CHRISTIAN STEWARDSHIP SUNDAY MORNING TOPIC

Rev. Joseph Peele, delivering his regular Sunday morning sermon at the Friends Meeting House, took for his subject, "Christian Stewardship."

Mr. Peele spoke first of the things that Christian stewardship is commonly thought to be and then of the things that are its true foundations. He stressed particularly the following points:

In the first place we belong to God. We are His by right of creation, and we are dependent on Him for blessings. Secondly, we are His by right of redemption. We were bought with a price, therefore, we should so order our lives as to glorify God. We are redeemed with love; we, as well as our possessions, belong to God.

The farmer as a Christian steward was stressed particularly by Mr. Peele. He read a few verses bearing on this subject from the twenty-fifth chapter of Leviticus. "It is in the country," said he, "that God's presence is especially felt. The conditions of life in the country, particularly where the people own their homes, make it an ideal place for the practice of Christian stewardship."

In closing he said: "Let us fulfill our obligations to God, according to the way in which God has prospered us, and not according to the way in which someone else meets his obligations."

PLANS FOR EASTERN CONFERENCE STARTED

lina and the arrangements committee is making every effort to see that they are not disappointed.

On the campus are 7 to 8 first class tennis courts which may be used at any time, and an attempt is being made to secure Hamilton Lakes, Inc., to be available for swimming at any time during the conference period.

In the afternoons on which nothing else is planned there will be on hand a skilled play director to direct in group games and organized play. A conference pep committee has been appointed whose chief duty will be to keep pep in the dining room.

Realizing the fact that securing 200 delegates from this state is no easy task, the executive committee of the young people's activities has planned to keep the field secretary, Byron Haworth, in the field most of the time before the conference begins in August. Members of the state executive committee expect to visit every Friends Sunday school and Christian Endeavor in the state before August 8. The purpose of these visits is to present the Young Friends Conference and to make an effort to arrange for members of every Friends church in the state to send delegates to the conference.

Since the conference will last six days instead of four it will be necessary to increase the board and room and registration fees. The cost for board and room for the six days will be $10. The registration fee is $2.50 if sent in eight days before the conference begins and $3 is not paid before August first.

Direct information concerning the conference may be obtained by writing to Charles Coble, of Guilford College, or Byron Haworth, of Burlington.

Dear Sir: My wife lost her voice years ago and just recovered it in a railroad accident. How can I thank the railway company?

Ans.: Don't thank them—sue them.

REV. WILLIAMS SPEAKS IN CHAPEL WEDNESDAY

Mr. Williams, pastor of the Church of the Covenant in Greensboro, spoke in chapel assembly Wednesday morning. He used as his text Philippians 4:8.

Mr. Williams compared the present-day with the time of our grandfathers and implied that our greater advantage entailed greater responsibility.

He reminded us that he who would attain mastery in anything must live temperately, must "deny himself." And whoever becomes truly great does so only by complete forgetfulness of self and selfish interests.

"How carefully most men sink themselves into nameless graves, while a few forget themselves into immortality."

Yet whatever power we have amounts to nothing if we are not united with God.

Y. M. C. A.

Thursday evening the Y. W. C. A. held their installation service, followed by an ice cream party.

After a short devotional service the secretary read the names of the officers for the past year and those of the new officers. After short talks on the part of the old cabinet members the new members took their places on the platform. President Maie Hollady then gave her report as president and made the charge to the incoming cabinet.

President Hassel then took charge of the service.

The new members of the cabinet are: President, Alma Hassel; vice-president, Doris Joyner; treasurer, Ruth Lane; secretary, Mary Neal; under-graduate representative, Frances Osborne; chairman of religious meetings committee, Alice Hazard; chairman of music committee, Esther Reece; of World Fellowship committee, Catherine Cox; of Social Service committee, Claudia Neal; of Poster committee, Josephine Paul; of Bible Study committee, Nell Thomas; of Social committee, Berta Hollady.

The Y. W. C. A. has been running for a number of weeks a contest for attendance and new members. The ice cream social after the service Thursday night was held in honor of the winning side of this contest.

Y. W. C. A.

Paul Jassimides spoke for a few minutes to the members of the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening. He chose for his subject, "Why Christ Came to Earth." In the beginning, Mr. Jassimides named a few leaders, such as Moses in the wilderness, and King David as leader of the ten tribes of Israel. Using this as an illustration, he showed that Christ came to earth to lead His followers into the straight and narrow way. The speaker spoke directly from the Bible, giving a clear interpretation of some of the things that are lazy to many people. He spoke of the seven dispensations, giving the meaning and termination of each. The installation of officers forced the speaker to make a short talk.

The expressions and the reports of the retiring officers are accountable for the success of the association. The new president, Ira G. Newlin, with the aid of his cabinet, will strive to keep up the record set by their predecessors.

Scotchman (listening to Sunday service over radio): "Quick, turn off the radio."

Son: "What's the matter, father?"
"They're about to take up the collection."—The Tattler.

"If your wife is too fat to get into a telephone booth, there ain't no use talking."—Old Gold and Black.
