Dear Fellow Alumni Members:

Plans are already being made for the 1937 Centennial celebration to be held at Guilford College and we are very anxious that the college library should have a good collection of material of historic interest for exhibit purposes at that time.

The old students and alumni are urged to keep this request in mind and to help collect this material.
Should you prefer to find out whether the library has an article or a picture or whatever you may find, then it would be well to confer with me stating whether you wish to present your relics to the library or whether you prefer to list them so that they might be borrowed for special occasions.

Articles, pictures and photographs concerning the college, the trustees, faculty members and old students should be listed with this library. In fact we are glad to have anything which you would enjoy seeing in an exhibit for the period when you were in college.

I also wish to appeal to you for your interest in securing magazines, books, and pamphlets of historic interest concerning the state, this community and Quakers, for the general library. I feel that Guilford should have a Quaker collection which will furnish material for research students in that field.
I know of no other large Quaker collection in the South. A number of valuable magazines and books were recently given to the library by the Friend's Library of Philadelphia. Doubtless there are many who would like to give their collection of books to the college library at some future time. Let me hear about any item of interest.

Very truly,
KATHERINE C. RICKS.
Librarian.

nolds spent the week-end at Rose Hill, ins. Jimmie Harper accompanied them

ALUMNI NOTES

1912

John B. Woosley, who for a number of years has been Associate Professor of Economics at the University of North Carolina is spending this year studying at the University of Chicago.
He regrets that he cannot be on the campus for the home-coming on June 2nd.

1907

Alma T. Edwards, professor of Latin at Queens College, Charlotte, is spending the summer abroad. She is planning to sail on the Berangaria on June 22, and will study at the American Academy in Rome. She will be accompanied by Miss Bessie V. Noles, formerly a teacher of Home Economics at Guilford College. Miss Noles is now

QUAKER QUIPS

I suppose you've all noticed THE bench on the campus. I wonder if that is the results of the proceeds of the girls' gym exhibition.

Since the Quaker came out, all the boys in New South take it upon themselves to salute at the approach of the "King of the Campus." Royalty must be expected.

It's reported that a certain co-ed shoved a splinter up her finger so far she had to go to a doctor. What an ordeal to go through just to be first (?) young lady to ride in Kayo's new car.

Since Bob's Ford has been indisposed, Lipp's Dodge has been forced to make the Saturday night trip to Kernersville.

Let's hope next year finds Guilford with a good supply of outfielders. If not, we might just as well send the team up in Virginia with only six men.

The legging attempt of three freshmen proved disastrous for one member of the faculty. These barbecue sandwiches ARE dangerous.

Have you noticed that all the track men have been in a good humor during the past week? Little wonder! The

Alumni-Homecoming Day, June 2, 1930 track meet with High Point was cancelled.

The ball team all agrees that the Richmond "Y" has a goodly supply of what Frisco, the Tramp Royal, would call "shirt Rabbits."

Hear the sheriff went after Lipp in Washington to find out his middle name. Jimmie got "Lipp" off with the light sentence of having his tonsils shaved off before coming home.

Have You Voted for New Officers?

Lois Parker entertained at an enjoyable picnic supper the past Saturday afternoon. The group went to the Battleground, returning at 7:30 p. m. in time for the musical program. Her guests included Edna Wafford, Argyle Elliott, Blanche Silver, Louise Melville, Selma Hendrix, Grace Ransdall, Mrs.
Andrews, Lois' brother, Eugene, George Yelverton, Irvin Davis, Ernest Scarboro, and Sanford Barnes.

Alumni-Homecoming Day, June 2, 1930

Miss Cornelia Goff, of N. C. C. W., spent the week-end with Mildred Be-thea.

BUILDINGS

in Which

You Take Pride

ON THE CAMPUS, where class buildings and memorial structures are so often distinguished by their noble form, flood-lighting equipment serves to prolong the enjoyment of their beauty and to enhance pride in the institution. » » Such an application is made for the new 165-foot campanile at South Dakota State—magnificent gift of an alumnus. Electrically operated chimes sound the hours and are heard in concerts. At night, shafts of light from General Electric floodlighting projectors effect a picture of superb beauty done in the school colors and white. From the air, the tower is identified by the beam from a G-E airway beacon surmounting the floodlighted dome. » » Thus, G-E equipment plays its part in promoting progress and fine appreciation. Back of every G-E product is an organization in which college-trained men are largely responsible for the planning, production, and distribution.
