FACULTY LITERARY CLUB MEETS WITH MUMFORDS

Binford, gave the first step in creating an ideal world.

Dr. Lofton, in a masterly style, presented the problem of "Feeding the Baby."

Mr. Paul Reynolds called his article "Health of the Child" in which he described accurately each step necessary in rearing a child to produce perfect health. Instruction in the rudiments of hygiene should begin early in life of the child and be applied regularly as the child grows up.

After the series of articles made up more or less of theory Mr. Purdom read from his column, "Everyday Problems and How They Should be Solved," practical suggestions that have been offered to parents by sagacious school teachers.

The program for the next meeting will be carried out on the same plan editing a copy of any magazine the committee will choose. The meeting will be held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Perisho.

thus miss the zest and joy of life. Production should be for use instead of for profit.

Telephones, radios and apparatus do not make a civilization. Its true progress is determined by individual thought and effort. These are among the chief thoughts presented by Mr. Russell. Those present were impressed by the striking appearance of the man, his subtle wit and powerful intellect.

A CAPELLA ORGANIZATION TO LEAD MUSIC WEEK PROGRAM

same time, he will illustrate each type of carol with one characteristic of that century. After this part of the program, the A Capella Choir will make their debut by singing five selections composed by Bach and other famous composers. The meeting will be brought to a close by the singing of familiar carols by the entire club.

The climax of the musical season will come on Sunday afternoon, December 15, at 4:00 p. m., when the Guilford College Community Choral society, under the direction of Mr. Max Noah, head of the college music department, will render the "Messiah," by Handel. The chorus is composed of eighty voices, at this time assisted by the following soloists: Mrs. A. E. Stanley, soprano; Mrs. Max Noah, alto; P. K. Gyles, tenor; and Grady Miller, baritone. Miss Josephine Kimrey will be the accompanist for the chorus, and Mrs. P. D. Gilreath for the soloists.

On Friday night, December 13, the chorus and soloists will hold their rehearsal. This is the third season the "Messiah" has been given each year bringing a larger crowd to hear it. Keen interest is being shown and a large attendance is expected. The program to be presented is as follows:

Air (tenor) Every Valley Shall Be Exalted, chorus; And the Glory of the Lord, Recit. (Bass) But Who May Abide the Day of His Coming? Recit. (Alto) Behold a Virgin Shall Conceive, Air (Alto) and Chorus—O Thou That Tellest Good Tidings to Zion, Recit. (Bass) For, Behold, Darkness Shall Cover the Earth, Air (Bass)—The People that Walked in Darkness, Chorus. For Unto Us a Child is Born, Recit.

(Soprano). There Were Shepherds Abiding in the Field, Recit. (Soprano) Upon Them, Recit. (Soprano) And Suddenly There Was With the Angel, And, Lo! the Angel of the Lord Came Chorus—Glory to God, Recit. (Alto) Then Shall the Eyes of the Blind Be Opened, Air (Alto)—He Shall Feed His Flock Like a Shepherd, Air (Soprano)—Come Unto Him, Air (Alto)—He was Despised and Rejected, Recit. (Tenor)—Thy Rebuke Hath Broken His Heart, Air (Tenor) Behold, and See if There Be Any Sorrow, Air (Bass) Why Do the Nations So Furiously Rage?, Air (Soprano) I Know That My Redeemer Liveth, Quartet—Since By Man Came Death, Chorus—Hallelujah!

THANKSGIVING CELEBRATIONS SOURCE OF ENJOYMENT FOR ALL

game was doubly interesting. Cox defeated Archdale by the score of 12-6.

According to tradition of long standing supper is never needed after a thanksgiving dinner, but supper was served and most of the students attended—proving that even traditions are sometimes wrong.

The high light of the day's program was the unusual event which took place in the gym. Most of the students are more, or less, athletically inclined, and representatives from the four dormitories were chosen to compose volleyball teams. Founders opposed Cox; New Garden, Archdale—and such ball! The boys were victorious in both encounters. Cox winning by a margin of 65-13, and Archdale by 39-37. But the girls battled valiantly and went down to defeat quite nobly.

The games ended the day for the students, but just before the dormitories settled down to routine and quiet the football scores came in. Of course Carolina's victory over Virginia made every Carolinian feel a thrill of pride. But the last waking thought of every Guilfordian was that our Fighting Quakers had fought their way to victory over Lynchburg for the first time in seven years. Another Thanksgiving game in which every one was interested was the Elon-Lenoir-Rhyne battle in which Elon defeated their opponents, thus making Guilford Little Six champions

GILBERT PEARSON, AUDUBON PRES., VISITS GUILFORD

Dr. Pearson has written several very valuable books on birds, and often contributes articles to current magazines.

The subject of his talk Saturday night, he gave as "Adventures in Bird Protection." After an introductory selection of choice narrative tid-bits concerning the thrilling captures of several of the bird-specimens contributed, by him, the Guilford College Museum, Dr. Pearson gave some enlightening facts and statistics relative to the great part which birds play in the work of helping to exterminate injurious insects. This untold economic value of bird life in our country constitutes one of the reasons for the endeavors of the Audubon society to protect birds of all kinds, and prevent the extinction of rarer types which have become so through the ruthless slaughtering once carried on by thoughtless hunters.

Mr. Pearson told of how the Audubon society has established great bird-reservations—large tracts of country set aside and protected by law for the purpose of affording breeding grounds for the above-mentioned rarer types of birds. He also showed how the society sought to establish branches in European countries, and to teach the value of bird-life which, on the continent, is in a fair way to be exterminated by the killing off of thousands of songsters by the natives.
