

GIRLS' ATHLETICS UNDER DIRECTION OF MISS GILBERT

Hockey Practice Already Begun
With Eighty-five Signed Up
For the Sport

TENNIS IS ALSO POPULAR

New Athletic Equipment is Ordered.
Inter Class Series Will Open
During November.

The fact that there was a seemingly unavoidable slump in girls' athletics at Guilford College last year will soon be forgotten. New interest has filled the girls with pep and enthusiasm, and the coming season bids fair to be one for friendly rivalry and cooperation in developing girls' athletics on the campus.

The most important factor in this cultivation of feminine physical alertness is the new girls' athletic director, Miss Dorothy Gilbert, a graduate of Earlham College and graduate student at Columbia university. She will also have charge of the girls' physical education. Under her capable directorship the prospects for good teams in field hockey, tennis, basket-ball, and track, in their proper seasons, seem bright indeed.

There are eighty-five girls out for hockey and approximately fifty girls have signed up for tennis. There is still a considerable number who have not signed up for either sport.

The inter-class series in hockey will be held early in November; a tennis tournament will also be held.

New clubs and balls have been ordered for the use of the hockey squads, and there seems to be plenty of good material in the number who have played this sport before. Field hockey is a well known European game which has developed with increasing popularity in America for the past five years.

Soccer may be introduced at the end of the hockey season.

President Thomas

TALK BY DR. BINFORD

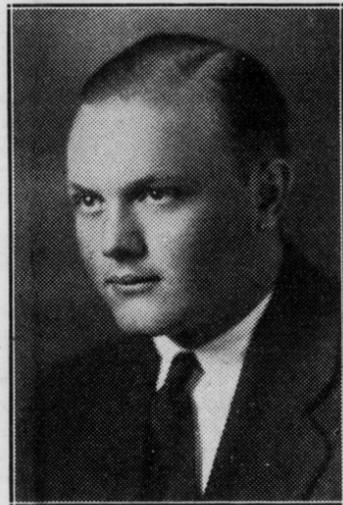

About one hundred men attended the opening meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Thursday night, which was conducted by the President of the Cabinet, Raymond Thomas. Mr. Thomas said in brief: "The Y. M. C. A. is not for any single type of men but has a universal appeal to all types and classes of men who come to the college campus. The thing that gets your attention gets you. Let us all check up on ourselves and really see what we are made of. Why not establish high moral and ethical standards and by cooperating with the college leaders make this one of the highest spirited and enthusiastic Associations in the State?"

"What does the Y. M. C. A. do at Guilford? Our Thursday night meetings provide a place for each of you men to come, where you may shed your petty worries and be lifted to a high fellowship with your fellow men and the Infinite. The Y. M. C. PRESS ASSOCIATION IS TO CONVENE AT SALEM

College Editors to Meet October 28-30
As Guests of the Winston
Moravian College.

The members of the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association will soon, if they haven't already, receive a notice of the fall meeting of the Association, which is to be held at Salem college on the 28, 29, and 30 of October.

The Salem maidens, under the leadership of Miss Dorothy Siewers, editor of the Salemite and secretary of the N. C. C. P. A. are hard at work and are preparing an interesting program. About the same number of delegates are expected to attend this convention as were present at Guilford last Spring.

The speakers for the occasion have not yet been secured definitely, but an attempt is being made to get men who are widely known in the newspaper world and who will add prestige and enthusiasm to the convention.

French Holt and Dan Ireland returned to their respective homes in Alamance county and spent the week-end.

OPENING RECEPTION INAUGURATES SOCIAL LIFE ACTIVITIES HERE

Faculty and "Y" Presidents
Stand In Receiving Line to Meet New Students

PUNCH SERVED ON LAWN

Students Spend Time Getting Acquainted and Meeting Newcomers While
Campus is Covered.

An introductory reception, Saturday night, September 18, marked the formal opening of the social life of this year.

At the hour of eight, 300 students, old and new, each novice escorted by an initiated Guilfordian were gathered on the steps of the Library awaiting turns to go down the impressive receiving line of faculty.

After the cordial handshakes had been exchanged each person was presented with a grey leaflet bound by a red cord and a pencil, the blank pages were quickly filled with the various signatures of those present, faculty, students, and old scholars were soon mingled in animated moving groups as old friends and new acquaintances indiscriminately exchanged names.

Outdoors, at each side of the steps, copious bowls of punch awaited those who left the crowded hall in favor of the clear cool evening.

Along the walks strolled many couples and everywhere the general spirit of comradeship seemed well established.

Beatrice Byrd of Greensboro gave a song recital, Tuesday evening, in Memorial Hall under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Society of New Garden Friends Church. Miss Byrd was a former teacher of piano at Guilford College.

