WEB NOTES

President Dan Ireland
 Vice-President Robert Ayers
 Secretary Paul Chandler
 Marshall Edward Moore, Jr.

"Resolved, That a Republican victory in the coming election would be to the best interest of the United States," was the question for discussion in the Websterian hall, Friday evening, May 20. This was the question that any number of the Websterian Society could speak on, the speaker being at liberty to select the side that he desired to prove. Seven of the society members responded to the opportunity. They were as follows: Robert Hodgkin, Olin Sink, Graham Allen, Leslie Murphy, Harry Deifay, Alton Tew and Bradley Ward. After the contest the judges retired from the hall only to return in a few minutes to award the annual improvement medal to Bradley Ward, the winner of the evening. Paul Jassimides, who, according to the society's records, has been the most constant member of the society received the annual consistency prize given by Mr. W. L. Rudd, of Burlington.

The Society was very glad to welcome as visitors Dr. Smith, of the local community and Clifton Pearson.

CLAY NOTES

President Charles Friddle
 Vice-President Scott Parker
 Secretary Patterson Hutchins
 Sargeant-of-arms Howard Cannon
 Chaplin Ira Newlin

The contest for the improvement medal was held by the Henry Clay Literary Society Friday night. Five freshmen spoke on the query: Resolved, That the constitution of the United States should be so amended as to provide for a uniform divorce law. Currie Spivey, Howard Cannon, and Eugene Hire, speaking on the affirmative side of the query, proved the necessity of a uniform divorce law by showing that the present situation cannot be remedied by any other method. Hale Newline and Luther Francis, negative speakers, emphasized the fact that such a law would infringe on state rights.

The following officers were elected to serve the society: President, Byron Haworth; vice-president, A. Scott Parker; secretary, Walter Davis; treasurer, Everette Beamon; assistant secretary, Glenn Boose; censor, Currie Spivey; chaplain, Patterson Hutchins; sergeant-at arms, Barclay Newlin.

PHIL NOTES

President Anne Mae Newlin
 Secretary Nancy White
 Treasurer Espie Neece
 Marshal Thelma King

The last meeting of the Philomathean Literary Society was held Friday night with more than the usual interest manifested.

The theme of the program was "Folk-Lore," and the following program was given:

Folk-Lore, by Annie Wagoner.
 Legend of Eastern North Carolina, by Kathleen Reynolds.

A Louisiana Folk Tale, by Julia Verneer.

Impromptu Piano Solo, Jessie McBane.

The last number was a fashion show in which Virginia Ragsdale and Adalia Futrell represented the old-fashioned girls, Elizabeth Braswell the modern girl of today, and Laura Ballinger the girl of 1950.

At this time the improvement prize for the freshman girl was presented to Gertrude Blow.

Officers for next year were elected and they will be installed this week.

Those who will serve are: President, Sallie Wilkins; vice-president, Espie Neece; secretary, Josephine Paul; treasurer, Nell Thomas; marshal, Mary Alice Futrell.

ZAY NOTES

President Doris Joyner
 Vice-President Berta Hollady
 Secretary Mildred Kimrey
 Marshal Catherine Cox

At its regular meeting on Friday night, the Zatasian Literary Society elected, and installed its officers for the fall term. They are as follows: President, Doris Joyner; vice-president, Berta Hollady; secretary, Mildred Kimrey; marshal, Catherine Cox. As there was no program for the evening the society adjourned after a short business session.

THE ANNUAL ZAY-PHIL RECEPTION IS SUCCESS

"Tripping Around the World" is the Title of Unique Program Presented By Zays

Much to the surprise of the members of the Philomathean Literary Society, they were invited to attend a call meeting of the Zatasian Literary Society last Tuesday evening. When the real purpose of the meeting was discovered, the Phils realized that they were being entertained by a splendid program, entitled, "Tripping Around the World."

The first number was "Dixie," by Berta Hollady and Julia Wolff. They delighted the visitors with a Minuet dance. Carrie Teague and Sarah Jinnette took us on to "Scotland" with the "Highland Fling." We visited "Spain" with Sara Edgerton and she did a Spanish dance very gracefully. From there Mae Hollady took us with her into "Japan" where we heard Hilda Harris and Annie Kate Neal discuss the customs of their land and compare them with ours.

From there we journeyed on to "Hawaii" where Mabel Shipp in a picturesque costume gave a Hawaiian dance. The last number was a visit to "Alaska" and when we arrived there, they informally dismissed us with little ceremony and we enjoyed an Alaskan reception. While there they served us with delicious Alaska cream and wafers. Following the program, an informal social was held until nine o'clock when the guests very reluctantly departed, being convinced that all call meetings of society are not bore-some.
