

Get Behind
Our Team

THE GUILFORDIAN

Get Behind
Our
New Rules

VOLUME XIV

GUILFORD COLLEGE, N. C., OCTOBER 19, 1927

NUMBER 4

GUILFORD STUDENTS WALK TO AIR FIELD TO SEE LINDY LAND

Proves to Be the Largest Hike of the Season Since Nearly
Every Student Is Present

PICNIC LUNCH IS SERVED

The Lindbergh Procession Returns Via the College But Unfortunately a Few Pedestrians Are Too Late

By CLARE TRUEBLOOD

It is hard to say anything new of Lindbergh, but nevertheless, there are many interesting things to say of the hike to the airport. The main purpose was to see "Lindy" and hear him speak a few words, and if possible catch a glimpse of that "million-dollar smile." When the hike was proposed the whole student body almost with one accord decided to go, as they considered everything else of lesser importance. This fact, together with the announcement that there would be no lunch served on the campus Friday, brought out the whole student body for the largest hike of the season.

The group assembled in front of Memorial Hall about 9 o'clock and started a few minutes later. Everyone took the road leading west of the gateway, as it was considered the best and

(Continued on Page Four)

GUILFORD PEOPLE AT FIVE YEARS MEETING

President Leaves Early in Order to Take Part in a Number of Preliminary Conferences

MEETING BEGINS OCT. 28

A number of Guilford folk left the latter part of the week to attend the Five Years Meeting, which is being held at Richmond, Indiana, beginning Tuesday, October 18.

Dr. Binford left early in order to be present at and take part in a number of preliminary conferences, including a peace conference. He is also to address the Young Friends Ministers. He plans to return in time to be present at the North Carolina College Conference, held at Durham on the 26th of the month.

Other Guilford folk who are attending are: Joseph Peele, Samuel Haworth, and Dr. and Mrs. Williams.

The Five Years Meeting is composed of 12 Yearly Meetings, fraternal delegates from Philadelphia and a number of visiting English Friends. North Carolina delegates elected by the Yearly Meeting include: L. L. Hobbs, Lewis W. McFarland, Raymond Binford, Samuel Haworth, Milo Hinkle, Clara I. Cox, Rosa Edgerton, Calvin Gregory, Hettie O. Hollowell, Ezra W. Jinnette, Emmanuel Key, John T. Lane, Virgil Pike, Tom Sykes, and Alice Paige White.

Antiquated Rules of Student Government Superannuated

Tom Zachary, Pitcher for Washington Senators and Alumnus of Guilford, Visits Guilford College

Tom Zachary, an old student of Guilford and now a professional baseball player, visited his alma mater this week-end. Tom is on his way home for the winter after having had a very successful season with the St. Louis Browns and Washington. Zachary has played with Washington since 1918 until 1926 when he was transferred to St. Louis. Near the end of the first half of the past season he was brought back to Washington, an unusual thing in baseball.

Zachary was in college here from 1917 to 1920. During his stay, Guilford won two state championships in baseball. The 16-inning game with State in which the score was 0-0 will be long remembered, also the South Carolina tour when Zachary pitched five days out of six and won every game. Not only was he fit for baseball, but he made guard in the All-State football team in 1918. He also won honor as a basketball player.

NEW REGULATIONS ALLOW MANY NEW SOCIAL PRIVILEGES

Deans of Men and of Women and Student Supporters
Formulate System

TRIAL LASTS ONE MONTH

Outgrowth of Deep Concern to Prevent the Development of Clinging Vines
By Granting Liberty of Choice

By SARA EDGERTON

The mass meeting held in Memorial Hall, October 15, to discuss the suggestions for new student government regulations was a milestone, as important in the progress of Guilford College as was Lindbergh's flight across the Atlantic in the progress of aviation.

Through the enlightened and unflinching effort of the deans of the college, together with many others of the faculty, and the heads of student government, Guilford has been enabled to place a foot upon another higher round of the ladder of development by which she is mounting to her place as the highest, finest, and most effective type of institution for the training and mental, spiritual, and moral preparation of youth for life. The new rules suggested for the regulation of the social life of the students are a step toward maturity and reasonable independence; they are a step away from prep school petty rules and the consequent rule breaking. They give the student a chance to bring the principle of intelligent individual responsibility into social actions, as one has been expected to bring it into one's scholastic work in college. Through the effort of the dean of women, the dean of men, and those supporting them, this new system of regulations has been formulated and brought up for trial. These new rules are to be considered the college regulations for

(Continued on Page Three)

OAK RIDGE WINS OVER QUAKER SECOND TEAM

"Doc" Goodman, Wildman and Wooten
Are Outstanding Players For Guilford While Cadets Play as a Unit

QUAKER TEAM SHOWS FIGHT

Oak Ridge reserves defeated Guilford reserves last Tuesday in a rather interesting game of football, by the score of 26 to 0.