Miss Byrd's program was varied and well selected for the ability of her voice. She was best received in "Songs My Mother Taught Me" by Dvorak, and her audience responded greatly to her interpretation of Fourdrain's "Chanson Norriegienne." By request Miss Byrd played an old Irish tune "Lundonary Aire."

Miss Nell Lee Clapp, of Greensboro, served as Miss Byrd's accompanist.

The program in full follows:

MISS BERTHA YOCUM TO GIVE A RECITAL

Head of Piano Department
Here Is to Play Before Guilford
Audience Saturday

ACCOMPLISHED MUSICIAN

Saturday, October 2, at 8:15 o'clock, Miss Berthea Yocum, who is the head of the Piano and Theoretical branches at Guilford college, will give a recital in Memorial Hall.

Miss Yocum made her debut in New York, under the Langen Concert management. She has since appeared in Philadelphia, Nashville, Dallas, Jackson, and other cities.

Besides her ability as a pianist, Miss Yocum is a teacher of broad experience and training.

After passing through the entire curriculum of the Philadelphia Musical Academy, she became a pupil of the late Mme. Melanie de Wienz Kowaska, Principal and authorized Preparer of students for Prof. Theodor Leschetizky of Vienna. Miss Yocum went to Vienna for cutical study under Prof. Leschetizky and his assistants. She has played for Ossop Gabrilocoitsch, and coached with Edwin Hughes, Frank La Forge, and Wager Leoayne in Paris.

As a teacher, Miss Yocum was recognized as exponent of Leschetizky in New York and Philadelphia before going South, where her work is widely known in colleges and as Normal Piano Director.

The Musical Courier of New York has endorsed the work of Miss Yocum throughout her career. While recognizing her work as pianist and teacher, it also expressed great encouragement to her as a composer, comparing her song writing to that of the old Italian writers of the Scarlatti period.

In Guilford college, Miss Yocum will give private instruction in piano, and conduct classes in Theory and Sight Singing, Harmony, Analysis and Ensemble work for two pianos, including readings of Symphonic works.

Students are invited to interview Miss Yocum concerning any of the subjects.

FIRST Y. W. MEETING IS HELD ON CAMPUS

The first Y. W. C. A. meeting for the year was held on the campus in the form of an introduction to the new girls. Maie Holliday, the president, opened the meeting by reading Psalm 121 followed by a prayer. After a few remarks she introduced each member of the cabinet, they in turn introducing their work for the coming year. Through this, the Freshmen girls received an idea of what Y. W. will stand for, and their part in making it successful for without the cooperation of the Freshmen Y. W. will not mean what it should on the campus.

BEATTY IS STAR

Duke's Aerial Attack Overcomes
Quakers Weakened
By Loss of Beatty

WAS CLEAN FOUGHT GAME

On Saturday, September 25th, at Durham, Guilford college opened her football season with Duke university as an opponent. It was poor football weather, the excessive heat causing players to lose from five to ten pounds each from perspiration.

The score was 32 to 0 in favor of Duke university; but the score was not a true indication of the playing of the two teams. Guilford outplayed Duke the first quarter, getting within 20 yards of Duke's goal, where Beatty, Guilford's quarter-back lacked a few inches of registering a drop kick. In the second quarter Duke, failing to make gains through the line, began a series of passes, which netted two touch downs for 13 points, which was the score at the end of the first half. During the whole game Duke made 13 first downs to Guilford's four. Duke was penalized 60 yards and Guilford 15. Duke completed seven passes out of 15 attempts, and Guilford completed three out of four attempts. In the second half Guilford's team was somewhat disorganized on account of the loss of quarter-back Beatty through an injury to his ankle, and Duke scored 19 points. The game was free from roughness. All of Duke's last year men were in the game except one, while Guilford has lost four of its last year first string men. However, Guilford made a very creditable showing.

The lineup of the two teams was:

Duke (32)	Guilford (0)
Position
Bennett	Parish
	L. E.
Thompson, (C.)	Lindley
Jones	Hoyle
	L. G.
Hunter	Turner

Eames	Tew

Weatherby	Hughes

PRES. BINFORD EXTENDS WELCOME TO FRESHMEN

Expressed Hope That Students Will Aid and Cooperate With
New Faculty.

President Raymond Binford opened his welcome address to the students of Guilford college, Tuesday morning, by reading a passage of scripture. After a silent prayer, Dr. Binford said, "It is with real thankfulness that we welcome you this morning." He mentioned the absent faces among the faculty and suggested that their loss be made up by the students living sacrificial lives and by standing for the ideals of those who cannot be back.

The examination approved by Dr. Binford for students consisted of the following requirements: First, that one be man enough to get up promptly, go to meals and classes promptly, and go to bed at a fixed time every night. Second, that one be able to go off and study lessons until he knows them. Third, that one be able to carry loose change in his pocket without spending it. Fourth, that one be willing to fail rather than steal information from another's paper.
