

THE QUAKER ELEVEN DEFEATED BY ELON AND A. C. C. GRIDDERS

Guilford Makes Twelve First Downs While A. C. C. Makes Only a Total of Four

A. C. C. SCORES 7 POINTS

Riggon Intercepts a Pass on Guilford's 15-Yard Line in the Last Quarter and Carries the Ball Over

The Quakers met an unexpected defeat at the hands of the Little Christians Saturday. The opponents expected a close game since neither Guilford nor A. C. C. had won a game this season. This expectation was fully realized.

It seemed that the Quaker team was going to take the lead in the first quarter. Riggon, A. C. C.'s reliable half-back, kicked off to Robertson, who brought the ball back to the 40-yard line. Then a season of first downs followed. The Quakers made eight first downs in the first quarter, but penalties prevented a score. Only by punts were the Little Christians able to place the ball in the Quaker territory. For the first three quarters the Christians seemed to be on the defense, not being able to gain any ground. The only score came in the final quarter when Riggon intercepted a pass on Guilford's 15-yard line and made the score. Riggon also kicked the extra point from placement. The Quakers fought bravely until the last signal, but were unable to score.

The lineup:

Guilford	Position	A. C. C. (7)
Cheek	Left End	Merritt
Murphy	Left Tackle	Hill
Trivette	Center	Hawkins
Beamon	Right Guard	Hardison
Meon	Right Tackle	Brookbanks
Marshall	Right End	Fulghum

BASKETBALL PRACTICE GETS WELL UNDER WAY

Every Member of Last Year's Team is Back While Several New Men Are Showing up Quite Well

SCHEDULE NOT YET COMPLETE

Basketball practice became well under way at Guilford last Monday. All of those members of last year's team are out now with the exception of Captain Moore, Marshall, and Yelverton, who are out for football. With every member of last year's team back and a great deal of new material in the freshman class, a successful season is promised.

Among the new material are Hawthorth, the Alley brothers, Powell and Zachary. These men look good and have good high school and prep school records. Manager Parker has been working on a schedule and has announced that it is almost complete. A trip will be taken through Virginia to Washington, D. C., and a trip through North Carolina is also promised. A large number of home games have been arranged to complete the excellent schedule.

Griffin Is Champion

In one of the most interesting tennis tournaments that has been held at Guilford for some time, Robert Griffin ascends to the heights of a Champion. The beautiful silver cup which has been generously donated by Professor Pancoast to the winner did much to keep the enthusiasm at a high pitch from beginning to end. The seventeen men who took part in the contest were paired off, and a process of elimination kept up until the Championship lay between Robert Van der Voort, and Worth Mackie. These men played some very exciting and skilful tennis matches and it was only after he had showed some real championship ability that Griffin was able to ascend the pinnacle of fame as Champion.

MISS EDNA JOHNSON OF EMPORIA SPEAKS

Secretary of Student Volunteer Movement Is Working in the Interest of Detroit Conv.

MEETING OPENS DEC. 23

The chapel talk Thursday morning was given by Miss Edna Johnson, a graduate of Emporia College, Kansas, who is preparing to become a missionary to Africa. After reading a portion of the sixth chapter of Matthew, she reminded her hearers that it has been nineteen hundred years since Christ was crucified at Golgotha. "Since then men have accomplished wonders. The earth is a cobweb of telegraph wires and men have even been flirting with the planets. Yet there are a billion people who have never heard of Christ. Science has certainly progressed rapidly, but men do not realize the power of God which makes all things possible. We, the youth of today, are a generation who know not where we are from

N. C. FORENSIC LEAGUE MEETS AT HIGH POINT

A Tentative Schedule of Debates Was Drawn up By Representatives From Six Colleges

The annual fall convention of the North Carolina Oratorical and Forensic League met at High Point College November 5. The colleges represented were: Davidson, Elon, Lenoir-Rhyne, High Point, Atlantic Christian, and Guilford. After some discussion the delegates agreed to hold the State Oratorical Contest at Davidson about the first of April.