It was a hard-fought contest and since it was the first athletic contest on Hobbs field during the current season, it was very much enjoyed by the student body.

The game was fast from the beginning, with Oak Ridge holding the edge throughout the contest. Oak Ridge presented a massive front all through the battle which the Guilford backs could not penetrate. Guilford reserve backs made considerable ground around the Oak Ridge ends and got off several passes.

Goodman, Wildman and Wooten were the outstanding men for Guilford reserves. The Oak Ridge team played well as a unit.

DRAMATIC COUNCIL BEGINS ITS WORK

Several Old Members Drop Out of the Council While Responsible New Ones Fill Places

FURNACE TO HEAD BODY

As the fall season passes and the time for the fall play approaches, it is apparent that the dramatic council is completing its organization and preparing to give us one of the best fall plays Guilford students have witnessed in several years. The personnel of the Dramatic Council has changed considerably and they have lost the valuable aid of Mrs. Raymond Binford, Turner Moon, Francis Osborne and Walter Robertson. There is, however, much new talent on the campus and two of these places have already been filled. Professor Furnace, who has had much experience in Dramatic work at Earlham College and other places will head the Council. Other members are Wilmer Steele, Lena Farlow, Mr. Turner, Miss Kopf, Mildred Kimrey, and Erwin Lemons. There are still two

(Continued on Page Four)

TOM SYKES TALKS TO STUDENTS IN CHAPEL

High Point Pastor Tells of Summer
Spent in Mountains of Western Canada and Alaska

Rev. Tom Sykes held the interest of the entire audience during the chapel period Tuesday, October 11, when he told of his trip to Alaska and other points.

In his talk, Rev. Mr. Sykes said he thought he knew something about Alaska until he traveled there. The speaker told of the beautiful flower gardens, the virgin soil, the marvelous climate, and the wonderful natural scenes in the Lake and valley regions, which he referred to as "inspiring sights and monuments of God." These magnificent sights revealed something more valuable than gold—"Don't be too 'cock-sure' about what you know." He said further, that after viewing these marvelous masterpieces of nature he was made conscious that man should not grow so conceited over the buildings and monuments that he, himself, erects.

In conclusion the speaker said, "Learn the fundamental laws and principles of Him who loved us and gave His best for us that we might give our best in return."

Quakers Battle Hornets 0-0 in First Home Game

MARSHALL STARS

Both Teams Make Successful
Gains in Forward Passes
and Long End Runs

VISITORS FUMBLE OFTEN

Parrish and Hoyle Do Splendid Work
For Guilford While Grant is Outstanding Virginian

Playing their first home game of the season, the Fighting Quakers really lived up to their name against Lynchburg, Saturday afternoon. The game was a hair-raiser from beginning to end, and the large crowd was kept guessing continually as the two teams battled to a 0-0 tie.

Guilford played the best ball of the season, completing several passes in the first two quarters, and making some substantial gains through the line. In the second quarter she had the ball on the 10-yard line, but lacked the extra punch to put it over. The strong line of the Hornets and their good secondary defense kept the Quakers from a single tally.

The game had only started when Guilford took possession of the ball on Lynchburg's 20-yard line. After gaining several yards Parrish fumbled one of Robertson's passes. Lynchburg attempted a long forward pass, which was interrupted and taken possession of by Parrish. After a five-yard penalty for off-sides, Guilford was forced to kick. Lynchburg fumbled again before making a down, with Guilford recovering the ball. Then Guilford began what seemed to be the march to victory, with Parrish carrying the ball. They made one first down, but lost the ball by half a yard in the middle of the field on downs. Malone, fullback

(Continued on Page Three)

Catawba Next

The excellent playing of the Quakers last Saturday gave a new hope for the game with Catawba next Saturday. The team as a whole possesses the fighting spirit that is necessary to win the game. Strict enforcement of training rules together with a little optimism has gone a long way toward making a winning football team.

The Catawba team is in excellent condition as there is none reported on the sick list, therefore, they may be able to give the Quakers quite a little competition but the dope is in favor of Crawford's fighting Quakers.

STUDENT BODY HEARS MISS WILKINS SPEAK

Sums Up in General What a Student
Should Get Out Of College
For the Future

Another student chapel talk of interest was given by Sallie Wilkins last Thursday morning, October 13.

Miss Wilkins began her talk by stating that "What we put into college life and what we get out of it depend on our purpose in coming to college." The student should come to college with the intent to develop mentally, morally, physically, and spiritually. Making good grades is not all there is to success in college; other activities must enter. A strong physique is an attractive addition to any personality, therefore physical development should be stressed. Miss Wilkins is also convinced that college men and women are not less religious than others,

(Continued on Page Two)