mastering each daily lesson.

Outside activities, although an essential part of a successful college career should not be placed before daily lessons.

SEVEN NEW FACULTY MEMBERS THIS YEAR

New Dean of Women Most Noticeable Change—Miss Tapley Succeeding Miss Osborne.

CHANGES IN MUSIC DEPARTMENT

Guilford College will have several new faculty members for the year 1926-27. Mr. P. Evans Coleman of New York City, who has his M. A. degree in Economics and Sociology from the University of Chicago, will head the department of Economics and Business.

The piano department has secured Miss E. Bertha Yocom who is an unusually talented pupil of Leschetizky. Before coming south, Miss Yocom won the reputation of being one of the foremost exponents of Leschetizky in Philadelphia and New York. Her regard in the South has placed her in the front rank, both as a teacher and pianist. She has taught in Europe and is well qualified both musically and as a pedagogue.

Dr. Charles N. Ott of Oskaloosa, Iowa will head the Chemistry Department this year. Dr. Ott is a graduate of Penn College and was head of the Chemistry department there last year. He received his Doctor's degree from the State University of Iowa.

Due to the absence of Miss Louise Osborne, Miss Gladys Tapley of Washington, D. C. will be Dean of Women. She will also teach Latin.

The vacancy in the history department will be filled by Henry T. Tinsley, who received his A. B. degree at Baylor university in Texas, and has done graduate work at the University of Chicago. Last year Mr. Tinsley was professor of history and dean of men at Decatur college in Texas.

Miss Dorothy Gilbert, graduate of Earlham College and who has done graduate work at Columbia, will have charge of the girls' athletics and girls' physical education.

Miss Laura Worth is temporarily matron of Founders Hall.

Mr. F. Hill Turner, who lacks one summer's work of having his doctor's degree from Columbia, will be Business Manager of the college.

The remainder of the faculty will be practically the same as last year.

OPTIMISM PREVAILS OVER THE FOOTBALL SQUAD AT GUILFORD

Coach Doak is pleased with Early Try-Outs of His Fall Material.

SOME VETERANS RETURN

With a large number of letter men, and several of last year's reserves, together with the splendid new material that has arrived in camp, Coach Robert Doak is highly pleased with the prospects of a good football season for Guilford college in the 1926 grid campaign.

Two practices daily have been on the program since the first drill was held, and every man is fast becoming hardened and is swiftly introduced to the system used by Coach Doak.

A few vacancies were left in positions from last year due to graduation. But the team will probably be built around Captain Murray White, fullback; Ray Parrish, end; Lindley and Tew, tackles; Hoyle, guard; Ebert, guard; Robertson, halfback; Kimrey, quarterback; and Marshall and Trivette, substitutes last year will probably have important places on this year's squad.

The team will keenly feel the loss of "Kinky" Hendrickson, and "Chunkum" Walker, but Frazier Edwards, substitute center last year is fast working into shape and will probably be ready to take Walker's place at center.

Arthur Hughes, brother of "Red" Hughes and a star tackle on the Oak Ridge eleven last year is one of the most promising prospects from the new material.

Moon, backfield star at Nebraska Central last year, and Harold Cox, a lineman from Alexandra high school, Ed Moore, a 230 pounder from Liberty high school, Bryce Neese, from Graham high school, Richardson, from Pomona high school at present seem to stand the best chances of making places on the first squad out of the first year men. Stanley Moore, star basketball center is working hard for a place and he is one of the swiftest men on the field. There are also a number of good athletes who came from high schools where they do not play football who bid fare to develop into good substitutes in a few weeks.

SCOTT PARKER ELECTED MANAGER GUILFORDIAN

Succeeds Carey Reese, Who Did Not Return For This Year's Work. He Scouts For Ads.

A. Scott Parker, Jr., of High Point, a Westtown graduate and this year a sophomore at Guilford, officially assumed the responsibility as business manager of the Guilfordian during the summer. Carey Reese, who was elected to this position last spring found it impossible to serve and Mr. Parker was immediately authorized to take over the work.

The newly elected manager has exhibited considerable talent along this line. The success of last year's Freshman basketball team was due chiefly to his management. With this experience together with the fact that he is a natural born business man, the Guilfordian expects to have a successful financial year.

Mr. Parker has already sold enough ads to insure several publications and hopes to be able to finance a six page issue once a month. He also plans to make a campaign for a larger subscription list.

AMID SCENES OF WILD REVELRY AND MERRYMAKING RETURNING SOPHOMORES WELCOME NEW FRESHMEN

The Quaker silence of Guilford College was broken last Thursday and Friday by the arrival of a number of Freshmen in quest of higher learning. Different members of the Y. M. and Y. W. Cabinets were present to meet all trains lest some of the new seekers of knowledge might, by mistake, pass by unheeded. The stream continued to swell until by Friday night over 80 new students had arrived. Then there was a mad rush to meet roommates, unpack trunks and settle down to college life.

Friday was registration day. All Freshmen were given a card to fill out telling their name, age, schools attended, etc. After answering a number of such questions the new students retired to their various places of abode.

By Monday morning the new students were beginning to feel at home. Practically all of them were fast becoming collegiate; they could use several campus expressions with ease, imitate the different professors and talk with a great deal of enlightenment about college courses. There was nothing else to be desired.

Monday morning saw the arrival of the old students who walked in and seemed to take everything in charge. It was rumored throughout the Freshman ranks that the dreaded Sophs had

Members of Y. M. Cabinet Guests of Y. W. At Perisho Cottage Sunday Evening.

The members of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet were the guests of the Y. W. C. A. at the Perisho cottage Sunday evening. After lunch on the lawn the two cabinets discussed plans for the coming year. It was the opinion of all present that an attempt should be made to give variety and interest to the Sunday school and to the Y. W. and Y. M. meetings.