Many questions for debate were discussed and two queries were settled on. One concerns the passing of legislation to make possible uniform marriage and divorce laws; the other is the query of whether or not the United States should protect private capital in foreign countries. The colleges debating have an optional choice of these two queries.

A tentative schedule of debates was also drawn up, but no definite dates were fixed for any of the contests. Guilford's schedule is as follows:

Triangular debate with Lenoir-Rhyne and High Point; debate with Atlantic Christian College at Wilson; debate with Elon College at Guilford.

Guilford's delegates to the convention were Dean Trueblood, coach of debating; Edwin Rozell, chairman of the debating council; Scott Parker, and Dr. Elwood C. Perisho.

PRESS CONVENTION IS HELD IN RALEIGH

The Guilfordian Board and the Quaker Staff Each Sends Two Representatives

BROOKS WELCOMES CONV.

The fourteenth semi-annual meeting of the North Carolina Intercollegiate Press Association convened as the guest of Meredith and State colleges from October 27-29. About ninety representatives from various colleges of the state were present. Frances Osborne and Catherine Cox represented "The Quaker," while Joe Cox and Robert Griffin were representatives of the "Guilfordian."

Registration began after lunch Thursday and continued through the entire afternoon. At 6:30 the annual representatives were entertained with a banquet at the Sir Walter Hotel, given by Edwards and Broughton Company of Raleigh. At the same hour the newspaper and magazine representatives were entertained with a dinner at a local church. Following this each member of the convention was given a free ticket to the theatre.

The regular business sessions began Friday morning with an address by the president, Mr. H. L. Hester, of Duke university. The remainder of the time was given to the reports of the papers, magazines, and annuals of each college represented.

Several outstanding men in the newspaper world were speakers at the convention: W. T. Bost, of the Greensboro Daily News; Josephus Daniels, Jr., of the News and Observer; and J. C. Baskerville.

The News and Observer entertained the convention at the Yarborough Hotel with a luncheon Friday noon. At this time Dr. Brooks, president of State college welcomed the convention. The regular conference banquet was held at the same hotel Friday evening at which time President Brewer of Meredith college welcomed the convention. The banquet was followed by a news movie on the various steps a dispatch of news goes through in its progress to the press.

The Convention closed Saturday noon. Each representative expressed his or her sincere feeling when the expression was heard that "I enjoy this Press Convention more every time it is held, and especially, we were greatly benefitted by it this time."

UNIQUE PARTY GIVEN GUILFORD STUDENTS

Hallowe'en Festival Held at Whip-Poor-Will Lodge is Especially Enjoyed

MANY SUPERSTITIONS TESTED

The most successful Hallowe'en festival of recent years was given by the Guilford students on Saturday evening, preceding Hallowe'en, in the Whip-poor-will Lodge, which is located about a mile from the college. At the ringing of the bell at seven, costumed figures began to drift into the halls and up to the porch of Founders hall and in short order a procession, silent, ghostly, and weird, was on its way. Walking mostly by twos, the group followed the walk to New Garden Hall, then on to the Battleground road. A dark and rough woods path was then followed, and after the parade had crossed brooks, fields and briar patches,

ARCHDALE HALL

Archdale Hall, which, architects say is the best building on the Guilford campus, has been rejuvenated beyond possible recognition. The boys actually have a private reception room, (though some of them will probably never get to use it.) The room is elaborately finished and will probably be as well furnished. As yet the boys have found out no purpose that they will be allowed to use it for but it has been rumored that a piano and other means of entertainment will be placed there.

All the rooms and halls have new floors, new ceilings and new plasterings. Colonial type entrances have been constructed and all the flaws and defects of the entire building removed. The rooms and building as a whole are now equal to, if not superior to, any on the campus.

BINFORD SPEAKS OF FIVE YEARS MEETING

The Work of the Meeting Is Carried on by Various Committees

FIFTEEN N. C. DELEGATES

An interview with President Raymond Binford, who has recently returned from the Five Years Meeting held at Richmond, Ind., reveals the following news which will be interesting to the Friends of Guilford College and the surrounding country.

"The Five Years Meeting consists of 12 yearly meetings of the Friends of America. This was the fifth meeting of its kind, which means that this organization has been functioning 25 years.

"The twelve yearly meetings, which comprise the Five Years Meeting are as follows: North Carolina, Baltimore, New York, New England, Wilmington, Ohio, Indiana, Western, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, California, and Canada. The Five Years Meeting is made up of representatives from the various meetings. North Carolina was able to send 15 delegates.

"The work of the meeting is done through various boards for the different things under discussion. These boards work out their subject, or subjects, under discussion and then render their reports to the meeting. These various boards are: Foreign Missionary, Home Missionary, Religious Education, Publications, Prohibition, Public Morals, Young Friends Activities, and the American Peace Association. It also appoints members for the American Friends Service Committee."

Raymond Binford spoke very fluently of one of the sessions on the friendly training of our ministers and members. The entire meeting showed a wide interest in this subject and appointed a committee to look deeper into the subject.

"The meeting was very free of all technical and dogmatic disputes, and is thought by many to be one of the best meetings of its kind ever held."

POWYS LECTURES TO GUILFORD STUDENTS ABOUT SELF-CULTURE

Noted English Author and Novelist Presents Discourse on Art of Living Today

SEES BEAUTY IN LIFE

One Should Become More Sensitive and Imaginatively Aware of What it is to Be Alive

The first speaker of the Lyceum Course was the eminent English author and lecturer, John Cowper Powys, who addressed the Guilford College group Tuesday evening on the "Art of Self-Culture."

The greatest enemy to the art of self-culture at present is modern machinery, said the speaker. Due to the many devices for facilitating our existence, men have shrunk intellectually and there are far fewer great minds now than there were 1,400 years ago. Goethe is the exception. In Mr. Powys' opinion, he is the greatest man of modern times.

Not only is the absence of great men deplorable, but further calamity is not improbably due us unless by some means or other we thwart this pursuit of mechanical devices and ways for greater speed. The fall of our western civilization, Mr. Powys says, is not at all an impossible result.

However, in our attempts to defeat machinery we must use our heads, not as battering rams, but to devise ways to succeed in spite of obstacles. "Be wise as serpents and gentle as doves," is the speaker's advice. "Be crafty and avoid this menace to humanity." The old Quaker policy of watchful waiting and purposeful meekness is the same idea.

Along with the rule of the mechanical goes the standardization of ideas, of education, and of culture, which is absolutely deadly to individuality and genius. Of the many high-sounding names we may hear it called "patriotism," "100 per cent Americanism," "Hurray - for - the-Red-White-and-Blueism," and so forth, are the most common.

As a weapon of defense against these growing evils, the art of self-

ROZELL IS ELECTED ASSOCIATE EDITOR

Reporters to Be Elected By the Four Literary Societies Are Also Recommended By the Old Staff

A meeting of the GUILFORDIAN staff was called on Wednesday to elect a new associate editor in the place of Miss Frances Osborne, who was forced to drop the position since she was holding too many student offices. Mr. Edwin Rozell was elected in her place.

The staff also recommended reporters to be elected by the four literary societies and the following persons are now serving as reporters to the GUILFORDIAN: From the Zetastian Literary Society, Misses Sarah Edgerton, Ora Melvin, and Gertrude Hinshaw; from the Philomathean Literary Society, Misses Deborah Harvey, Rachel Ives, Ruth Outland; from the Websterian Literary Society, Messrs. Gurney Collins, Leslie Murphy, and Reginald Marshall; and from the Henry Clay Literary Society, Messrs. Eugene Hire, Paul Reynolds, and Sinclair Williams.
